

The Markham High School Board held a special meeting last week and re-engaged all the old staff at the same salaries as last year, viz.: J. S. Bell, headmaster, mathematics, $2,700; Miss Beasley, moderns and history, $1,900; Miss Smythe, science $1,850; Miss Cowan, classics, $1,800. The chairman, Mr. Mason, was of the opinion that teachers' salaries had dropped and suggested that the board advertise for a whole staff of new teachers, but got no support.

WILSON COCKERILL

A quiet, but very enjoyable wedding took place on June 25th, 1925, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Cockerill, near Ballantrae, where their daughter, Hazel, became the wife of Thomas M. Wilson. Both have been living in Toronto, and will make their home there. Rev. E. Morton officiated at the service. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

MACKENZIE'S PRESS CAME TO STOUFFVILLE

Scarcely any of our citizens can remember Thos. Shaw, who was born in Stouffville some 90 years ago, and who left for Toronto when about 20 years of age. W.B. Sanders, A. S. Leane and a few of our other citizens who can delve into the early history of Stouffville with a personal knowledge farther back than the average citizen, might recall the Shaws when they lived opposite Todd's carriage shop.

"Three score years and ten," the Bible says, is the natural allotted span of man's life, and the literal translation has come to be accepted as meaning 70 years' existence on this terrestrial globe. Thomas Shaw, for the past twenty years sheriff's officer at the city hall, Toronto, must be the exception that proves the rule, because in his 70th year he assumed his duties as constable attached to the city hall-courts and has fulfilled his duties in that office during that time with rarely a break.

Mr. Shaw is in his 90th year. On the 8th of May last he celebrated his 89th birthday. And he is halo and hearty. A plentiful supply of white hair still adorns his head and his teeth are not artificial. Erect as a birch rod he stands. He walks with an elastic step.

Born in Stouffville in the stirring days of 1837, Tom Shaw started in to work at the age of ten years as a printer's devil on the identical printing press that was once the property of William Lyon Mackenzie after it was fished from the Toronto bay, where it was thrown by the adherents of the family compact.

How this printing press got to Stouffville is a mystery, but it is known to have stood in a building which is now part of the public school lawn, next to Mrs. Kester's home.

Coming to Toronto at an early age, he worked for many years as a bookkeeper and finally obtained work in the sheriff's office at the city hall, when he was fifty-eight years young. He worked in this department for twelve years before he was placed on court duty in connection with the grand jury, and he has been going strong ever since.

"All my life I've never touched tobacco or liquor. I don't know exactly why" said Mr. Shaw. "I used to sell cigars and cigarettes when I was boy, too, and I think it must have been then that I got turned from touching the stuff. I'm very rarely sick, and I have never had a headache in my life."

VICTORIA SQUARE

The joint Societies of the United Church met in the Victoria Square church on Monday evening, June 22, to bid farewell to our beloved pastor, Rev. H. S. Warren, who is leaving our midst, to take up a new charge at Stouffville. A short program, consisting of a solo by Miss Margaret McCague, duets by Messrs. C. P. Sanderson and J. Frisby, and short addresses to Mr. Warren and family by the superintendent of the Sunday school, Mr. R. F. Boynton and the President of the League, Miss Ethel Mortson. At the close, the address given in part below, was read by Louis L. Nichols which was replied to by Mr. Warren in a few chosen words.

To Rev. H. S. Warren,

We, the members and friends of Victoria Square United Church of Canada are met in this social gathering to drop a word of appreciation of the whole-hearted service you have rendered our church in all its departments, our community in its social activities, and our homes with their pleasures, their sorrows and their disappointments.

Three short years ago you came into our midst a stranger to most of us; today you are well and favorably known as a spirit filled teacher of the Living Message, a loving counsellor, a kind and sympathetic friend to all. Week after week you have diligently proclaimed the eternal truths of God; you have constantly exhorted each of us to live in closer fellowship with the Great Teacher; you have admonished the sinner to depart from his sins and turn to Jesus Christ.

Many will remember the three years of your pastorate as the pivot point of their spiritual life.

In our Sunday School and League you have encouraged us and cheered us by your kindly words of appreciation, when our prolixities were many, your admonition and counsel lightened our load and stirred us to renewed energy. Your bright talks and apt illustrations to the young have left an impress that shall ever live, also we have been blest by your visits to our homes.

Our young people whom you have so royally entertained at the parsonage will ever have fond remembrances of their associations in your home with Mrs. Warren and your family. We shall feel quite keenly the loss of each member of your home.

Now dear brother, these words of appreciation are but poor pay for the excellent services you have rendered us. Knowing our inability to recompense you in a more tangible way, we believe that He who does all things well, will give thee rich reward.

Signed on behalf of Joint Societies of the Church: Ralph Boynton, Ethel L. Mortson, Hannah Hopper, W. F. Nichols.
