Fresh and Refreshing

is composed of clean, whole young leaves. Picked right, blended right and packed right. It brings the fragrance of an Eastern garden to your table. BLACK, MIXED OR GREEN

Tenderfoot's Wooing

By CLIVE PHILLIPPS WOLLEY (Author of "Gold, Gold in Cariboo," Etc.)

CHAPTER XII .- (Cont'd.)

At this point Jim Combe joined them, was given a drink and solemnly introduced to the corpse.

it, and abandoning all ideas of a pro- mind." cessional pace, or the decorum of silence, the party in its shirt sleeves, trotted to within sight of Soda Creek the Risky, and I've got to get that lit- neath contempt. Walking was Here, again, an unexpected difficul- he sank back into his dreams. evidently now no place for Mr. Hayes, house where its boarders slept. "Poor old hoss, I guess you ain't al- Meanwhile Jim Combe went out to do, as a knight moves at chess.

him to, dec?" for the night.

Ranch. By unanimous consent it was ed to the bar room. held fitting that Soda Creek should! There he found his ally, Bill. celebrate old man Hayes' reception in due form, and no protest on Jim's; noisy and more quarrelsome, whilst mistake, and don't speak till I do." | ing. stage of drunkenness.

Finally Protheroe declared his in- for drinks for the crowd. with the old man.

"He won't understand now." "Wonsh undershtand, wonsh he ? low to go along."

undershant, you bet." poor davil should be condemned even stick a knife into."

Ideal, struck Jim as the climax of don'sh know what blanked business could only move now as the knight horrors to which hell itself would be a it is of yours, anyway, but I'm not moves. It would not go straight. mild punishment. tion his own opportunity. Going up me."

to the only man in the place who was Jim laughed aggravatingly. still sober, he touched him on the knew the man's peculiarities. woman?'

The big man, who was still drows- with old Hayes." apathy.

It's only whiskey and hell." "But there's women elsewhere, "You're the little man to win his modown to the Risky Ranch, for instance. ney." Wlil you do something to help one of To do the doctor justice, he was no them ?'

"Anythin'," he said, rising.

"What do you want it for?"

before dark. Here, however, the pro- tle hog and his fixin's to save her, best but a succession of falls avoided. with great pomp to the door of the any good like that. They never are before in getting up that hind pro in any good when you want them," and time to save a collapse.

place to which any one went on arriv- him to the Risky. Will you do it?" house which he wished to reach, and ing at Soda Creek, but in spite of the "All right; if it's for a woman," he had contrived not to lose sight of former habits of their charge, it was and he slouched off to the part of the his points, but it was difficult to keep lowed in here now. Where'll we take secure his own horse and another. Earth seemed for once to have no The latter part of the business was solidity; the laws of gravity in his An empty house was suggested horse-stealing, almost the worst of particular care seemed to have been where the body would be safe from the fence in Cattledom, but he had lied al- suspended; his feet would not keep dogs until the clergyman came for it ready to a friend, and was meditating down and he suffered from an almost

"Have you got the things?"

tention of going to take one drink "Thought you was going to take a dementia was comprehensive. drink with the old man," he said to even diagnosed his own case accurate "Let him alone where he is," urged the doctor, who was now helf asleep. Iy as he staggered along.

who didn't believe in ghosts or spirits, 'fraid?"

scared of anything, Mishter Jim But he saw in the sot's determina- Combe, if you are a foot taller than

"Bill, would you do something for a bet you the next round of drinks that you dare not go alone to take a glass the crowd, besides the form of settle- upon peal of derisive laughter, in the "A woman. There ain't no woman ment touched their personal interest. "It's up to you, doc," they cried. face in the mud.

coward, drunk or sober.

"Then go up into that fellow's rallying in the most extraordinary upon all fours.

manner, and speuking quite soberly. "And one of those glastes. See you! again, gentlemen," and he walked towards the door.

-"I guess it's my money that's np, se if no one has any objection, I'll still hunt the doc and see that he goes right to it. That's the bet, isn't it?" asked Combe. -"I guess co."

