SPEEDING THE PLOW

Commenting on the plowing matches which were held in Stouffville and other places throughout the Province recently the Ontario farmer believes that a distinctly progressive step has been taken this year by the addition of a "speed plowing" or "utility plowing" class to the list of events at the International Plowing match program. It establishes a precedent that could be very well followed at all plowing matches held throughout the province. The addition was made because of criticisms in past years from farmers who could not see the value of an exhibition of purely fancy plowing on which contestants spent double the time or more than could be given to it in actual farm practice. While straight exhibition work should not be eliminated there does seem to be much justification for the criticism of not having any utility classes whatever. It might be that the Ontario Plowmen's Association might go a step further than they did this year, and establish utility classes (or speed plowing contests) in both sod and stubble.

MORE DEMAND FOR P.O. CLOCK

The Board of Trade at their meeting on Monday evening followed up the action of the Municipal Council in their request for a clock tower and clock on the new post office by sending a resolution to Ottawa setting out the needs for such a change in the plans on the building now under construction here. Clocks have been installed in small towns in the recent P.O. buildings erected where all ready a public clock served the people, but in Stouffville we have no such convenience. In the absence of a Federal government the presentation will be made to the Post Office Department or the Dept. of Public Works who will no doubt send it on when a new cabinet is formed after Dec. 10th.

The meeting instructed that the park grounds which are now free of debt be formally presented to the town at the next council meeting, and a committee was formed to carry out this arrangement. Treasurer, F. W. Marshall presented a financial statement showing the standing of the Memorial Park fund collected last summer which is as follows:

Subscriptions paid in	$1072 00
Expenditures
Swings, teeters, rustic bridges, painting and other park improvements	$288 41
Mortgage on park paid off	623 15
Advances re taxes and interest repaid	50 00
Sundry expenses	28 73
	$990 29
Balance on hand	$1 71

There are a number of subscriptions still unpaid and the Committee would appreciate it if the subscribers would kindly turn these amounts in either to Mr. F. Marshall, the treasurer of the fund; Mr. H. W. Sanders or Mr. N. M. MacLean, collectors.

ONTARIO TOURISTS LEFT 40,000,000

Stouffville's summer tourist camp has completed its first season's operation, but unfortunately the record of tourists stopping here were never recorded. Next summer let us have a register, so that we may know whether the venture is really worth while. We think it is, and we know that the camp was patronized.

It is conservatively estimated that an addition of $40,000,000 has been spent in Ontario by tourists from outside the Province. This new found money goes into every possible channel, from food products to costly souvenirs. Switzerland, Florida and California are outstanding examples of how tourist traffic affects development. Ontario's revenue has been the result of an open door policy and advertising by railway companies, and district organizations. It can easily be imagined that a province-wide movement to sell Ontario to particularly our wealthy neighbors to the south of us will have the effect of increasing this amount considerably. Through provincial organizations in Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and British Columbia remarkable results in the development of tourist traffic have been achieved. During the past year The Tourist Association of Ontario has been formed and at the first annual meeting to be held in Toronto on Nov. 27th, definite action will be taken to advertise the holidaying possibilities of the province.

IN MERRY ENGLAND

Mr. W. E. Sanders and his son, Councillor H. W. Sanders have just returned from a wonderful trip through England and the former writes at the request of The Tribune a most interesting account of their travels as follows:

"We left Montreal on Sept. 19th aboard the steamer Antonia. It was something of a revelation to travel the length of the great St. Lawrence which is 900 miles long, before reaching the Atlantic. Prior to reaching the Labrador coast and the shores of Newfoundland on our journey from Montreal to Plymouth a total distance of 2640 miles. This great boat we travelled on is 560 feet long and has a displacement of 14,000 tons. She is equipped with twenty-four boilers and two immense drive shafts 180 feet long, and also has two propellers. Her crew numbers 264.

We arrived in Plymouth on Sept. 25th and at once visited my cousin where we spent three days. Plymouth is a city of about 700,000. We visited The Hoe, which is 300 feet above the sea level, and at the top are beautiful bowling greens, and tennis courts, and play grounds. We were privileged to bowl on the identical green where Admiral Drake bowled 337 years ago, and where he stood when word came to him that the Spanish Armada was sighted, which he met a few hours later. A monument stands near by to commemorate the event. The view from here is grand, commanding a wonderful panoramic scene of the ocean and harbor. Later we visited Devonport where we saw the Atlantic fleet and men of war. It was a fine spectacle to see these great ships and the men who man them.

