EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Provincial Legislature is summoned to meet on Wednesday, Feb. 6th. This will be the first session of the present legislature.

Judging by the speed some Stouffville people shove the snow from their sidewalk, they had read the headline in the dailies: "Hamilton man drops dead while shovelling snow."

A Stouffville medical man asked us the other day why they select the stork to couple with the doctor—why not the eagle or the owl? We couldn't answer, but have been thinking since perhaps it is because the stork has the biggest bill.

Sixteen members of the British Parliament who has served terms in jail had dinner together. And the Brantford Expositor had the courage to say that if all the parliamentarians who should have attended the feast had been there it would have needed a lot of people to wash the dishes.

Will this be a year of marriages for Stouffville? Within the corporation there are some confirmed old bachelors and widowers, and on the other hand a large number of marriageable women, as pointed out by the assessor last year. Remembering that it is leap year, it remains to be seen whether the women are more aggressive than the men.

The Ontario Government liquor dispensaries commenced on January 1st to operate in accordance with a price adjustment which has been effected by Attorney-General Nickle. General reductions have been made in the prices of all whiskies, gins, rums, brandies and wines, and the provincial treasury will, it is anticipated, suffer a resulting loss of revenue totalling close to half a million dollars. The liquor dispensaries had no right to exact enormous profits in view of the fact that their wares sold for medicinal purposes.

A newspaper dispatch from Chicago declares that a highly-educated man, whose name it gives, a civil engineer by profession, and a holder of several academic degrees, had declined the offer of a professorship in a college unspecified in order to become a plasterer at $104 a week in Chicago. We do not know whether the dispatch is authentic or not, but it is completely plausible. At present pay, a young man who wants money will do better at plastering than at professional work of any sort. Whether he will be better off twenty years from now is another matter.

As there is to be a meeting of local farmers in Stouffville next Tuesday to form a Plowmen's Association, it would be a good time to take up the question of service rendered them by the local Department of Agriculture at Newmarket. Have you ever noticed that the District Representative never holds a short course in agriculture at Stouffville, a poultry demonstration, agricultural lectures or school fairs? Of course you know we never had anything like that here for they are all held over on Yonge street. In Ontario county the entire district receives the same treatment from the representative and even the remote parts of his territory is given recognition. Courses are even held at points off the railway, but here in York county the official forgets that the greater part of his work should extend off Yonge street. If the farmers close to Stouffville want the assistance of the department which is due them, it would be well to take this matter up with the officials higher up.

LATE MRS. PETER CHRISTIE

Mrs. Peter Christie, wife of the former member of Parliament for South Ontario, died Saturday morning, Jan. 12th, in her 75th year, on the Dundreman farm, about one and one-half miles south-west of Port Perry, on which she was born on May 26th, 1849, and upon which she spent her whole life. Mrs. Christie was the daughter of the late Alexander Graham and Mrs. Annie Heslop Graham, whose farm was the first cleared in Reach township. The late Mrs. Christie was an aunt to Mrs. F. W. Silvester who attended the funeral from Stouffville. She was a Presbyterian and a charter member of the Presbyterian church at Prince Albert, near Port Perry, later joining St. John's Presbyterian church at Port Perry, and was a generous supporter of its work. She was married in 1873 to Mr. Christie who survives her with three children: Prof. A. Graham of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore; Fred G., civil engineer, Toronto, and Grant C., on the farm. The funeral took place on Monday at 1 p.m. to Pine Grove cemetery, Prince Albert.

A Statement in Detail as to HOW THE MILK IS BOTTLED

The Process of Washing and Sterilizing the Bottles. The bottles are put into a tank of hot water, heated by steam, free from any odor such as coal oil or any other fuel which may be used for heating the water. A quantity of special soda is added to the water, and after the bottles are thoroughly washed, every bottle is then turned over on a steam nozzle. The live steam is then turned on into each bottle, and no germ of any kind is left. After cooling the bottles, they are then ready to be filled.

The Bottling of the Milk. On the delivery of the milk, samples are drawn from every can, and tested as to the butter fat it contains and the taste. If same is satisfactory, the milk is strained through a double cloth into the bottle filler, the cases of empty bottles are placed under the valves of the filler, and filled without human hands touching same. All this is done in a bright and airy room of the Creamery building, which is not attached to other buildings or stables. The milk is delivered immediately after filling.

By using this milk your conscience can rest that you are doing your duty to yourself and your family, because you are getting the safest milk available. The health of growing children is not to be trifled with. If you are not using our milk yet, call us up and we will be pleased to have our driver call at your place as well.

ESCAPED IN NIGHT ATTIRE

Our Goodwood correspondent notifies us of the experience of Blake Robinson, formerly of the Goodwood locality, at his home in Saskatchewan. Blake was awakened one night to find his abode in flames and barely escaped in his night attire. He had to make great haste to a neighbor's home some distance in order to escape freezing to death as the thermometer stood at forty below zero. His Goodwood friends will be glad to know he came through all right. Few people here have had the experience of running around in such extreme weather with only a pair of pyjamas and sox on.
