H. Smith had a very narrow escape from death on Saturday afternoon while raking hay for Mr. Adaman. The rake had not been properly secured and had got red-hot and had resented him. The horses became frightened and ran away, and he was uncontrolled because a line under the seat and the tongue of the rake had been fixing the beam around the field for some time and then went over two piles of hay and over the seat and he first in front of the rake. He carried some distance by then by chance it tripped out. Had it not accepted he would probably have been killed. As the team ran through the orchard and the rake sliding damaging it very badly his knee badly hurt. A number of cuts necessitating the use of a few days.

Fred Winn took a nasty fall late Thursday evening sustaining two broken bones in the palm of his hand besides several bruises. He had left Mrs. Winn with the horse and buggy while he went into W. H. Todd's carriage shop to obtain some repairs when the horse took fright and started to run. Mrs. Winn's scream caused him to rush from the shop when he fell headlong over a buggy top striking the cement walk. The horse was caught before it had run far. Mrs. W. S. Cook gave first aid to Mr. Winn who was rendered unconscious. He soon recovered and is now doing nicely.

Frances Carter, wife of Mr. Harvey Clendenning, died at her home, 6th Concession of Whitchurch, on Saturday, July 5 after a very painful illness due to cancer. Some time ago she had a cancer removed at the Toronto General Hospital and for a time it appeared she would recover but the disease had spread through her system and the best medical aid could do nothing to save her.

The deceased was in her 41st year. She leaves, besides her husband, a family of small children to mourn her loss. The sympathy of the community where she was well and favorably known, goes out to the bereaved ones.

We are told that two Stouffville men were recently approached by a couple of strangers who said they had a barrel of whiskey, in the swamp west of the village, which they were willing to dispose of for a stipulated sum of money. They invited the two men to go out and sample the stuff, which they did, using a piece of hose to get the booze out of the barrel. It proved satisfactory and the money was passed over. At night when the purchasers went out to remove the barrel they took another swig but found to their dismay nothing in it but water.
