If you stop feeding O.K. Laying Mash during the summer months because you figure that your hens are going to moult and stop laying, you will be making a big mistake. Remember, Hens don't eat O.K. Mash because they lay—they lay because they eat O.K. Mash.

To get this extra profit this year, feed your hens all through the summer on O.K. LAYING MASH

This will postpone the molt, and keep them laying until September or October, when they will then go into the molt and be ready for all winter work.

The Canadian National Exhibition is claiming the usual big representation from Stouffville district as in past years. Many farmers, nevertheless are finding it hard to get time to be away owing to the harvest dragging on so late.

Mr. Chris Raymer, opposite the Presbyterian church, has a pullet laying which is five months old, being hatched last March. He also has in his garden a geranium with a leaf measuring 35 inches in circumference.

In addition to the prize secured by Mr. Ward on "glads" at Toronto, reported in our last issue, he also won first and third on poultry, two firsts on turnips of the white and yellow variety, and fourth on cucumbers. These are worthy wins at so important a fair.

Crazy aeroplane flights, wild ambulance chases, a misplaced wedding, an animal circus running everybody ragged, a mad auto race with the car in flames—are just a hint of the drama and unalloyed merriment in this rollicking picture, to be seen at the Auditorium Theatre, Thursday and Friday, 9th and 10th.

The first spring chickens to arrive on this market, came in, and the raiser was awarded at the rate of 32c. per pound. Old hens were quoted at 25c.

Mr. A. C. Burkholder has on exhibition at the front of his beautiful residence, a large castor bean measuring seven feet and four inches high. This outdistances the one mentioned in these columns a couple of weeks ago. Anyone doubting the veracity of this statement is at liberty to tip-toe across A.C.'s lawn after sundown and make their own measurement.

Janet Button, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Button, who tried the entrance examinations at Stouffville last June, just received notice a few days ago, that she had been successful in passing these examinations. As Janet only fell a few marks short her papers were re-read, with the result that the department find she is entitled to a pass.

The first instalment of town taxes which became due on Sept. first, amounting to $8,750 in round figures, was largely overpaid. While a few ratepayers did not respond at all, so many others paid their second instalment with the first, that the total taxes for 1926 of $17,429 was two-thirds paid. Those who paid their second instalment due in Dec. with the first instalment just past due, received a discount at the rate of 8% per annum on the second half. That's a good inducement to make one "dig" hard to clean up this inevitable bill.

Mr. T. W. Eagleson, teacher of piano, wishes to announce that he has taken over Miss A. Lehman's studio and class. Mr. Eagleson is a pupil of Mr. W. F. Mrs. Jewett, mother of Mrs. Alex. W. Scott of this town, died at Kinmount on Sunday, Sept. 6th, following a stroke suffered a few weeks ago. Mrs. Scott was summoned from here on Saturday, and reached the bedside of her mother before the great call came. The late Mrs. Jewett was born in Peterboro County, and was married in New York where her two sons and two daughters who survive her were born. Her husband was of American birth, and served in the Civil War, but he died 15 years ago. Mrs. Jewett, although nearing her 77th birthday, was exceptionally bright and capable. She was a sincere christian, a beloved mother, and bore a loving, kind disposition. Mrs. Scott, with whom she lived much of the time until she went to Kinmount on a visit this summer, has the sympathy of her many friends here. The funeral took place on Tuesday, interment being in Toronto.

Mr. A. W. Scott is still at Caron, Sask., owing to the illness of his mother, who is still lingering in the Moose Jaw hospital, since the accident in which she suffered the loss of a foot.
