HERE AND THERE IN THE DISTRICT

The school tax in Pickering village increased 70 per cent this year.

An Orange Lodge has just been organized at Queensville.

Newmarket Christian Church is this week celebrating the Centennial of its origin.

Thomas Jordan and Arthur Ellis who farmed jointly in Whitby township, have made an assignment.

Mrs. George Dixon of Unionville celebrated her 89th birthday, and all her faculties are still unimpaired.

Warden Cronsberry of York County was presented with a gold-headed cane by York County Council at the annual banquet last Friday night.

Last week Miss Jean Reading of the University of Toronto addressed the Women's Liberal Club of Aurora on the life of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Fred Ward has been busy for some time buying horses in Northern Ontario, and selling them to farmers in Pickering township.

In the death of Christina Cuthbert, beloved wife of one of the well known business men, Joseph Reeves Uxbridge loses one of its oldest citizens. She died at her home on Main street on Wednesday, Nov. 8th, after a lingering illness. She was in her 90th year.

Five full grown persons with regular Sunday appetites, dined on one regular, uniformly developed, full grown Simcoe County potato at the home of Allan Hutchinson, Barrie, representative of the Department of Agriculture, on Oct. 29. Its weight was two and three quarter pounds, 22 potatoes of this size would make a heaping bushel.

George Thomson has purchased from Robert Welsh the property on Main street, Markham, opposite the Tremont House, for nearly forty years known as the Markham liver. The purchase price was $1000. Mr. Thomson intends wrecking the old buildings on the property and will utilize the material in the building of two houses on a lot he owns on Washington street. The old livery site, one of the best in the business section, will then be available for a store.

Mr. and Mrs. David Reesor of "Silver Spring" farm, 10th con. of Markham, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding on Monday Nov. 13th. About 20 guests were present, all near relatives of the bride and groom, and the still were preserved and youthful looking couple were the recipients of many pretty presents and congratulations from their host of friends. After partaking of a sumptuous turkey dinner and toasting the bride and groom a very pleasant evening was spent in reminiscences of days of "auld lang syne," cards and music. Mr. and Mrs. Reesor are both native born Canadians of pioneer stock. Mr. Reesor is the grandson of Abraham Reesor, a pioneer settler of 1790, his father, being Christian David, a sister of the late Captain Wm. Armstrong, who came from the Scottish border, County Northumberland, early in the eighteenth century and settled on the "Armstrong farm" "Ashgrove" adjoining Markham village. Mrs. (Jane) Reesor's parents were Geo. Miller and his wife, Katherine, who came to Canada from Scotland about the same time and settled on a thousand acre farm on the 10th concession which they called "Riggfoot," after their old home in Scotland.

A tale of pathetic and shocking tragedy was revealed in Uxbridge Sunday when Miles Houck, walking through the woods on his farm, two miles north of Uxbridge, discovered the dead body of 19-year-old Walter Kendall of Uxbridge. A rifle lay beside the young man's body and a bullet wound in his forehead indicated that he had died by his own hand. Coroner Dr. W. C. Shier, who was called to view the body, expressed his opinion that Kendall's death was due to suicide, decided an inquest was not necessary and had the remains taken to McGuire & Low's undertaking rooms. Kendall had for some time been keeping company with a young lady in town, and her refusal of his company seemed to prey on his mind. On Thursday morning Kendall, who was an employe of the Gold Medal Radio and Phonograph Corporation, he being a faithful worker and well liked by all the employes, left his boarding house, with his rifle, avowing his intention of going to the woods to hunt. When he did not return in the evening it was thought he had gone to visit his foster mother Mrs. Elijah Kendall, who resides in the neighborhood of the village of Cameron, near Lindsay.

HAVE THE PUBLIC A RIGHT TO KNOW?

Deputy Reeve Baker of Whit church is taking the right step when he demands to know from the York County Road Commission what new roads are costing in this county. Reeve Keith of Newmarket should not oppose such a demand. What Mr. Baker asked of the council in the form of a resolution was this: "That each member be supplied with a statement giving length, width and depth of material, and total cost of each piece of road built in 1922."

Surely this is a simple request? Why should the people of this County be denied knowing exactly where and how their money is expended, and who has a better right to know? This paper is of the opinion that more publicity given to the expenditures on the various roads throughout this and other counties, would tend to stop a great deal of money being wasted. It is generally believed that certain roads in York County have been constructed at an abnormally high price, and if this not the case, the sooner the Commission furnish the cost of roads as requested by Mr. Baker, the quicker they will right the erroneous impression.

The Baker resolution was defeated after arguments presented by Mr. Keith who said such an action would cost a great deal, and "no body would read it anyway." Reeve Lehman of Stouffville supported the motion, while Reeve Crawford of Whit church was absent at the time the vote was recorded.

The present report furnished by the Commission does not deal with individual roads, but to the system in the county as a whole, and it is so cumbersome that little information can be got from it by the average tax payer.

THE AURORA BANQUET

Premier Drury was the chief speaker at the banquet held in Aurora on Friday night, under auspices of the Board of Trade. Dr. Ira Freeland and Mr. David Atchison of Stouffville were in attendance. The Premier said there was something wrong with the economic system which forced the young men and women of the farm to seek a living in the city. The Premier steered clear of politics in the main, though his defence of the farmer, and remarks regarding relation of the farmer to the city, caused him to mention "the new national policy." He pleaded for co-operation between city and country, pointed out the advantages of small town life and urged his audience to "scotch" the exodus from country to city. "I don't care," said he, "who says the people of Ontario have no love for the land. They have a tremendous love for the land. And they have a passionate desire to own their land." J. M. Walton presided.

PRICES HIGH AT HILL'S AUCTION SALE

Despite the wet day, it was the best sale of the season," said auctioneer Silversides when we enquired low prices ranged at Mr. Loss Hill's auction sale at lot 30 rear con 7, Pickering Saturday afternoon was rainy, but the attendance was good, and bidding brisk. Six horses sold at a good price, one six-year-old Clyde bringing $200. The ten cows sold totalled $1067, and this was regarded by those present as a big figure, being an average of nearly $106.75 per head. Mr. Hill's implements sold in most cases at an advance over prices paid for them. Hogs sold well, and sheep realized as high as $17.

The small number of sales this fall is probably responsible for the brisk upward movement in auction sale prices.
