5th LINE MARKHAM

Our beef ring is now organized. Mr. A. R. Wideman, the butcher, set a good example and received 28c per pound for the hide from James McKenzie, 98 Front street E.

The car bridge is again the attraction for the evenings. "Come on in, boys, the water's fine."

Many of our young folk attended the Anniversary services at Peaches Church on Sunday.

Mr. Gordon Roberts, who is employed by Mr. Harry Hargrave, visited his parents on this line on Sunday last.

We have reason to think that one of our youths is fully aware that "True love never did run smooth."

We are pleased to hear Mrs. Solomon Burkholder's health is much improved.

We are a grumbling race of people and always will complain.

For there's one day too much sunshine. And the next, too much rain.

Who's complaining now?

Bear in mind the large doings in Markham on July 1st. We cannot give our boys too good a time and you can help.

I wonder if the Ballantrae correspondent knows why the Robert Simpson Co. drive so many grey horses?

Mr. Albert Hawkins spent Saturday last in Toronto.

The Eighth Line Beef Ring is supplying the same quality of beef as in previous years.

Milk Cows Pay If

Milk cows pay well if you keep the cost of feed down—and if you feed right.

Ensilage is essential winter food, not only for cows, but for all stock.

Have lots of ensilage—good ensilage. Build a good silo of ample capacity.

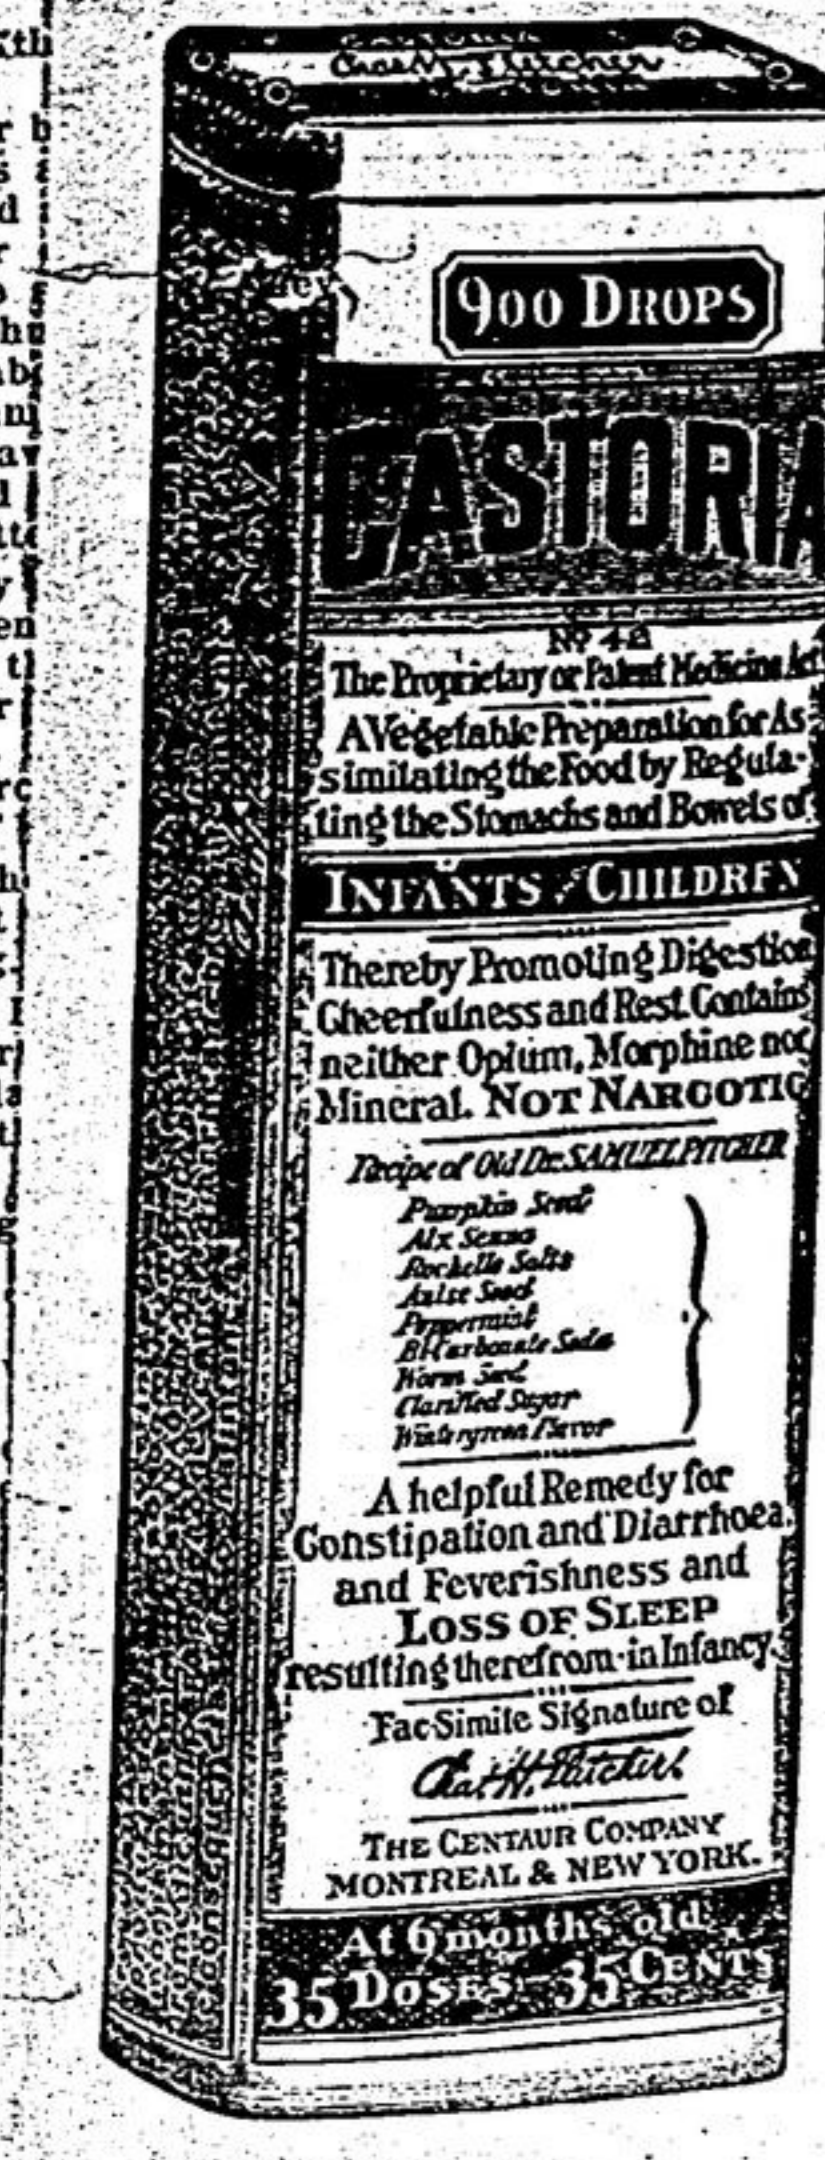

Toronto Silos hold several tons more than other silos. The hip roof allows you to tramp the ensilage right to the top of the staves.

To match the high quality of the new Toronto Ensilage Cutter—built on a new principle and wonderfully efficient in operation. No more choked feedway or burst knife wheel. The Toronto Ensilage Cutter is safe and speedy as well as efficient. You should own an ensilage cutter—not depend on a hired machine. Our literature on silos and ensilage cutters covers this important subject thoroughly. These booklets will be sent free to farmers who write for them.