"Nobody else leaves the room until we come back. I don't want the doctor's friends handy to keep his cour-"He don't want any. Don't you werry. The doe's got as much grit as the next man." "Appears like it," said Jim, and stole out, shutting the door noisele sly be-

CRAPTER XIII.

Very solemnly and placing each foot with carefully calculated precision, the little doctor made his way from the ldeal to the place where old man! Hayes had been stored out of the way of the dors.

The awful heat and closeness of the bar room which he had left, made the chill of the night air more noticeable. It struck him like a bar of cold iron across the forehead and made him catch his breath with a gasp. room," pointing to the doctor," "and his errand had no terror for him. He corral all his outfit, instruments and was one of those who, having learned grip-sack, whatever he takes along a great deal about the mechanism of with him when he goes visiting. No the human body, looked upon it as an one will notice you as you live here, indifferent piece of machinery cap-In return he lent a hand at bearing and if they do they are too drunk to able of many improvements, and having about it nothing of the superna-

"There's a woman dying down to As a locomotive he considered it becession paused, reformed, put on its You heard him say he wouldn't come." That had always been his opinion, but coats and funeral face, and marched "I did, curse him; but he won't be he had never known so much difficulty Before starting from the bar room ty met them. The Ideal was the only "He won't be like that when I get door he had taken a line upon the them, moving as he felt compelled to next day, and there it was locked up a worse offence than horse-stealing. | irresistible temptation to allow his When he had tied the two horses legs to collapse altogether, a tempta-But even then the doctor was not at the back of the empty house in tion which arose from a growing conready for his patient at the Risky which old man Hayes lay, he return- viction that they really had nothing whatever to do with him, and that he could move perfectly well by the mere exertion of will power. But he was not sufficiently drunk yet to yield to part was of any avail. The men had; "Then sneak out and cinch them on this temptation. He still had some had enough whiskey to make them as tight behind the saddle of my horse, control over his memory, and he restubborn as mules. Jim Combe was a big red roan, tied up behind the membered that he had tried that game in despair. Every drink that the house where Hayes' body lies, and before, and had been found in the Takes Infinite Pain to Master Every reckles crowd took made it more wait there for me. Don't make any street very cold indetd the next morn-

the decter was rapidly progressing Bill took his orders in silence, and Dr. Protheroe had a considerable from the convivial to the maudlin whilst he slipped out at the back, Jim knowledge of the many infirmities of Combe went up to the bar, and called the flesh, but his knewledge of the different experssions of alcoholic

"So I wash, but I can't get any fel- "Drunk," he said, severely; "very drunk. Itsh the cold air has done it You think he'sh gone away. Non- "And you're too scared to go alone? Alwaysh does it; but I'm not 'fraid. sen sh; he'sh here all right. He'll I thought you were a scientific joker, Who said Doctor. Protheroe was

The idea was too grizzly. That any or any of them things you can't see or He stopped, swaying dangerously in the middle of the dark street to think after death's release to hang round the "Don'sh know what I believe, and I out that problem, but even his mind peater this two or three times in a was no difficult matter so far as re- pains to secure exactitude in facts sort of sing-song, and then, suddenly: garded the standing of either of them and figures. He has been a success Prother-oc, Thomash's, - London - It is probable, however, that the cause in that office, if in any, thor-"Why, you're afraid right now. I'll England. Not Ontario! None of House as a whole likes both men oughness is its own reward. And he your bloomin' Canadian 'bout me. better because, in these latter days, is certainly thoroughly thorough. Doctor Protheroe, Thomash's, London, it has, in the case of each, taken more England. Gentleman; profeshional pains to discern the man beneath the ing by the stove, started from his The bet justed suited the humor of man," and then he burst into peal > midst of which he fell flat upon his After lying there for a few minutes chuckling still to himself, he rose upon his hands and knees, reached for his hat, put it rakishly upon the back of "Hand me the bottle, Ike," he said, his head, and continued his journey

> > "Varicoshe veins," he muttered, as he went. "Shyatica, gout, notin' to do wi' whiskey. All rot. Causeabssurd attempt violate lawsh of nature. Man dam fool; meant to walk or four legsh, tries to walk on two. Poshterior limbs over worked; painful shwelling followsh. Of course.' But in spite of the excellence of his reasoning he was obliged after a time to conform to custom, and finished his journey in a wild burst upon two legs, which landed him in a heap at the old man's door.

