All for the Sake of a Rabbit or Fox

If the farmers of Whitchurch and Uxbridge Townships should see bands of red coated men on horseback racing through the country, crossing fields, and jumping fences, as if making a battle charge, they should not become alarmed. These men (and ladies too) will be found to be merely chasing a poor little rabbit or a wily fox. A hunt last week carried the sportsmen from Aurora to Musselman's Lake, and near Uxbridge town.

The Aurora fox hound pack of the Toronto Hunt had what probably has been the longest run in the history of the Toronto Hunt. They met at Beverley farms, south of Aurora, at 2:30. Hounds were taken to draw the woods off Mr. Botham's farm running between the second and third concessions, East Whitchurch. They found a fox which carried them east and south to the third concession, which was crossed on the La Salle College side line; thence northerly over Wilton's, Bornwell's, Evans', Bell's, Billing's, Robinson's and Mitchell's farms, where he was lost. This was a run of about five and a half miles over beautiful, rolling country and good, stiff fences. Hounds were then taken through Vaudorf to Ballantrae, where they were put into marshy lands not far from Musselman's Lake. They quickly found and away they went northerly, crossing the fifth concession in an easterly direction, on to the sixth and seventh, where they flung left-handed and crossed marsh. There was no way of getting to hounds except by jumping over to the railway right of way and as this is guarded by a Page wire fence it needed some pluck to assay it, but a rail was laid up against it and the huntsman put his horse at it and he was followed by about a dozen or so. Those who did not care for this kind of jumping returned on their tracks, where they met some of the tail-end hounds who had put up another fox, so that the hunt was divided into two, but the original fox carried the intrepid dozen or so into Uxbridge township, where he was lost within four miles of Uxbridge town, some eighteen miles from Beverley, so the windings of the fox and the return journey made it easily 40 to 45 miles. Hounds did not get back to the kennels until ten o'clock at night, but alvoted it was the grandest day's sport they ever had.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Next week at the Auditorium Theatre "Stella Maris" also "Buster Brown's Nightmare."

Lost—A pair of grass-clippers on the Townline south. Finder kindly leave the same at Tribune office. A suitable reward will be given.

W. J. Mather purchased one of the new model McLaughlin light six sedans this week, and disposed of his touring car.

The U.F.W.O. will meet on Tuesday, Oct. 19th, at the home of Mrs. J. R. McKenzie, Ringwood. Meeting opens at 2:30 p.m.

Mr. J. H. Ratcliff who arrived home from Barrie, where he was confined several days in the Royal Victoria Hospital, following a motor accident, is recovering nicely, and hopes to be about shortly. He is able to be about for a short time daily.

The townline between Stouffville and Ringwood is permanently closed until after the new road being built there, is completed. With favorable weather it will require two weeks. This will seriously interfere with people getting to the plowing match on the Ross Ratcliff and Dent Law farms, on Oct. 26th, unless some arrangement can be made for that day.

District and General

Aurora Town Council have just struck this year's tax rate at 40 mills on the dollar.

Commencing last Saturday all business places in Sutton close Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

One of the oldest residents of Sutton West, in the person of James Bailey, aged 77 years died last week.

Knox church is to have a "chicken pie" supper on the evening of the 20th, in Sutton West.

Potatoes sold on Alliston market on Oct. 7th at only 80c. bag, dropping from $1.50 earlier in the season.

Vaughan Township Council purchased a tractor last week for use on its roadways. The outfit, a 24-45 Case tractor cost the municipality $3525.

East Gwillimbury Township has a suit for $2,500 on its hands as the result of the paving detour between Queensville and Keswick where the car of J. A. Lamb was ditched in turning out to pass another car.

In order to make their escape a party of chicken thieves on the farm of James Devins in Vaughan Township, had to use on foot, and forfeit their automobile which was parked on the roadside. The police expect to round up the gang.

