LIBERALS GAIN IN TUESDAY'S ELECTION

With the Dominion election returns far from complete up to a late hour today, the general results showed a marked falling off in the support of the Conservative cause in Ontario, New Brunswick and Manitoba, and that, coupled with the fact that the Province of Quebec remained as solidly Liberal as ever, put the Liberal returns far ahead of the Conservatives. While 13 seats were still doubtful, the Liberals were conceded 112 seats to the Conservatives '87, while 28 other seats were won by the Liberals' varied allies in the West.

The most marked weakening in Conservative support came from the Province of Ontario, which returned 68 Conservative members, in the fall of 1925. With four Ontario seats still doubtful, the Liberals showed a gain of 11, while the Progressives had a gain of four. Toronto and Hamilton were the only large cities to remain solidly Conservative. The standing at the time of going to press, so far as Ontario was concerned, showed 51 Conservatives, 28 Liberals, two Progressives and two Liberal-Progressives, with four seats still in doubt.

In the list of Liberal gains in Ontario, East Algoma was lost to Hon. Beniah Bowman by G. B. Nicholson; T. S. Davidson, the Liberal-Progressive, won Brant; West Elgin, the two Ottawa, North Perth, Stormont, South Oxford, North Grey, Kent, Norfolk-Elgin and North Timiskaming went Liberal, while East Lambton was won by the Progressives.

Miss Agnes MacPhail, the Progressive, held South-East Grey. Hon. E. C. Drury, Liberal, was defeated in North Simcoe.

Premier Meighen was defeated in Portage la Prairie by E. A. McPherson, Liberal. Mr. McPherson is a former law partner of Mr. Meighen.

Dr. Kaiser was re-elected in Ontario by a large majority over W. H. Moore, Liberal.

In Tuesday's poll Dr. McGibbon was re-elected in Muskoka-Ontario, but the majority is still in doubt. Goodwood gave the doctor a majority of twelve, and Glasgow gave Johnson, Liberal 6.

DISTRICT and GENERAL

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Cowperthwaite, whose death took place suddenly at the family residence Markham Tp. was held Tuesday of last week to Ebenezer cemetery. The deceased lady had retired in her usual health, but shortly after was seized with a sudden attack of heart failure, and passed away within a few moments. She is survived besides her husband by five sons, Robert of Fort Qu'Appelle; John of Scarborough; Leslie of Markham; Russel of Mongolia, and Carlton, at home. One son was killed at Vimy Ridge. The daughters are Mrs. Gordon Odgen and Mrs. Fred Stiver, Unionville; Mrs. Sellers, Cashel, and Mrs. H. Thompson of Pickering Township. The late Mrs. Cowperthwaite was born in Cumberland, England, but had always lived in the immediate vicinity of Hagerman.

Midland Argus—"A smart cheque cashing trick was performed in town one day last week when a lady announcing herself to be a tourist from up the lakes, entered the Craighead garage while everyone was out with the exception of one of the young employees, and complained that two men had been following her about. She was anxious to know whether they were local men or not and requested the lad to take a walk across the street and see if he could recognize them, while she remained in the garage. Unsuspectingly the lad complied with the request and during his absence of a few minutes the lady approached the cash register, but as a man was sitting in a car outside she decided not to tamper with the till, but she immediately resorted to another scheme and when the boy returned with the information that he did not recognize the men she unfolded the story to him that she was a tourist from up the lakes on her way home and producing a cheque on a city bank asked the lad if he could cash it for her. The story apparently appeared such a plausible one to the young man that he complied with the request and going to the till handed out $20. The lady departed and has not been seen nor heard of since, save that she attempted the same game at an Elmvale garage, where the request was turned down, but later she secured $15 from the creamery office."

On Saturday, Mr. W. H. Shaw, accompanied by his mother, left for Mason, Michigan, following the receipt of a telegram announcing the sudden death of Mr. Shaw's brother-in-law, Dr. Baker. Just four weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Shaw spent several days at Dr. Baker's when he was apparently in the best of health.

Although he lives not far away, Nelson Graham of Mount Albert, doesn't often visit this neighborhood where he resided eighteen years ago, when he occupied the farm on which Mr. George Winn lives up the 10th concession. Mr. Graham with a party of friends was in town on Saturday last, and remarked to The Tribune on the vast change in the crowd seen here on a Saturday night as compared to his farming days here. "When I left here, said Mr. Graham, there wasn't an automobile to be seen in Stouffville on a busy night, and now they are more plentiful than horse drawn vehicles ever were."

LENNOX WINS IN NORTH YORK AGAIN

North York was true to its traditional instincts during the Dominion election campaign, for being able to stage one of the biggest fights in all Canada Col. T. H. Lennox sustained the seat again for the Conservatives, in Tuesday's contest against his opponent, Mr. Harry Sifton, who experienced his first political campaign.

At time of going to press the Tory majority is unobtainable, but at the headquarters of the Liberal Committee for the riding it is conceded to be between 350 or 400. The Conservatives anticipate about 800.

Stouffville rolled up a Liberal majority of 270, or six more than they gave Mackenzie King in 1925. The big counter to this, the biggest Liberal majority in the riding, was the Conservative majority at Aurora which gave Lennox 237. Newmarket was expected to do better for the Liberals than it did, returning only 19 majority for Mr. Sifton.

Markham Township made a decided change from last October when they sustained Lennox fairly well, by turning over to the Grit column with some big majorities. Dixon's Hill gave Sifton 111 majority. Unionville was the best Tory spot giving 47 of a majority.

In the White Rose section of Whitechurch, which includes Wilcox Lake, Lennox got a majority of 138. There were 171 people voted in the division who have summer homes there.

Owing to the inability to get figures from many parts of the riding on Wednesday, we give below these that are obtainable, and they represent majorities only.