> > The violent exercise did something to counteract the effects of the chill air upon his heated brain, but not enough. He could remember that the door fastened with a latch; he could even repeat to himself the necessary instructions for lifting the latch; but for the life of him he could not find Sitting upon the ground with his mannerism. At or ; time, in days not eyes carefully and talking rapid- far distant, few men in the House of ly but incoherently, he explored the Commons were so disliked by those whole door from the mud to within on the benches opposite as was Mr. six inches of the lock half a dozen McKenna. His mistakes-and he has times, and at last concluding that he made not a few of them, for neither must have reached the wrong side of as Home Secretary nor as First Lord the house, began to crawl round it, of the Admiralty was he any stupenuntil utterly weary, he sank despair dous success-were constantly magingly into a peculiarly cold puddle, nified into preposterous dimensions. from which lowly station he beat in- His rising to speak was usually the of the wall imploring old man Hayes on the part of his opponents. In fact to "get up and let a fellow in." At with much that is wholly admirable, last oblivion came to him, but not in there is not a little that is-slightly the kindly fashion to which he had annoying in Mr. McKenna's make-ficutly about his breathing which he about him which goes far to exas- "finds" amongst the antiques are a did not remembering to have noticed perate those who do not share his perfect by-word among her friends. on previous occasions. It was quite very obvious belief in himself. He Her eye is as keen among the stalls natural that he should have turned was reputed to believe in science as it is on the golf links-she is an over on his back, but his head was rather than in sentiment, to be some- inveterate and most proficient golfer. rolling about in an unusual way, and what hard, as well as intensely "su- She gives the least time possible to there seemed to be an obstruction in perior," while his manner was rather the concerns of the drawing-room and rasping and harsh. But now all this the tea table. She takes more interest "Asphyxiashun," he decided. "Un- is changed. With his former opponents in the flight of a golf ball than in the usual symptom, rather think unna- smiling upon him, he smiles back on flight of a duchess. It is in her nurstural. Not had enough whiskey for them in return, and can be as con- ery, rather than in the political world, that,' and than he went out into space ciliatory as the occasion seems to re- that she stoops to conquer. And it is where nothing mattered, and thought quire.

EVERYTHING NEW

FRESH-PURE

Ask your dealer or write

RENNIE'S - TORONTO

BEHTREAL WINNIPEG VANCOUVER

itself became a mere succession of

(To be Continued.)

TO THOROUGHNESS.

Subject He Has to Deal

tion of the total income.

Rt. Hon. Reg. McKenna.

vague and disconnected suggestions.

RELIABLE

Sure of Himself.

One of these, the most persistent, chequer is, comparatively speaking, both the wisest and the youngest of was that he was flying. He remema young man. He was born 53 years the wives of Cabinet Ministers. bered, as you do in dreams, that he ago. For that matter he is probably had done this before. He had never as young to-day as he ever was in his WHERE THE CONFLICT RAGES. been quite certain whether it was in life. For he was born with an old dreams that he flew, or in waking head on young shoulders. He has Artist Paints Battle of Verdun With The dream had always seemed been M. P. for his present constituso real, but he knew that he was flyency, North Monmouthshire, since ing now. He left himself going up 1895. He has held the offices of Finand up, and it was only will which ancial Secretary of the Treasurer, Pre- hill near Verdun, the storm of battle with the hope that none of the playsupplied the motive power. He knew sident of the Board of Education, by no means disconcerting him, Mr. ers in the rough game will be badly that because he tried to flap his wings First Lord of the Admiralty, and Home Francois Flameng, a French artist, is hurt. They and their followers, in and could not. They were tied to his Secretary. He has been something of calmly preparing a colossal historic their solicitude for my welfare, keep party in twain, Mr. McKenna was far studies. led the section which was frankly pro-Boer. Mr. McKenna was neither a Liberal Imperialist nor a pro-Boer. But he objected to Mr. Asquith's platform activities on behalf of the It has been the lot of Mr. McKenna Liberal Imperialist section, as likely to tax the British people-at all to render the divisions in the party events, the wealthier section of them needlessly acute. He accordingly ad--more heavily than has ever been dressed a letter to the present Predreamed of in the past. The recent mier urging him not to attend and mammoth taxes proposed by him on speak at a banquet arranged by the incomes amount, in the case of just Liberal Imperialists in his honor. Mr. ordinarily big incomes, to over 33 per Asquith retorted to "My dear McKencent. of the total income, and in the na" with considerable spirit, and atcase of extraordinarily big incomes, tended the banquet. Those who know McKenna best say to far more than double that proporthat the man is not really so much Like Mr. Bonar Law, Mr. McKenna hard as he is sure of himself. He has increased his popularity and also has some reasons for this sureness. enhanced his strength in the House He is a lucid and logical, if not a of Commons since the coalition Gov- very lively, speaker. He masters a "Doctor Protheroe fraid?" he re- ernment was started. In truth, that case thoroughly, and will take infinite "Dr. Protheroe," he said. "Doc-tor in the estimation of his opponents. as Chancellor of the Exchequer, be-friends. Mrs. McKenna is the daugh- patient." ter of Col. Sir Herbert Jekyll, who, among many other claims to fame, is noted as one of the most discriminating devotees of the fine arts in England. She has inherited her father's of collecting much that is rare. Her me justice.'

