"I Feel Wretched"

THIS is an ordinary experience in many homes in this land. If you feel wretched the chances are that an impeded flow of the vital force through your nerves has been strangled by displaced vertebrae and that Chiropractic adjustments will allow Nature to restore Health.

YORK TEACHERS MEET

There was a full attendance of teachers at the annual meeting of the North York Teachers' Institute convention held in the County buildings, Toronto, last week, all the teachers from Stouffville school being present. In the absence of the president, Miss Jessie McKenna, B. A., the chair was taken by Norman A. Cornell, principal of Newmarket Public School.

Very interesting subjects were discussed at length. Miss Mabel E. Hay, of the Toronto Normal School gave an interesting talk on co-relation of household science with other subjects of the school course. She pointed out how household science could be made to co-relate to a great advantage. Miss Hay also spoke on the value of sewing in schools. This she said was very important, and something that each girl should take a great interest in.

Miss Genevieve Robinson, of Aurora, gave a talk on "How to Secure Speed and Accuracy in the Fundamental Operations in Arithmetic." She stated that addition, multiplication and subtraction should be thoroughly learned and memorized.

W. E. Smith of Ringwood Public School, spoke on how his school succeeded in improving the school grounds, and Misses Hacking and Cairns, assisted by senior teachers, spoke on the difficulties expected and met during the first week of teaching.

WANTS OTHER SIDE

To the Editor of the Tribune,

Dear Sir:

It was a great surprise to me to learn that you didn't have the decency to recognize that there are two sides to a question, and refused to print the advertisements of the Moderation League, respecting the coming plebiscite. It is to be regretted that you acted in this way. But, O. Mr. Editor, shed no tears, for those that uphold do not represent all the community. What's the fuss about anyway?

Why is it that you do not print the liquor ads? Are you and your following afraid to hear the other side of the question. Trying to railroad your arguments down the throats of people, while they are blindfolded by you withholding the information.

Now, Mr. Editor, since coming to Stouffville you have been most fair in your criticisms of town affairs, but keep on the right track.

"Fairplay"

Ladies! Listen! Mothers, wives, sisters and daughters, do not stay away from the poll, because of any false modesty. If those whom you love suffer because of your neglect to do your duty, whom can you blame, but yourselves? Be sure to record your vote for the O.T.A. Stouffville Publicity Committee

28,652 VOTERS IN EAST YORK

The number of voters added to the lists in the electoral district of East York for the forthcoming plebiscite vote shows a surprisingly large percentage of the voters were not on the printed list. The figures are as follows:

	Added	Total
Tp. of Markham	315	3,349
Scarboro Tp.	2,062	9,331
Tp. of East York	1,402	11,806
Tp. of North York	108	1,575
Markham Village	18	661
Richmond Hill	70	854
Stouffville	43	813
Leaside	49	263
Total	4,067	28,652

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Some people imagine that all their complaints, whether just or unjust, should be published in the newspaper, and they always want the editor to stand behind the "write up", when they are not willing to do so themselves. Within the last few days we have received anonymous letters from three parties.

One protests against the post office being closed on Friday afternoons, particularly before 1 o'clock, while a second wants to know why the Tribune refused to give space to the Liberty League for their advertisements. Perhaps from standpoint of British fair play that both sides should be heard, but after we read the arguments of the Liberty Leaguers as printed in those advertisements we realized that the Tribune was the only one to lose on the stand we took.

There is a third short letter received by mail without point or date of mailing, and which we do not know whether it is intended as a solemn warning to us, or to you, dear reader. It reads thus: "There is a big mistake this judging only of people and saying untruthful things, how if this is not stopped there be trouble."

LARGE GATHERING HEARD DR. DUNCAN

The congregation of the Presbyterian church celebrated its anniversary on Sunday last, when Rev. Dr. Duncan of the Publication branch, Toronto, whose brother-in-law, Rev. H. E. Reid, was pastor here about 25 years ago, preached morning and evening. The pastor, Rev. R. Young presided over the services, and in the morning gave a special welcome to the Methodists of the town, whose church is closed for repairs. The Methodist pastor, Rev. G. E. Coulter was also invited to a seat at the sacred desk. The congregation in the morning taxed the normal capacity of the edifice, while in the evening extra chairs were placed in every available bit of space in order that all might be seated.

