Anti-church unionists are spreading their gospel to the small towns, and last week held a meeting in Newmarket, with the object of arousing the Presbyterians against the union. We understand there is a section opposed to the union here in Stouffville, and it is mooted by some that steps will be taken to force a vote in the local church.

Mr. Roy F. Crawford, clerk at Silvester's hardware, is recovering from a nasty accident of Monday last week, when a heavy pain of glass fell on his leg, inflicting a long nasty gash on the front and side of the shin bone. Six stitches were required to close the wound, and for a few days Mr. Crawford was completely knocked out.

The terrific wind on Friday afternoon and evening last was the worst blow this year. Fortunately there was no storm of any kind accompanying it, but as it was roots of old buildings were lifted, and anything that was not well anchored was tossed about. A Star car, belonging to Floyd Brown at Gravel Hill was blown over an embankment and totally demolished. The car was standing alone outside the barn on his mother's farm (Mrs. Hartly Brown) when a heavy gust drove it along some distance and finally over a 50 foot embankment. The same evening the wind ditched a car on the 8th concession of Whitechurch but no serious damage was done, and the occupants escaped unhurt.

The photographer says that one reason some men never have their picture taken: is that they hate to look pleasant for the brief space of time.

Thanksgiving Day was quietly observed in Stouffville, quite a number of old friends spending the day here, while a few were away for the day. The weather was ideal, with a bright sun and quite warm for this season of the year.

Detective Floody of the Provincial police department, was in town last Friday morning, under instructions from the head of his department which stated that a still had been revealed here during the fire at Wm. Davis' place. The officer visited the scene of the former conflagration but could see nothing that warranted him adding any more trouble to that which William had on hand through the loss of his home.

Dalton Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Lewis has just completed his apprenticeship to the machinist trade and is now on the point of receiving his papers as a full fledged machinist. Dalton served his time with Mr. Isaac Barkey at the Stouffville Foundry, under a mechanic who is well known to be thorough and competent in every department of his business. There never was a time in the history of the world when skilled mechanics were so in demand, and man or boy well skilled in his line, is the one worth while.

Last week Mrs. D.A. Galloway and family moved to Niagara Falls, N.Y., where they will be joined by Mr. Galloway who has a position there in a marble and granite works. For several seasons the Galloways had worked the Arthur Yake place in the east end, but with Mr. Galloway in the States it was a big undertaking for Mrs. Galloway to manage so much land. We wish them success in their new home, where opportunities are plentiful for a bright young family. The furniture was shipped by W. E. Morden's truck on Saturday.

To suffer two fires within four months is enough to make a man think he is born to hard luck, but such is the case in the experience of Wm. Bruels of Hamilton, owner of the property just south of the park, Stouffville. William Davis is the tenant and four months ago the barn was burned from unknown cause, while again on Thursday afternoon last the house occupied by Mr. Davis was also burned to the ground. The second fire is supposed to have originated from the coal oil stove, and only part of the furniture was saved. The firemen attempted to render assistance although the property is outside the corporation, but as the distance from a hydrant was great little help could be given. An insurance of $1000 was on the building, and $700 on the furniture. Mr. Bruels will not rebuild this fall.

The annual church services of the Stouffville District Bible Society will take place next Sunday, Nov. 16th. The special speaker will be Rev. S. G. Pinnock of Toronto and he will address three different gatherings. In the morning at 11 o'clock Mr. Pinnock will speak in the church at Bloomington and at 3 p.m. in the Baptist church, 9th line, while the evening mass meeting will be held this year in the Mennonite church, Stouffville, commencing at 7 o'clock. There is probably no organization deserving of more assistance than the Bible Society of Upper Canada. It is one of the most worthy causes of the day. The churches in this district are asked for $1000, an objective which they have reached on previous occasions. Everybody is invited to the Sunday meetings to hear the work of the Society expounded. There will be no collections taken at these services.