Leaving Plymouth for North Devon on Sept. 30th we visited the following towns and villages:

Barnstaple, Exeter, Bickington, Fremington, Parkham, Cabacott, Clovelly, Ilfracombe, Westward Ho, Appledore, Instow, Bideford, Torrington, Lynnmouth, Linton, Bucks Mills, these are in North Devon. We met a cousin at Barnstaple, two others at Bickington, two at Fremington, and four at Cabecott, and two at Torrington, all in Devon. They are all younger than I am.

Parkham town is my birth place, where I recalled youthful days. We saw the place of my birth, and the school play grounds where I played, also the tower that I used to ring the second bell in. There are 6 bells in the tower. We went up to where the bells are and showed my son the second bell I used to ring. From the top of the tower you could see for miles around the green fields and hedges and what a fine sight. This tower and church is over 1000 years old.

Barnstaple's population is 30,000 it has a great market. Devonshire cream for sale at every stall in large bowls of which there were about 200. We never saw such quantity of cream in our lives. These bowls hold half a pail each. Barnstaple is noted place for cream. It is situated on the river where the tide from the Ocean flows in and out. At low tide no river, at high tide 20 feet deep. The town of Bideford is situated by the river Taw about 6 miles from the Ocean where the tide also flows as described above. The bridge across this river is some half mile long. The town is on each side of river. Westward Ho is about 6 miles; it's a great summer resort on the Ocean, and a beautiful place. Ilfracombe is also beautifully situated on the Ocean on the Bristol Channel and is another summer resort, as also Lynon and Lynnmouth. Clovelly is a fishing town and summer resort. To get to the lower end of the town to the Ocean you have to descend 500 stone steps. There is no drive down, but one can hire donkeys to carry you either way. These stone steps are more than 1000 years old. We left Clovelly and hired two fishermen to take us to Bucks Mills on the Ocean. These men rowed us over the four miles for 5 shillings. Bucksinil is a small fishing place and we hired a taxicab and drove us to Parkham town, my birthplace, which I have described. The country districts have not changed. They are the same as when I was a boy, but the cities have changed a great deal.

In Fremington village is a beautiful mansion owned by Lady Baird. The surroundings are wonderful. She allowed us to go through it and we saw all the prizes she won at the Cowes yacht races, she won 13 first prizes and 19 seconds. One first prize was given her by the King of Spain. She sails in all races herself and she has a fine crew to sail her yacht.

THE BECK MEMORIAL

Endowment for Queen Alexandra Sanatorium

Queen Alexandra Sanatorium located at London, Ont., had its inception through the illness of Sir Adam Beck's little daughter, and took first place in the sentiment of the busy Hydro Knight. It now consists of buildings as follows: 1 The original building; 2 The reception hospital; 3 The infirmary; 4 Children's prevention; 5 Vocational training and recreation hall; 6 The nurses home.

This magnificent institution, now worth a million dollars, has during the last 15 years expanded its efforts in the care of the tuberculous to such extent that it is now receiving patients from every part of old and new Ontario. The D.S.C.R. is authority for the statement that this institution has treated more gassed and tuberculous soldiers than any other sanatorium in Canada. Every third patient treated, and all their numbers are now nearly 4000, has been a victim of poverty as well as disease. No one is refused admittance because of inability to pay. The resulting losses, averaging about $25,000 a year, are to be cared for by interest from a fund now being raised in Ontario as a memorial to Sir Adam Beck.

Col. McCrae's "In Flanders Fields" voiced the soul of the dying Canadian soldier in these words, "To you from falling hands I throw the torch. Be yours to hold it high."

Sir Adam Beck on his deathbed said to some friends more prosaically but equally touchingly, "To the people of Ontario I entrust these poor sufferers from tuberculosis, who in their affliction turn to Queen Alexandra Sanatorium. God forbid that their poverty shall ever bar the door. My course is ending. Carry on!"

In Stouffville Councillor H. W. Sanders, who is chairman of the local hydro committee, requests our people to examine the literature they are receiving, and to treat the fund as liberally as possible. Hydro has done a great deal for Stouffville which we all appreciate, but aside from this the object of the memorable is most worthy.
