Harold, the ten-year-old son of Anthony Reesor, of Locust Hill, was knocked down and run over by a Ford car just inside the entrance gate of the agricultural park here on Tuesday afternoon about five o'clock. The child received several nasty bruises and a cut in the neck, and it was at first feared he was badly injured. Enquiry this morning elicited the information that Harold was playing about as usual. The driver of the car, Oliver Madill, also of Locust Hill, is a beginner, and though driving pretty slowly became a little rattled when he saw the child in front of his car and was unable to stop in time to avoid running the child down.—Economist.
