EDITORIAL COMMENT

Although most of their business is done in Toronto, Gunn's Limited moved their head office to Harriston and thus, escaped income tax on an assessment of $100,000. At court of revision, Toronto attempted to have the income tax stand, but the Judge ruled that the company had legally removed to Harriston.

By a will made on Sept. 24th last, Robert Alex. Andrews, hotel keeper, of Markham, who died on Oct. 11th, left an estate valued at $55,795, composed of $47,404 lent on mortgages, $3,241 in bank, personal effects valued at $1,350, and the Franklin House property, valued at $4,000.
 The widow is bequeathed a life interest in the whole property, on whose death it is to be divided equally between his two children, Ross and Alma.

Cobalt's tax rate this year is 81 mills for public school supporters and 77 for separate school supporters. In South Porcupine, the rate is 77 mills. The Porcupine Advance says: "The people are not making any fuss about the rate. They realize that if a town is to be made up-to-date and convenient, the improvements will cost money and taxes will be high." Rates hereabouts may seem high, but we may be thankful we do not have to pay 77 mills.

In nearly every urban/municipality, ratepayers are finding the tax problem a burdensome one. In some instances where the municipalities foolishly guaranteed debentures of now defunct factories the taxpayers are paying through their pockets for their folly. In some instances municipalities to keep down the rate of taxation boost the assessment.
 While this doesn't ease the strain on the purse it fools intending purchasers of property whose first inquiry before buying in a town or village is the rate of taxation. Very few inquire about the assessment.
 When a municipality has 45 mills or thereabouts on a fairly high assessment it means that those who own properties are paying a fair rent in taxes. It should be the aim of municipal men to steadily lower the rate of taxation to about 30 mills and enjoy the privileges that Stouffville ratepayers have.

PRESIDENT KLINCK IN SIR WALTER'S CLASS

When Queen Marie of Roumania was on her recent tour of Canada she was royally entertained wherever the special train went, and no less a reception was given at the Pacific Coast, than anywhere in Canada.
 During the stop of the Queen there, she visited the British Columbia University, where she was escorted about by L. S. Klinck, president of the University, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Klinck of Stouffville.
 The Daily Province, published at Vancouver, describes the visit as follows:

"As the six cars, bearing the Rou-mania and Canadian flags, and preceded by two motorcycle policemen whirled their way out Granville, along Fourth and Tenth avenues, and into the University grounds, pedestrians and motorists observed that it was a Queen who passed.

Cheers of young and old were returned by the smiling sovereign as she glanced out of the rain spattered windows. It was not a drive that did justice to the famed beauty of Vancouver's scenery, but it was thoroughly enjoyed by the Queen and her party.

Driving through the University grounds, the party met President L.
 S. Klinck, and the royal car stopped while the Queen spoke to him. A stop was made later at the administration building. President Klinck entered the car, the party driving to the Botanical gardens which the Queen was anxious to see.

Here a group of students had gathered, and under the guidance of a cheer leader, gave their yells with vim and vigour. The Queen waved to the gathering, remarking on the fine appearance of the students.

It was just here that an incident occurred that placed President Klinck in a class with Sir Walter Raleigh, who among other things gained fame for his gallant gesture of laying his cloak in the mud that a Queen might remain dry-footed.

The ground that had to be traversed to reach the gardens is a mixture of sand and clay, most unpleasant walking, especially on a rainy day. The Queen's feet were clad in brocaded silver pumps, but despite this she walked through the ground.

 With a word to President Klinck Her Majesty stopped, and while she balanced herself by placing her hand on his arm he stooped and removed first one and then the other of the Queen's shoes to empty the dirt and sand that had found their way inside.
