THIEF STEALS EMPLOYER'S GOODS

Stealing a diamond ring, a pearl ring, his employer's overcoat valued at $60, a pair of his employer's boots and a small amount of money, a farm laborer in the employ of Richard Cleverdon, 7th concession of Markham, made a successful "get away" on Friday last. The thief was traced to Markham village where it was learned he rode to Toronto on a truck, and it is hoped that the police will shortly locate him, when a just measure of the law will no doubt be handed out. Mrs. Cleverdon and her two daughters were in Toronto at the time, and the hired man, an American, whom Mr. Cleverdon got through the employment bureau in Toronto, feigned sickness, so that Mr. Cleverdon had to take his place at a neighbor's threshing. Being suspicious that the man was not really sick, the main part of the house was locked, and the man left to himself on the kitchen lounge. Getting the opportunity he looked for, an entrance to the main house was made through one of the upper windows. In his search for valuables the thief overlooked a sum of nearly two hundred dollars, and this he evidently sought, knowing that Mr. Cleverdon had cashed quite a large cheque the previous day. The police were immediately notified and are busy on the case.

THE PLOW STILL AN ATTRACTION

The annual event of the East York Plowmen's Association was held on the farm of Cenford Thomson, Malvern, on Friday last. The match was one of the most successful ever held by this, the oldest association of its kind in Ontario.

While the general attendance scarcely equalled that at the North York match, there were more entered for competition. Forty-eight teams were engaged, together with five or six tractors, Stouffville farmers captured an unusually large number of the prizes, which continues to establish the fact that this section is the cradle of good plowmen in Canada.

The Malvern Town Hall, one of the historic old buildings in Scarborough Township, was utilized as a banquet hall, and here the plowmen and visitors were feted. Later a concert, was held at which local and city artists took part.

"Eddie" Timbers, winner of the King Edward prize at the great International Plowing Match in Brampton, was presented with the handsome trophy won on that occasion, and through a delay in transit not received until this date. J. Lockie Wilson made the presentations.

In the fourth class in sod, Lloyd Turner of Stouffville, winner of A. J. H. Eckardt's handsome trophy service was presented with the trophy by Mr. Eckardt himself, while W. H. Paterson of Agincourt, performed the same act for one or two other winners.

METHODISTS HOLD BIG RE-OPENING

The re-opening and anniversary services of Stouffville Methodist church took place last Sunday, when large gatherings came together both morning and evening, and heard inspiring messages delivered by Rev. A. E. Baker of North Eastcourt church, Toronto. The speaker has a convincing manner with an easy delivery, and he was listened to with rapt attention. The choir, augmented by members of the Presbyterian choir, rendered excellent anthems, which added much to the spirit and brightness of the services.

It was the first opportunity the general public had to view the interior of the church since it had gone through the hands of the decorators, who have made a great and decided improvement.

In planning the re-decoration of the church, the decorators took into consideration the deep mellow tones of the ceiling which is composed of various woods. The ceiling architecturally plays an important part in the building, and at once gave the key-note for the colors on the walls.

The walls have been painted a tawny greyish brown, which has the effect of not only harmonizing, but also supporting the richness of the ceiling. A frieze 24 inches in depth designed in the spirit of the best ecclesiastical ornament, pregnant with symbolism in which we find the pomegranate, signifying the fullness of the church, the vine, significant of "I am the vine, ye are the branches," and the cross and the rose symbolical of the sacrifice and love of our Lord.

On the walls between the windows representing the Holy Spirit, the four emblems have been painted, sword and book stand for justice and truth, the crown meaning absolute kingship of God, and the vine signifying "I am the vine."

The architectural lines of the choir loft is dome shaped, but previous to the decorating were rather indefinite. The decorators have given these their proper value by forming panels with styles, the panels being of a soft green shade, the styles separated from the panels by an enriched gold line culminating at the top of the panel into a shield on which the emblem of the Holy Trinity is represented in the form of a triangle. The remaining part of the dome resolves itself into a ceiling which has been treated in a fine antique gold effect.

On the wall space above the arch in the auditorium of the church, is a fine piece of hand painted scroll work, into which has been set an angle on either of the arches with a ribbon inter-mingling the ornament on which has been painted, "Gloria to God in the Highest," adding a richness and interest to an already carefully executed scheme of decoration.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO MRS. SAM STRONG

Mr. Sam Strong, a former resident of Stouffville, whose first wife died less than a year ago, is again bereaved owing to the fatal accident which befel his second wife, to whom he had been married about six months. The Strong's lived on the outskirts of Mount Albert, and Mrs. Strong on Friday last about five o'clock was visiting a neighbor farmer when Mr. Strong's daughter Pearl, drove over to get her step-mother. Coming out the lane Mrs. Strong who was driving could not slow up the horse to turn the corner onto the main road, when the buggy turned completely over. The daughter escaped uninjured, and at first Mrs. Strong seemed to have received only a shaking up, and was assisted home. Within an hour, however she expired suddenly. It is thought that death was due to the bursting of a blood vessel. There are three young children at home, the youngest being eight years old. On Sunday the funeral took place to Stouffville cemetery.

34th Anniversary

In a few days we will have completed thirty-four years of store service in Stouffville. During that time there have been many changes in the methods of business, but none so great as during the past twelve months, for in this time the wholesale business has been completely revolutionized and to-day are really large buying organizations on a brokerage basis for the retailer.

We try to keep abreast of all changes, and in the present, as the past, we have been carefully watching the situation so that as wholesale conditions get on some solid basis we would be prepared to take advantage of the best and so protect our customers' best interest in return for the very pleasing confidence they have placed in us all these years, and which we hope to maintain for the future. We have just linked up with one of the strongest buying organizations in Toronto and will be in a strong position to give you the best that is going, always striving to maintain our usual high quality.

We want to express at this time our most sincere thanks for your long continued confidence and solicit a continuance.

Sincerely,
RATCLIFF & CO.
