LOCAL HAPPENINGS

First of the season—Chicken pie supper in Methodist church basement next Monday evening, also good program, assisted by Mrs. Ross Winterstein.

On Sunday evening, Mr. Isaac Pike delivered his farewell sermon as helper on this circuit of the Mennonite church. The subject of his discourse was "affectionate obedience," and he created a deep impression on his listeners. In future Mr. Pike will assist on the Bethesda circuit, while Mr. J. R. Pipher, principal of Markham public school will act as local helper on this circuit.

We understand that next spring Musselman's Lake will be supplied with hydro power from Stouffville, also Shadow Lake camp will require power and lights. From there it may be possible to furnish power to the residents of Mount Albert, where quite an agitation is on for the hydro. If such a line is extended from Stouffville, it will have a very material effect in reducing the cost of power here.

Mr. W. J. Mather has commenced the re-arrangement of the large building at the north of his shop which was originally used by the late Samuel Burkholder, as a cabinet, manufactory, storage room for caskets, beds, springs, mattresses, etc. At one time Mr. Burkholder employed a number of hands here. This building has stood now for a number of years and has been used chiefly as a storage room for goods. The building is 25x50 in size. Mr. Mather will have it turned north and south and butted up against the north side of his brick block, when it will be used as a stable.

The citizens were shocked on Thursday of last week to learn of the sudden death of Mabel Yake, wife of John F. Hanna, which took place about noon hour of that day at their home on Main street. The circumstances surrounding her death are as sad as they were sudden, as only the day before she was down street. When she took suddenly ill, three physicians were summoned. The funeral on Saturday afternoon was very largely attended, the service was taken by Rev. F. Summers of the Church of Christ, assisted by a former pastor, Rev. C. W. Petch. Interment took place at Stouffville cemetery. Besides the sorrow stricken husband, who is a brother of Mr. James Hanna a former willk nown barber here, deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Yake and one brother, Adam, a local jeweler.

Beautiful autumn weather! A stretch of new cement sidewalk is being laid from east side of Mr. Mowat's property up to the Church of England.

Ross Ratcliff, ex-Councillor of Whitechurch and Mac. Forsyth, Deputy-Reeve of Pickering, acted as judges for the street carnival last Friday night in selecting the prize winners.

Farmers who endeavor to raise hogs that will market as "select" grade will understand that Arthur Carruthers brought in some mighty choice bacon to market last week, when we state that out of a load of 12 hogs, nine graded "select."

The new hydro lights are certainly illuminating Main street in good style. If a light could be arranged on either side of the street at Shaw's corner and at Church street, it would make matters still better, but when the lights are finally placed on the side streets this may be arranged.

The property on Church street, of six acres and frame house, belonging to the estate of the late Margaret McDonald, was offered by public auction last Thursday to wind up the estate. The highest offer was $2500 and as this did not reach the reserve bid, there was no sale effected.

A household which had been maintained in this town for over 30 years was broken up last week when Wm. Malloy and his wife disposed of their furniture and moved in with their son Howard. Mr. Malloy's health is rather precarious at times, and he is 82 years of age.

Thieves, presumably from Toronto abandoned a stolen car on the 8th concession of Whitechurch, last week, on an unused portion of the road at the old Marsh bridge. It was a new Ford touring, and everything of any value was stripped from the frame, including tires, license plate and sundry other articles. The "remains" were taken to Toronto by the police of that city.

In two auction sales held in Stouffville last week $1000 was realized for second-hand furniture. Even in the days when new furniture was much lower in price than it is today there seemed to always be a buyer for the second-hand goods just the same. While a household of second-hand furniture today will find sale at a good figure, we do not mean to encourage anyone to break up their home through the publication of this item.

The annual harvest service held last Sunday in Christ Church (Anglican) was well attended, the church being filled to the doors. The building was most profusely decorated with roots, fruits, flowers, grain and tinted maple leaves. The congregational singing was heartily entered into, and the beautiful Anglican service was very impressive. The new Rector, Rev. Mr. Templeton officiated, in a manner that brought forth most favorable comment from the congregation.