Many of our readers who received bulbs from the Horticultural Society for fall planting are enquiring if the same are suitable for pot planting and we give a few pointers for their production: There are different ways of growing flowering bulbs in the house, but perhaps the most convenient method is to grow them in prepared fibre. This material can be procured from almost any florist, and is clean, odorless and inexpensive. It is received in dry condition and looks like moss. A layer of fibre about an inch and a half deep is put into a china or glass bowl, flower pot, or other receptacle (no hole for drainage being necessary), and the bulb placed on this so as not to touch each other. The spaces are then filled with fibre, leaving the tips of the bulb exposed. Do not pack too tightly. The fibre should then be thoroughly watered, the surface water drained off, and the bulbs placed in a dark, cool, well ventilated cellar or room, and left until roots are formed. When they should be brought into the light and a warmer temperature, where they will soon flower. A small green wooden box can be used if desired. Since no holes in the bottom of the receptacle is necessary, as when soil used for potting, a saucer need not be used to catch the surplus water. The fibre should be kept moist, but not wet. The bulbs can be started at any time during the fall or early winter.

If you have an account against the municipal council of Stouffville see that it is rendered before the December meeting, as the town fathers are anxious to leave a clean slate at the end of the year. The practice of sending in accounts a year old is strongly condemned by the council.

On Friday this week sixty head of yearlings and two-year-old cattle will be sold by public auction at the Mansion House, Stouffville, belonging to J. A. Hawtin. Also 20 breeding ewes will be sold. Liberal terms Sale at one.

The old cement chimney on the electric light plant, which had stood the weather for nearly twenty-five years, was demolished by workmen on Monday. It had been erected by the late Joan Boyer and was reinforced with iron.

Mr. and Mrs. George Collard were in Toronto on Tuesday attending the funeral of the late Mrs. A. B. Alexander, widow of the late Rev. John Alexander. The aged lady was 85 years old, and for the past eighteen years had been an annual visitor in Stouffville.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Jos. Borinsky, Queen's Court, on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 19th, at 2.30 o'clock. It will be mother's Day and the program will be given by the older members. Everybody welcome.

The infant son of Mr. Elmer Stickwood, of Newmarket, and former rink manager and store keeper in Stouffville, had two of his fingers mangled in a washing machine on Wednesday last. Dr. Boyd and Dr. Webb were called in and they found it necessary to amputate the child's two fingers above the knuckles.

Plan to be present at the Birthday Supper served by the Garrett Mission Circle in Ratcliff's hall on Friday evening, November 14th, from 6 to 8 p.m. There will be twelve tables, each table to represent a month of the year. Orchestra in attendance, and a short program. Admission, adults 35c, and children 25c.

A Ford car driven by the son of a farmer in Markham Township successfully disputed the right of way with another Ford, belonging to Geo. Valder of Stouffville, who was driving his own car, along the 6th concession of Markham in company with Ernie Stouffer the garage man at the east end. The local men were proceeding south to Unionville, but when they came to the cross road at Cashel, the other Ford with full speed ushered forth from the east steering a straight course toward the west side of the township. As the two gas wagons came together there was a sickening thud and the car from the east which evidently had the greater speed sent George and Ernie hurtling through the air, their car turning two complete nose-end stunts. All went dark and hazy for a few seconds, then Ernie was seen ushering through the windshield, fearful as to the fate of his companion, who during the turnover of the car, had in some way disappeared from behind the steering wheel and was penned in the back seat like a squirrel in a cage. When George got out, he had a mouth full of cushion hair but no serious bruises. The garage man was not quite so fortunate for in his excitement when heading through the wind shield he received a nasty gash on the temple which fortunately did not penetrate deeply. The driver of the other car escaped uninjured and only slight repairs to his car are necessary. Valder's car had greater damage, inflicted after rolling over twice head-first. The battered fiver came home under her own steam, however, and at the garage was found to have sustained a wrecked wind shield, broken lights and crumpled fenders as well as a few other scars of battle that will take longer to repair than it takes Henry Ford to build a new car, which is exactly eight minutes.
