ONE spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings astonishing relief to the stomach stops that full, bloated feeling. Brings out old, waste matter you never thought was in your system. THE DIVISION COURT KILLED BY A TRUCK

The Division Court held in Stouffville on Monday of this week and presided over by Judge McConnell, discovered a man who by his evidence showed that he did not know that a promissory note was negotiable.

W. H. Todd was the plaintiff and Eliza J. Longfield, Howard Longfield and J. Tindall, the defendants. Tindall gave Longfield a note for the amount of the claim $77.40, which note Longfield subsequently turned over to Todd as part payment on a cutter. At maturity Tindall refused payment on the ground that he did not know Todd and never bought a cutter, nor did he give him the note, but he admitted his signature to the note as given to Longfield. His Honor explained that Tindall had given the note to Longfield for value received, and in turn Longfield transferred it to Todd for value received, but Mr. Tindall couldn't follow the connection with Mr. Todd, and refused to pay. Judgment for plaintiff for full amount.

A rather important decision was given in the case of Wilfred Lunau of Locust Hill vs. John Reid of Unionville, on a claim of $60 damages which were allowed in full against Reid. Lunau employed Reid who operates a threshing outfit to thresh his grain and fill the silo. Before the corn was cut the engine broke and the corn never got cut. Lunau's claim for damages was to be amount of feed he bought to replace the corn. Reid had a counter-claim for $40.20 which was also allowed, so that he will be out about $20 on his court experience.

The John Deere Plough Co. and Herman Jones contested a case brought to establish the balance of account due the company by Jones. Herman was agent for the company for some years, and also a buyer of their implements, having several open accounts with them. F. L. Button stated that no satisfactory settlement could be arrived at and this action was brought to clarify matters.

His Honor wasn't in the mode to solve accounts and payment which he held the lawyers should have done before they brought the case before him, and he reprimanded one of the legal fraternity from Toronto for the apparent dilatory or hazy manner his case was prepared. At another point a second Toronto pleader was ordered to keep his feet on the floor and not one leg over the back of the chair. This is court etiquette, we suppose.

SUCCUMBED TO TWO YEARS OF SICKNESS

As a result of an illness extending over a couple of years, during which time she was never able to leave the farm, death removed Mrs. Geo. Batt from her earthly troubles on Tuesday, February 23rd, at the late home, lot 21, concession 9, Markham, in her 63rd year. As a result of her passing away and that of a neighbor Mrs. W. P. Johnson, within a few hours of each other, the neighborhood has been plunged into mourning. Seldom does the hand of death lay hold on two farmer neighbors at the same time as in this case.

Mrs. George Batt was a daughter of Mr. H. S. Ruby of Midland, but had lived in Markham Township about 22 years, after a sojourn near Sutton of 15 years. Thirty-seven years ago she was united in marriage to the late Geo. Batt who died twelve years ago, since which time the farm has been managed by members of the family. Being a mother of kindly instinct and christian character she was revered and respected by all who knew her. Her eldest son of a family of seven enlisted in the Great War and died overseas in 1918. Surviving are six children as follows: Hector and Albert at home, Vivian of Bridgeburg, Ont., Miss Georgina at home, Mrs. Hugh Boyd of Markham village, and Mrs. H. Stone of Buffalo, Alta.

The funeral on Friday took place to Elmwood cemetery, Markham, following a very impressive service at the late home, conducted by the Rev. C. B. Jeffrey of Markham United Church.

"WANTED"

If you have for Sale POULTRY, CALVES, HOGS OR SHEEP (dressed) ship to or communicate with

JOHN H. WICKSON, St. Lawrence Market, Toronto Telephone Main 2967.

George Rodantz, son of Mr. Richard Rodantz, who lives to the south of Goodwood, got into serious trouble in Toronto on Wednesday of last week, when at the corner of York and Wellington streets with his truck he collided with Philip Lott, aged 70 years, who died in St. Michael's hospital that same evening without regaining consciousness. At the time of the accident George Rodantz was engaged in hauling coal about the city for a Toronto dealer.

After an investigation conducted by Detective Savage and Sullivan, the driver was taken into custody on a charge of manslaughter. Bail was fixed at $5,000, which was supplied by the young man's employer, Geo. is 18 years of age.

Lott's death was due to internal injuries and shock. According to the police, the old man had been on an errand on Front street, and was crossing the intersection, to get a street car at York and Wellington streets, when the truck, westbound on Wellington street, and in the act of turning south on York street, struck him. One of the front wheels ran over his chest, inflicting injuries from which he failed to recover.

The body lay in the Morgue for a considerable time before it was identified by a grandson, Fred Moran, 36 Shaftesbury Avenue.

George appeared in court on Tuesday this week, but the Crown appeared to be unable to gather evidence against him, and the case was adjourned until Mar. 8. He was remanded one week, bail being renewed. It is said the aged man stepped off the curb, without looking, but it is regretted that the unfortunate affair occurred. All drivers of cars are liable to accident and must be ever on the alert on city streets.

The marriage was performed at the Baptist parsonage here on Tuesday evening by the Rev. W. W. Fleischer, of Miss Alice E. Stonehouse of Markham, and Mr. Wm. F. Boyd son of Mr. Alex. Boyd of Markham. The couple left for western Canada, where Mr. Boyd has been engaged for some time.

On Monday evening of this week about thirty-five of the relatives and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. W. Klinck of O'Brien Avenue, gave a surprise party in honor of the latter, at their home, on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary. A most pleasant and interesting evening was spent; old and young alike contributing generously to the enjoyment of all present, through reminiscences, anecdotes, songs and recitations. An impersonation of the bride and groom of fifty years ago by Miss Phyllis Klinck and Master Bruce Clark, and of the happy couple fifty years later by Miss Agnes Klinck and Master Bruce Rowbottom, gave to the occasion a distinctly nuptial flavor. Many warm congratulations were tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Klinck, coupled with the wish that they might be spared in good health to enjoy the event of June next when all the family from far and near plan to be present.

A NEW LINE OF BUSINESS FOR MARKHAM

Messrs. D. N. Reesor & Sons of Markham, have installed a Feed Mixing plant, having a capacity of 75 tons per day, to take care of the increasing demand for their O. K. Poultry Feeds, which are proving very satisfactory with the local poultrymen.

This is a new venture for this district, and should prove very convenient for the farmer or stockman who require a feed ration properly mixed to their own formula.

A WHITCHURCH PIONEER

One of Whitchurch's oldest residents passed away at Vivian on Feb'y 18th, 1926, in the person of Mary E. Pipher, in her 81st year. She came with her parents from Northumberland, England, at the age of three years, to the old homestead where she lived continuously till her death. The deceased was married twice. Her maiden name was Readhead, and at the age of twenty-five she was married to Isaac Cook. Their life together was a brief one, as Mr. Cook died shortly after their marriage. She remained a widow for several years, then was united in marriage with Ford Pipher. Three children are left to mourn her loss, namely: Sarah of Toronto, Isaac Cook of Ringwood, and Charlie Pipher, living on the old homestead at Vivian.