Sometime between midnight and daylight on Saturday Zimmer's Garage at Agincourt, was broken into and a large quantity of accessories stolen. Among the missing articles are 19 tires, more than four dozen tubes, an electric drill, a Ford radiator and a number of other articles including about $5 in cash. This is the eighth time this garage has been looted.

A large barn, one of the finest in this district, owned by Miss J. McIntosh, and located on what is known as the Corbett farm, on the Base Line a short distance east of the town limits, was destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. In the barn was the season's crop of hay and grain owned by Alfred Harlock, a tenant of the farm, which was totally destroyed, as well as a nearby haystack. Some stock in the structure was brought to safety. Whitby fire department was called by telephone when the fire bursting out suddenly while the family were at dinner, was discovered. As an order had to be secured from the Mayor to take the equipment out of town a little delay was caused, but after the arrival of the big pumper, 2,000 feet of hose was laid and water turned on the burning structure, three wells on the place being pumped dry. The shortage of water halted the work of the firemen and an effort was made to get water from the creek nearby, but lack of hose and wet fields prevented this. The barn, which was destroyed, was 100 feet long, had a concrete foundation, and what is known as a hip roof. Although there was insurance on it, the building could not be replaced for $10,000. Mr. Harlock had $2,000 insurance half of which was on his stock and the other half on his crop. As the stock was saved he will only be able to collect for his crop, and this will not nearly cover his loss.

While the exact cause of the fire is unknown, in the opinion of an inspector from Toronto, who visited the scene on Monday, spontaneous combustion, caused by wet, diseased clover, started the blaze, this theory being born out by the fact that the fire started where the clover was located. Mr. Harlock is under the impression that the fire is the work of chicken thieves, who have infested this neighborhood for some time.

STOUFFVILLE GRAIN MARKET

The Stouffville grain market is moving fairly lively now, although when a few mild days set in there is a noticeable absence of farmers' wagons on the road, as the opportunity is seized upon to do other farm work.

'Alike' is ranging in price from $14 to $16 per bushel, the wide range in price being due to the great variance in the quality of the seed. Wheat is bringing the farmer $1.25 to $1.27, barley 60 to 65c. and oats 50c. to 55c., sweet clover holds firm at from $4 to $5.50.

BIRTHS

Clark—At Aurora Hospital on Oct. 6th, 1926, to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clark, Whitchurch, a son.

DEER ARE REPORTED PLENTIFUL

Game Laws Remained Unchanged with Exception of Shorter Season on St. Joseph's Island

Officials of the Department of Game and Fisheries anticipate that this year will be a record in the number of licenses issued for deer and moose, and the fact that deer are more numerous than they have been for some time is expected to be an incentive to the hunters.

Season for hunting deer, moose, reindeer and caribou in Ontario is as follows: "South of the French and Mattawa Rivers, Nov. 5th Nov. 20th inclusive, north of the French and Mattawa Rivers to mainline of the Canadian Government Railway, Oct. 25th to Nov. 6th, inclusive. North of the Canadian Government Railway, Sept. 15th to Nov. 15th, inclusive."

There is no close season on bear, fox, rabbit, weasel, lynx and skunk.

Season for duck, wild geese, plover and snipe is now under way, opening on Sept. 1st to Dec. 15th, inclusive. A bag of 25 ducks per day is allowed with a maximum of 200 for the season.

Deer licenses for residents of Ontario cost $3.50 plus 50c. issuance fee. Resident licenses for moose are $5.50 plus an issuance fee of 50c. Non-resident big game licenses cost $41 and include the privilege of taking one deer, one moose or caribou, as well as bear, on which there is no protection. This license also permits the taking of small game such as duck, etc. Non-resident small game licenses cost $20.

"Non-resident" include natives of Manitoba and Quebec, as well as citizens of United States. Big game licenses for residents of Ontario cost $10.

Deer season in Ontario remain the same as those of former years, with the exception of St. Joseph's Island in the District of Algoma, where the season has been shortened, it being Nov. 15 to 30th. Change was made at the request of residents who felt that the former period interfered with their farm work.

Licenses may be had at Button's hardware.
