WEAK MOTHERS

Through the New Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

No mother should allow nervous weakness to get the upper hand o her. If she does worry will mar her work in the home and torment her in body and mind. Day after day spent anild the same surroundings is enough to cause fretfulness and depression. But there are other causes, as every mother knows, that tend to make her nerves run down. A change would benefit her jaded system, and rest might improve her blood so as to give the nerves a better tone. But rest and change are often impossible, and it is then that all worn out women should take a short treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make new blood, rich with the elements on which the nerves thrive. In this way these pills restore regular health, increased energy, new ambition and steady nerve. There is a lesson for other women in the case of Mrs. Harry P. Snider, Wilton, Ont., who says:-"Five years ago my twin bables were born, and I was left very weak and very miserable, hardly fit to do anything. The doctor gave me medicine, but it did not help me. Then I tried another doctor, but with no better results. One day I went nome to my mother, telling her how miserable I felt, and that the doctor's medicine had not done me any good. Mother asked me why I did not try

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as I was glad to try anything that might help me, I got three boxes when I went back home. By the time these were used_there was no doubt they were helping me, and I got three all, for, by the time the fifth box was used, I was entirely cured, and never felt better in my life. Now when I hear people talk about feeling weak or miserable I always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and tell what they did for me, and in similar cases

I shall continue to recommend them."

The buffalo of the East, while a domestic animal, is used in transport service equally with the familiar or, from which he is easily distinguishable by his low set, down curving horns and muzzle carried almost straight forward.

THE BUFFALO OF THE EAST.

People who are obliged to travel by buffalo cart are deserving of sympathy, for the buffalo is the slowest of all draught beasts. It is his great strength that gives him the advantage over the ox. The load that a single yoke of buffaloes will pull is astonishing. In India they are always given the kind of load which is assigned to drayhorses here, ordinary horse work, except passenger traffic, being performed by the humped oxen, known elsewhere as zebus.

India, indeed, is the native home of the buffalo, and it still exists there as a wild animal. Very wild indeed it is, too, and an old bull is very apt to attack unprovoked, contrary to the usual custom of almost all wild animals. Even its tame descendants retain plenty of spirit. It is said that when in a herd they do not fear the tiger, and a recognized method of getting "stripes" to bolt when he has taken to cover is to drive in a herd of buffaloes to rout him out, which they will do to a certainty if they get on his scent.

Even tame buffalos can make themselves very unpleasant to people they do not know, and they are not at all safe for a Westerner to approach in India, but, and here appears the most attractive side of their character, they display toward their owners a faithfulness one usually associates rather with dogs than with cattle.

The true Indian buffalo is to a great extent an aquatic animal and when off duty likes nothing so much as to lie up to its ears in water, but, like the duck, it can if necessary resign itself to existence without a bath. "HOW DO YOU DO?"

Various Greetings in Vogue Among the Peoples of the Earth.

In most American and European countries, when we meet a friend, we shake hands and say, "How do you do?" but in other climes the methods of greeting vary considerably.

When two Arabians meet one another they rub their cheeks together while a native of Burma pretends to smell his friend's face, pronounces is sweet, and then asks for a "smell."

The Australian natives have a greeting which, if it were practised here, we would consider very rude. They stick their tongues out at each other.

If a Chinaman is riding, and anyone great passes, he immediately dismounts.

The Hindu falls in the dust before his superior, while the Turk crosses his hands upon his breast, and makes a very low bow, thus showing his regard without coming in personal contact with its object. A Jap removes his sandals, crosses his hands, and cries out, "Spare me!" But perhaps the greeting that would strike us as the most strange, both physically and mentally, is that of the South Sea Islander. He'throws a jarful of water over the head of a friend when they meet.

War Privations. A major of the intelligence bureau of the War Department tells the following anecdote:

On the other side of the water the civilian has had to endure all sorts of queer privations and hardships. In many parts of France, for example, there were no matches, no coal, no kerosene.

... A man was staggering along a dark street with a grandfather's clock on his back. Another man stopped him and said:

"Hello, Gaston! Moving?" "Moving? Nothing of 'the kind!" Gaston answered. "I'm carrying this clock to the nearest lamp-post so that I can see what time it is."

HOME BANK'S RECORD YEAR

The report submitted at the Annual Meeting of the Home Pank of Canada indicated that the Bank had enjoyed the most successful year in its history.

The progress made by the Home Bank during the past few years was referred to particularly by General Manager Mason, who pointed out that the liquid assets now amounted to over 57% of the total liabilities to the public, or actual cash assets were the strongest in the history of the Bank, representing approximately 22% of total liabilities to the public. Large gains were also made in deposits, the increase for the past twelve months having amounted to over three and a half millions, notwithstanding the fact that 9,508 of the depositors had subscribed over $4,900,000 to the last Dominion Victory Loan.

The increase in deposits during the war period had amounted to over ten million dollars, an increase of over 105 p.c., and reflects the increased patronage extended the bank by the public in both savings and general commercial lines. None of these figures include deposits of the Dominion Government.

The general statement of assets and liabilities everywhere reflects the progress made, the total assets of the bank now standing at $28,-635,924, as compared with $23,675,-773 at the end of the previous year. Total deposits now stand at $18,500,-000, as compared with $14,600,000 at the end of the previous year. / The Profit and Loss Account is al-

The net profits for the year amounted to $238,753; equivalent to 10.63 p.c. of the paid up capital and reserve fund. After the payment of dividends and various appropriations, including $100,000 to Rest Account, the amount carried forward was $158,-

He was a typical street gamin and he was so diminutive in stature that I had to stoop to interrogate him. Having done so, I began the following conversation:

"You don't make anything at that?" "Nope."

"Then what do you sell them for?" "Oh, just to get a chance to holler."

A Poser.

The Marchioness of Waterford, recently created a Dame Grand Cross of the O.B.E., has a good collection of Irish anecdotes.

One that she is fond of retailing upon occasion concerns a countryman who went into a shop in Dublin to buy a clock.

The shopman showed him one for "What! £2 for that bit of a clock?"

he exclaimed. "Is there anything wonderful about it?" "Yes," said the other; "this is an eight-day clock." "And what's that?" enquired Pat. "Why," answered the shopman, "it goes eight days without winding." Pat scratched his head in bewilderment. "So much as that," he said. "Begorra, there's wan thing I'd like to be after asking ye. If it goes eight days without winding, how long will it go if ye wind it?"

I fell from a building and received what the doctor called a very bad sprained ankle, and told me I must not walk on it for three weeks. I got MINARD'S LINIMENT and in six days I was out to work again. I think it the best Liniment made.

Nathaniel Hawthorne's handwriting was so illegible that some of his manuscripts remained unpublished because nobody could read them. This was likewise true of Carlyle. The story told of a type compositor who was employed by a London printing office because of a strong recommendationwhich he brought from Scotland. The first piece of manuscript given him to set was by Carlyle.

"Heavens!" said the new typesetter. "Have you got that man here too? fled from Scotland to avoid him."

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT

WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the sore ness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feat-bi corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that, while freezofo is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without in flaming or- even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.