Alfred Pugh of the east end has grown some wonderful sized tubers on his farm on the 8th concession of Pickering. He left two as a sample at the Tribune office weighing two pounds and two and a quarter pounds. They are of the Davies Warrior variety, and Mr. Pugh is willing to wager that they can't be beaten in this section by anyone. Here's a chance to get into a potato argument, so come along with your big "murrhies" like good Irishman, and continue the controversy we are trying to establish. Up in Uxbridge they are crowing through the press about having little 1½ pound tubers

Next Sunday morning and evening, anniversary services will be held in Stouffville Methodist church, the preacher for the occasion being a coming young man in Methodist circles, the Rev. E. H. Toye, B.A., of Eglington church, North Toronto. In the service of song, Misses Mildred and Erma Brownscombe of Uxbridge, will render special duet music, and those who have heard the young ladies on previous occasions, will come a long way to enjoy hearing them again. It is aimed to have a packed church at both services. Monday evening a chicken pie supper will be served in the basement when again friends from far and near are looked for in big numbers. The admission to the supper including the program is 50c. children 25c.

A most pleasant and feeling event took place last Saturday afternoon on the Stouffville Bowling Green when a number of the members of the club and a few invited friends, assembled to make a presentation of life-sized photo of himself to Mr. Colin McKenzie on his attaining his 80th birthday. A lengthy address was read by Mr. F. Lorne Burton and the presentation was made by Mr. Harvey Lawson. Mr. McKenzie with noticeably trembling voice made a few remarks, and thanked the members for the gift, and said he would long remember all their kindness and goodwill to him. Speeches were made by the chairman, Mr. J. W. Brown, Mr. Harvey Lawson and Mr. J. J. Rae, all voicing their love and affection on behalf of the club to the grand old curier. After the customary hand shaking and congratulations by the assembly the venerable gentleman was motored home by Dr. Sangster in his car. A striking co-incidence was that the next oldest member of the club, Mr. James Waddingham, was passing his 75th anniversary on the very same day.

The local Thursday market last week brought in the largest number of people of any market this past summer.

The arrangement to close the local stores on Friday afternoons during the summer months expired last Friday, and all places of business will now remain open six days per week.

The Stouffville Creamery is in receipt of a substantial cheque as a result of selling the second largest number of DeLaval Cream Separators in a recent contest conducted by that company.

"Red" Forsyth has the first electric sign on the street which is placed in front of his barber shop. Mr. Forsyth has also installed an electric stand to furnish hot water without the customary smudge of an oil stove.

Last week Mr. Orlan Mott, one of our oldest citizens, received word that his son Henry has been severely injured when a gasoline engine blew up in the plant where he is employed in Buffalo. The victim of the accident is recovering nicely, although he received severe injuries about the head and chest. Henry Mott visited his home in Stouffville about a month ago. He is master mechanic for the Metzger Contracting Co. in whose plant the accident happened.

Henry S. Hoover who lives on the 6th concession of Markham had all his water melons stolen a few nights ago. It was a fine patch, and Mr. Hoover had just covered them up with bags on the fatal night, to protect them from the frost. Next morning the melons were gone and the bags were used to carry them away. On another farm in the neighborhood, all the melons were picked, and the thieves finding them too green to eat, piled their booty in a fence corner and smashed it to pulp.

Our enterprising business firm, the Stouffville Creamery Co., hold the signal honor of signing the first application in Stouffville for Hydro Electric Power. The creamery will install a 7½ h.p. motor and the firm is to be commended in having such faith in the success of our public enterprise. To install a substantial motor before the rates for power are announced. The Tribune office is also installing a small motor to operate the linotype machine, and in the near future we hope to operate the presses with individual motors.

Stouffville which is fast becoming known provincially wide as a market gardening section, is again sending out her products to distant points. Almost any day at this time of year one may see at the station a car being loaded with vegetables, cabbage, cauliflower also turnips. Beautiful large cabbages are being brought in and the price we understand realizes the farmer or grower $30 per ton. Turnips brought 16c. per bushel early last week and some even sold at 13c. but the price has been slipping steadily downward. On Monday this week they were quoted at 14c. and buyers state they may go still lower. Most of the cars leaving here so far were shipped to New York where they go into the manufacture of jam.