The music was provided by the united choirs of the Presbyterian and Methodist congregations, and many favorable comments were heard respecting the excellent manner in which they rendered the various anthems. Miss Marshall of Toronto, rendered a solo both morning and evening.

Rev. Dr. Duncan, in his opening remarks at the morning service referred to the affiliation which he felt to the local church. During the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Reid, Dr. Duncan's mother and father were buried in the Stouffville cemetery. His morning sermon was based on the text in Hebrew, 11th chap. and the last two verses.

In the evening he spoke from John 14: 15, "If ye love me keep my commandments." These were the words Jesus spoke to his disciples during his latter days on earth, wherein he requested love and obedience. Both the morning and evening sermons were scholarly discourses, and should have good effect on the large congregations.

CELEBRATED FIFTY YEARS MARRIED

At Which Preserved Fruit for 50 Years, was Served

Some 50 children, relatives and guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. C. Morris on the 9th concession of Whitchurch, on Tuesday, Oct. 7th, to commemorate the golden wedding of this venerable couple. Fifty years ago on this date the well known couple were united in marriage by Rev. J. J. Moore, Baptist pastor, who now resides in Waterloo, Ont. At 8 o'clock in the morning, Miss Jane Ann Stotts, daughter of Wm. L. Stotts, of Markham, was married to Mr. E. J. C. Morris of Altona, at the bride's home, and after a turkey breakfast, drove to Newmarket fair. Henry Stotts and Mary Ann Eby stood up with the happy couple. They settled down on the townline of Uxbridge, and were blessed with 8 children as follows: Mrs. W. E. Barkey, Tilsonburg; Mrs. Wm. Clarkson and Mrs. W. H. Burnett, Stouffville; Mrs. H. J. Jarvis, Unionville; Mrs. Arthur Smith and Mrs. Arthur Storry, Bloomington; Deloss Morris, Tilsonburg, and Carmen Morris, Stouffville.

The guests sat down to heavily laden tables of chicken and other good things, and after the inner man had been well satisfied, Mr. and Mrs. Morris were called upon to the head of the table and presented with an illuminated address, which was read by Mrs. Roy A. Darrow of Tilsonburg, oldest grandchild, and was followed by the presentation of a purse of gold by Mrs. W. E. Barkey of Tilsonburg, the oldest daughter, on behalf of the children.

THE ADDRESS

To Mr. and Mrs. E. J. C. Morris.

"We your children and relatives have gathered together on this your golden wedding anniversary to try and show in some manner the high esteem in which you are held by us. We want to express to you our appreciation for the valuable and untiring efforts you have shown with your material and paternal care and counsel, also for instructing us morally, socially and spiritually in this the long span of 50 years. We hope constantly for your happiness and prosperity, and that you may be long spared to share the affections of your children and numerous relatives and friends in this community, where mutual dependence reigns. You have both shown yourselves unselfish, by giving your talent and finances liberally with us in all departments of life that need co-operation. Therefore on this occasion we take delight in presenting to you this purse as a slight remembrance for your kindness and care which you rendered so heartily. We as children are very grateful and presume it must be gratifying to you, as parents to know that the family circle has not been broken, and we are able to meet with you and enjoy the festivities on this your Golden Wedding anniversary of October 7th, 1924."

The recipients made a very befitting reply, and Rev. D. V. Van Norman of Keswick, followed with a short address, when he dealt particularly with the wonderful hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Morris at all times. A feature of the dinner was the serving of a jar of preserved cherries, 50 years old, which were in a wonderful state of preservation. The house was tastefully decorated with beautiful flowers and a fine wedding cake, decked with candles, occupied the centre of the table. The honored guests received many fine and costly gifts, and Mr. and Mrs. Morris presented the daughters and daughter-in-laws with gold brooches.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Storry celebrated the 10th anniversary of their wedding in conjunction.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barkey and son, Tilsonburg; Mr. and Mrs. I.C. Morris and family, Stouffville; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clarkson and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. SUPPORTS NEWSPAPER'S STAND

Editor of the Tribune

The members of the W. C. T. U. Stouffville feel it their duty as members of that Society and as citizens to thank you for the high stand you have taken to lend the aid of your valuable paper to principles of which you do not approve, and which as a citizen you could not countenance. In these days of commercialism, it is not always easy to throw aside what would no doubt in this case have meant a considerable addition to the right side of your bank account. But we hope the increased respect of your fellow citizens, may in some measure more than compensate.
