STOUFFVILLE ENTERS AN O.H.A. TEAM

As an evidence of the interest in hockey and the strong desire for an O.H.A. team in Stouffville, nearly forty young men attended an organization meeting held in Mather's shop on Thursday evening last week. It was decided to enter an Intermediate O.H.A. and Mr. F. L. Button was voted as chairman, to carry on the other business to be transacted. With the enterprise of Clayt. Baker in getting up a fine new arena with an ice space of 75x180, this town is able to enter in the Ontario Hockey Association, and the boys are keen to have a winning hockey team. Here are the names of the officers elected:

Hon. Presidents—F. L. Button, Dr. W. A. Sangster, A. C. Burkholder. President—Dr. S. S. Ball. Vice-Prest.—Ed. Pennock. Sec.-Treas.—Murray Rowbotham. Manager—Thos. Birkett. Assistant—Jack Baker.

The Management Committee is composed of the President, Vice-President, Secretary, and W. R. Sanders, Wm. Mather and Jess Cook. Harry Brillinger and A. V. Nolan were appointed to solicit funds to meet the current outlay in forming the club, for which upwards of $100 is required.

There are plenty of players to choose from. Anyone who wishes to show their interest in clean winter sport who have been missed by the canvassers, are requested to leave their "bit" at The Tribune office.

OLIVER YAKE REACHES HIS 83rd BIRTHDAY

Was Born in Stouffville and became an Ordained Minister

The Port Huron Times of last Friday is just to hand, and contains an interesting item concerning a native of Stouffville, Oliver Yake, cousin to Messrs. Ab. and Jake Yake, and Calvin Yake of this town. The Times says:

"Oliver Yake one of Lexington villages, (near Port Huron), most respected citizens celebrated his 83rd birthday Wednesday by entertaining a few friends at dinner at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wilford Hatton with whom he lives.

The son of Daniel and Eleanor Hall Yake, he was born Nov. 17th, 1843, near Stouffville, Canada, the oldest of eight children.

The family moved to Minnigan when Oliver was 11 and he has lived in and near Lexington since that time.

At the age of 19 he enlisted in Company K, Twenty-second infantry as a drummer boy, out the following year gave up his drum to Robt. Tolan and went into the ranks.

Mr. Yake was mustered out July 1865, in Detroit. He was married Aug. 6, 1865, to Mary Melissa Matthews who died a few years ago. To this union were born four children, two of whom are living, Abie W., of Worth and Mrs. Eleanor Hatton.

He united with the Christian church at the age of 35 and later with the Advent Christian church in which he was an ordained minister.

During his ministry, he held meetings in churches and school houses from Riley Center to Port Sanilac, making the trips between points with horse and buggy.

Mr. Yake has held numerous offices of trust, both in Worth and Lexington townships, serving as clerk in each for a number of terms. He has served as school trustee, justice of the peace, member of the village council and secretary of the cemetery association.

Mr. Yake is very active for one of his years, making a garden each year, taking a keen interest in politics.

He has two brothers living, Albert of Lexington and Lyman of Alpena.

Few men in Sanilac county are better known than Oliver Yake.

His ability as a public executive an old time courtesy of manner, and his never failing Christianity in all his dealing has carved a niche for him in the history of the county.

An old comrade whom he had not seen since the war started out to find Mr. Yake a number of years ago. Upon reaching Divine's corners, west of town, the comrade met a boy and asked him if he knew where Oliver Yake lived, to which the boy replied:

"Sure everybody in Sanilac county knows Oliver Yake."

WHITFIELD CONVICTED OF PORT PERRY SHOOTING

It just took half an hour for a jury to convict Ralph Whitfield, aged 20, of shooting at Harold Archer, garageman, of Port Perry, on the evening of Aug. 31st. Whitfield appeared before Chief Justice Lennox at the assizes court in Whitby last week. Four witnesses identified Whitfield as the man in the case, although one or two others have not yet been apprehended. It will be remembered that Archer jumped in the side of Whitfield's car, when he was shot at. Whitfield and his accomplices fled to Goodwood, where they posed as fishermen and got a lift to Yonge street by thrasher Wm. Yake.

GOOD QUALITY AGAIN

The unsettled condition of the water in the town mains has now cleared away, and the water is pronounced pure. The local Board of Health have accordingly lifted the "ban" whereby users were recommended to boil the water from the taps. Local Farmers 3rd In Provincial Contest

York County boys were well to the fore at the annual Guelph Winter Fair this week, when a Stouffville team composed of Floyd Steckley, Murray Clendenning and Norman Steckley won third as a team in the stock judging contest. Wellington County carried off first honors, and Peel County second. Floyd Steckley was high man in the cattle judging, while Murray Clendenning was high man in the sheep judging, with Norman Steckley third.

Owing to bad weather and to conditions at home the boys were unable to get in much practise with their coach, R. J. Rogers, district representative of the Dept. of Agriculture, Newmarket. No team of the twenty-four which were in the contest entered under such adverse conditions, which is all the more to the credit of the local boys in coming so near the top in the contest. Congratulations are due them and Mr. Rogers.

THE LITTLE GIANT

"I'm here—blown in the mould, dyed-in-the-wool—the selling kid—the guy who put the SAY in sales." But you know his line. Selling? He invented it. He's a prince of pep, punch and personality. "I sold him" is his war cry and he'll sell himself straight to your hearts, deep into your affections in this mad, merry, melange of tempestuous laughter tempered with fears. There's more laughs per minute than Ford has flivvers with a finely woven heart-throb love-story and a whole of a fight at the Auditorium Theatre this Friday and Saturday.

FORMER MERCHANT FREED FROM JAIL

Thos. Slee, a former merchant at Zephyr who on April 15th, 1925, at the Spring Assizes at Whitby, was sentenced to 12 years in Kingston Penitentiary for arson, but who has been in the county goal at Whitby, with the exception of some months at Christie Street Hospital since that time, owing to appeal proceedings, has been given his liberty on the order of the Crown authorities in Toronto. The reason for this decision, it is learned, is that the Crown has been unable to secure any new evidence in the case necessary for a new trial.

Slee, it will be remembered, was convicted of setting fire to the store of J. J. Bartlett, a rival merchant in the village of Zephyr, in Sept. 1924, who swore that his loss was $6000. The Crown's principal witness at that time was a man named Wm. Hills, an aged man with a long criminal record now serving a term for robbery in that part of the County, who swore that in company with a man named Charles Land, another convict also serving a term in Kingston, he engaged Slee to set fire to the store at Zephyr for the sum of $100. It was alleged by these men that they visited Slee in the village in June, three months previous to the fire, to look the ground over preparatory to setting fire to the Bartlett place.

There was a lot of evidence submitted in defense, but the jury returned a verdict of guilty and Mr. Justice Riddell sentenced Slee to 12 years. Although the Judge suggested, no such recommendation was made, a fact that was commented upon by His Lordship when passing sentence.

A few weeks later, T. H. Lennox, K.C., counsel for Slee, entered an appeal, objecting to the evidence given by the two convicts and the character of the charge made by the judge to the jury. The appeal was allowed and Slee was granted a new trial, which now will not take place. Thomas Slee is a returned soldier who was wounded overseas.

N. Castle Smith, who conducted the Ford agency in Stouffville for a time, two years ago bought the Slee store in Zephyr and moved there from this town.