His Charming Wife.

probably for these reasons that, living as she does among so many people The present Chancellor of the Ex- her many friends swear by her, as who have forgotten how to be children, Shells Falling Around Him.

an athlete, too. In 1887 he rowed painting of this struggle, the greatest on reminding me how ill beseeming bow in the Cambridge University boat, of the war and of all wars. He is ecclesiastical lips it is to give the and he also won the Grand and the making his sketches undisturbed amid advice to kill Germans. Stewards' Cup at Henley regatta. At falling shells and the din of bursting one time, when the question of the projectiles and is working hard every Boer War well-nigh rent the Liberal hour of daylight to complete his school of thought to exhort our hand, Sir Hnry Campbell-Bannerman Meuse to the north near the Ar- syllogism. It is this: gonne. I am trying to get all the details, for I know that the smallest fighting against you. corner of this field of carnage is watered with the noblest French blood. are German. "My task delights me, for I know | Therefore, the war for us means that my studies may give hereafter killing Germans.

all my work. I have put into it all that we seem to be quarrelling. It is my confidence and all my tenderness. not quite clear whether he puts Eng-My heart is moved with pity when I lishmen where I put Germans. No think of those who are dying between doubt the pro-German puts Englishthe hills in front of me and when I men where I put England's enemy. see the terrible shells falling on our So that the conclusion to be drawn lines I want to throw myself on my from the premises depends altogether knees and pray for the sublime and upon which side you are in the fight. unknown heroes who will have saved As it is as clear as noonday to me their country and humanity.

ity, our blind faith in final success. Itil we have reached the number that should be known that we are superior our terms of peace and to save on all points to the Germans, for never | Europe from the tyranny, the kultur was a more formidable struggle im- of the superman with his superposed on us, never was war more State. We have drawn the sword to contrary to our temperament. It has protect the neutrality, independence, It is now eight years since Mr. Mc- revealed to us virtues in ourselves and autonomy of the smaller Euro-Kenna married his very charming that we did not recognize. Let us pean kingdoms, and it is our rooted wife, who, by the way, is about a thank fate for having afforded us this determination never to slip that sword quarter of a century his junior. And hard test, because it will have reju- into its scabbard again till Europe is though Mr. McKenna has made his venated our race. Let us look to the rid of its menace to liberty, justice, enemies, she has made nothing but future without fear and let us be Similarity.

"Have you any references?" "Yes, mum, but I left them at home.

TONIC DEAL

When your head is dull and heavy, your tongue furred, and you feel done-up and good for nothing, without knowing what is really the matter with you, probably all that is needed to restore you to health and vigour is a few doses of a reliable digestive tonic and stomachic rem-FOR THE edy such as Mother Seigel's Syrup. Take it after each meal for a few days and note how beneficial is its action upon the stomach, liver and bowelshow it restores tone and healthy activity to these important organs, and by so doing enables you to gain new stores of vigour, vitality and health.

