We disposed of three new Dodge cars last week, but were unable to make delivery in but two cases owing to the tremendous demand which is greater than the output. We hope to make delivery for all sales this week. Turner & Stouffer.

Owing to the extreme cold over last week end, we are unable to make the announcement, "sap's running". Local farmers who do a little sugar bush work stated on Monday that the weather is still too cold, but there might be a decided change before the week end.

There are new regulations just issued from Ottawa governing the sale of maple syrup this spring. The name of the article must appear on the outside of the container with the address of the firm or farmer assuming the responsibility for the packing, also the net weight of the contents must appear thereon.

After disposing of his household effects and property here last fall and leaving Stouffville, Mr. Jacob Yake returned on Wednesday of last week, and has established himself in the rooms over Button's hardware store. During his sojourn abroad Mr. Yake spent some time in Sarnia, later moving to Toronto, but in both places he found real estate business very sluggish. He will now settle down to help in making Stouffville hum along this line.

This spring as in the past, the hens will hand out their customary collection of freak eggs, and last week Mr. Henry McMullen came along with the first contribution from his pen of fancy Rocks with a freak of unusual design. It consists of a normal egg, with an addition to the south end somewhat resembling a root of garden carrot or parsnip. It would seem as though "biddie" might have laid a double jointed egg, has she taken a little longer time, and such a freak we have not yet seen. This egg may be seen at the Tribune office.

The threatened legal action over the sale of wood lot at Wm. Ratcliff's recent sale on the 6th of Whitchurch has been agreeably settled between Messrs. F. Steckley and Sid. Schmidt. Both men claimed to have purchased lot No. 3 and Mr. Schmidt cut all the wood on it before Mr. Steckley came along to do the same act, thus the dispute arose.

The Stouffville bus service is getting into something like a regular stride this week. Now that the roads are opened, it travels by way of the 6th concession, joining the Markham bus at Unionville. Timetable may be had at the Tribune office, showing special Sunday car service, etc.

A car load of potatoes were shipped from Goodwood station on Tuesday, for which the farmers received $2.75 per bag. The final car load picked up at Ballantrae netted the farmers $2.40, and it is stated that practically all the potatoes for consumption in this way, have been shipped from this territory, although there might be a few still retained in the Goodwood locality.

On Monday the trucks running between Stouffville and Toronto were able to travel out the townline to the 6th concession and south to Unionville, for the first time in weeks, owing to the snow blockade on this road. They have been going down the 8th concession to Markham village in the meantime, and this road is in a terrible condition owing to the mud.

The extensive sale of cattle and hogs advertised to take place on Saturday last, on the farm of Eli Mairs at Gormley did not attract more than fifteen or twenty people, and was therefore cancelled. Mr. Mairs must dispose of his stock as he is decreasing his acreage and will advertise another sale for Tuesday, April 13th. This is a genuine auction, and should bring out plenty of buyers.

Too many of the parents in Stouffville expect Constable Harry Perry to do all the policing in the town. Why not the parents do a share of this work themselves, by knowing exactly where their own boy or girl is after nightfall? Only a few nights ago a crowd of young fellows disturbed the meeting in the menonite church, and some parents would be shocked if they knew their sons were in the party. Since that time the constable broke up a game of "crap" being carried on one evening in which a couple of girls participated. If parents were doing their duty neither the constable or the newspaper would be called into play in order to combat this sort of thing in Stouffville. The boys in this town are as good as those to be found anywhere in Canada, and if they go wrong the onus is on the grown-ups.

Mrs. James Hamilton, hale and hearty, celebrated her 86th birthday at her home on Victoria street, Stouffville, on Tuesday of this week. On Saturday Mrs. Hamilton, in anticipation of a goodly number of visitors or relatives, turned out a large batch of bread, and has always performed all her own household duties. To mark the singular event she received many old friends who witnessed the sight of four generations being present, being Mrs. James Turner, a daughter of Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Harold Wright a grand daughter who was present with her baby, being a great granddaughter. Mrs. Hamilton was born at lot 33, concession 8, Pickering, on the farm now owned by Mr. T. Williamson of Stouffville. She was a daughter of the late Jacob Hisey, and has been a widow 12 years. May you long continue to enjoy your present favored position in life Mrs. Hamilton.

The Tribune is delayed this week owing to the hydro power being off nearly all day Wednesday. It proved to be the worst ice storm in years. Stouffville, Markham and part of Toronto were minus electric energy. In the south and west end of Toronto poles were snapped off like fire wood, and on the 9th of Markham poles of the local Telephone Co. were down on long stretches, while 26 poles were snapped on the tenth belonging to the Bell Co.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rae of this town are one of those rarely fortunate couples who have spent 56 years of married life, and both are enjoying reasonably good health with prospects of adding more years to the unusual record they have attained. On Wednesday, March 31st, 56 years ago this couple, then in their youth, slipped quietly to Toronto where they were joined in the bonds of matrimony which was to be the beginning of a long and happy wedded life. They settled on the farm north east of Stouffville, but later came to town, where Mr. Rae became the longest established business man in Stouffville. Their family now consists of three daughters and one son, two sons having predeceased them.

As the first Council of Stouffville assembled in January 1877, it was determined at the Board of Trade meeting on Monday evening to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of incorporation in July, 1927.

A letter was read to the members from Councillor F. W. Mertens of Weston, an old boy, stating they had started to gather names in anticipation of this event, and requesting something definite in regard to the date. It is anticipated that a three or four day old home week be held next year, for which the foundation work will be started this summer.

Mr. George Lawson reported on the progress of the shed committee and was instructed to have a suitable agreement drafted to be presented and signed by Mrs. Miller et al for the land required, after which an estimated cost will be secured before the farmers and citizens generally will be asked to consider the matter.

Dr. Ira Freel sponsored a resolution calling upon the council to interview the Road Commissioners with a view to having snow fences erected next fall along the town line west of Stouffville. While other roads had been kept open this one was allowed to block up and interfere with business coming to this town.