STOMACH AND LIVER

SEIGEL'S SYRUP

MOTHER

The new 1.00 size contains three times as much as the trial size sold at 50c per bottle.

Horse Sale Distemper

Stable Distemper. "Spoun's" is your true tory against a fee who, having startprotection, your only safeguard, for as sure as you ed out to Kaiserize Prussia and disease. It acts as a sure preventive, no matter how Prussianize Germany, meant to Gerthey are "exposed." By the bottle, or dozen bottles, at manize the world. SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bactoriologisto,

HOW TO WIN THIS GREATEST OF WARS

FATHER VAUGHAN SAYS TO KILL MORE GERMANS.

Famous Priest Renews His Attacks on Those Who Would Spare

. the Enemy.

'Kill Germans if you would win the war," continues to be the slogan of the Rev. Bernard Vaughan, priest militant, of London, England. Father Vaughan recently answered another clergyman who thought it was a pity to kill so many Germans by saying: "In my blundering stupidity I had thought it a pity to miss so many of

In a late issue of Reynolds' Newspaper Father Vaughan returns to the harge with the following:

There are two extreme schools of thought respecting this life and death struggle called warfare. The militarists and pacificists are poles apart in their teaching about war. On the one hand, while Prussian war lords make out war to be not only a "biological necessity," but also the "religion o fvalor," the Society of Friends, one the other hand, declared that nothing can justify-"the repelling of force. The German Bernhardt would turn ploughshares into swords, and the Russian Tolstoy would, on the contrary, crush swords into ploughshares. A plague on both your houses, say I. Between these optimistic and pessimistic views about the right to fight there is a third class made up of people like the Rev. Dr. Meyer and the Rev. Newsham Taylor, who lead one under the impression that they regard the present European war as some international football match, Perched on a tower on top of a with the betting on our side, and

Must Go On Killing Germans.

I suppose I am expected by this troops not to kill them. Mr. Bernard from seeing eye to eye with his pre- "I have been before Verdun eight Shaw has reminded me that there is sent leader. Mr. Asquith, of course, days," he writes to his friend, General another way of ending the war beadhered to the Liberal Imperialist Niox, custodian of the army museum sides that of killing Germans, and section of the party, of which Lord in Paris. "From my observatory I that is to end it by killing English-Rosebery and Sir Edward Grey were can see the whole panorama of this men. My attitude toward the war recognized leaders. On the other epic battle from the south along the may be summed up in a very-simple

Warfare means killing the troops But the troops fighting against us an exact view of this Homeric strug- About the major premise Mr. Shaw gle and that perhaps it will be the and myself are in complete agreeonly thing that will remain vivid of | ment. It is with the minor premise that we have entered into this devas-"I am sorry you are so far from the tating war with a clear conscience battlefield; if you were here you and clean hands, I am satisfied that would very quickly share our seren- we must go on killing Germans un-Verdun cannot be taken now. It will entitle us to dictate to the enemy and civilization.

· Prussianism Must Go.

To the militarist, then, who regards warfare as the highest expression of life, I say it is the worst expression of physical evil; and to the pacifist who contends that nothing can justify love for the beautiful, and his faculty Like me photygraphs they don't do war, I reply that there are occasions when you must make use of the worst physical evil-warfare-in order to support some great moral cause. In other words, a just war means making use of physical forces to secure some great moral end.

Let us get to grips with this question about the rights and wrongs of warfare, and let me again remind you that there is a far greater evil than war, and that is sin. War in its most repellant aspect can never get away from its character, as a physical evil only, whereas sin is the brand called moral evil. The founder of Christianity warns us not so much to fear him who can kill the body only as to fear him who can destroy the soul also. In the eighteen millions of casualtles recorded in the present scientific slaughter of the human race not a single soul has been necessarily hurt, though that number of bodies have been hit.

I believe that this war, a terribly physical evil though it is, has sent heavenward souls innumerable who might otherwise have lost their way. thither. Meanwhile I am satisfied that God in His good time will give

A word of praise to-day is worth a bucket of tears shed to-storrow.

