

THE WISE FRIEND

Once upon a time—and not very long ago—there was a brother and sister who had a friend. A very special friend he was, who told them stories about men who flew through the skies; of boys and girls who had thrilling and mysterious adventures; of others who had most unusual situations confront them, yet managed to come through their tests with steadfast and courageous hearts; of wit and sniffls—how they lived, hunted, and died. Such a host of things did their good friends tell them, and how interestingly he told them!

Came the time when friend moved away to another town. Brother and sister were saddened by his going, for they knew they would miss his cheery smile and the wonderful stories and amusing anecdotes he was so fond of telling them. Then one day the postman brought them a letter from their friend, in which he told them he was sending them The Youth's Companion so that they would not forget him, and that in it they would find just the sort of stories they had so much enjoyed hearing him tell.

And sure enough, a day or two later the magazine arrived, and brother and sister found that it truly did have just such wonderful stories and just such jokes as they loved so well. "Oh, too, may have that same pleasure, or give that pleasure, by means of a subscription to The Youth's Companion. Subscribers will receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—12 big monthly issues in 1923, and
2. Two extra numbers to new subscribers ordering within 30 days. All for only $2.00.
3. The Companion new book of humor "101 One Minute Stories" also included FREE (send 10c. to cover postage and handling).

LEMONVILLE

Mr. John Kellington is visiting his brother in Oshawa.

We are glad to report improvement in Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hall after their motor accident near Stouffville two weeks ago.

Our young people went in good numbers to Ratcliff's hall to hear the band selections. They report a good time.

CARD OF THANKS

It is with a deep sense of gratitude that we thank all who rendered us assistance and sympathy during our recent bereavement.

Mrs. Wm. Pipher and family

Send the Tribune to absent friends.

BALLANTRAE

The annual official board of the United Church meet this week in the new church basement to transact the business for the coming year. Delegates from Toronto will confer with the board.

The Sunday School was well attended last Sunday, also the largest assembly of communicants for the quarterly communion service.

We are sorry to report the sickness of Mrs. Malcolm Connor. We do hope she may soon recover.

The postponed Ladies' Aid meets this week.

BLOOMINGTON

We note with pleasure that Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cook are able to get out again, after their recent illness.

We are sorry to hear of the serious sickness of Mr. Jarvis Story and also of Mrs. Frank Story, two of the oldest members of the United Church. The quarterly service last Sunday was appreciated because it was conducted in the old fashioned way, the communion being preceded by a deeply spiritual fellowship meeting.

We regret to report the continued illness of Edw. Morris, at the home of his daughter Mrs. Story of the gravel hill. For weeks he had only been able to lie on the couch, and he has about lost the power of speech. Mr. Morris is over 75 years of age.

GORMLEY

Henry Heise is all smiles—it's a daughter.

Mrs. Ernest Jones spent her New Years holiday in Toronto.

The chicken pox is certainly a knock out—it is still raving in Gormley town.

Mr. James Conner and Mrs. Woodard were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Hunt last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Steckley of Gormley, entertained out of town guests Tuesday night at dinner.

Mr. Walter Henderson and daughters of Buffalo, spent the New Years holiday under the parental roof.

A number of young people enjoyed a social time together on New Year's Eve at the Henderson home.

Mr. Ellis Klinck and Mr. Allan Heise spent the New Years holiday, visiting relatives in Nottawa district. Sinclair Barnard of Tacoma, Washington, D.C. spent the holiday season with his sister, Mrs. John Henderson.

Miss Lydia Sider is home again, after spending a few weeks holidays at the home of her sister, Mrs. D. Law.

COMMUNICATION

Uxbridge, Jan. 7, 1923

Dear Editor,

Would you please allow me a little space in your valuable paper to reply to the article in your last issue on Penalty and the Lash. I quite agree the criminal should be punished according to his crime, and I once heard that a judge remarked that if parents trained their children in the homes the law courts would not have to do it in after years and I quite agree with him. But when I say a child should be trained I do not mean a child should be always beaten with the strap. Parents that are always beating their children have no sense in training or how to train a child. If we want our children to love and respect us we must take them into confidence and talk and reason with them. Just let them see we love them, then tell them whatever they have done is wrong. Show them where they are wrong and how to avoid doing it again, and that we must punish if not obeyed. Some people think that to whip a child continuously is training, but it is not. We may beat or whip an animal but it takes love and confidence on the part of man to train one. Hence whipping and training are two different things. If we take our children into love and confidence and talk and reason when they have gone wrong, they will go out and play and be far happier than if brought in and whipped and sent out again without any explanation, and it does not better the child in any way, but rather harms it, and the parents that continuously whip their children show lack of love and common sense, if we expect to train our children we must rule by love and not fear, deceit follows fear. So let us not drive our children from their homes with the rod, but let us draw them nearer with hearts of love.

Just another word to parents never leave your little ones alone at night. Parents that do this to enjoy busyness or pleasure do not love their children. They are selfish thinking; only of their own inclinations and their children left to the mercy of fires or other danger that destroy their lives. A heavy penalty should be placed on any person found doing such.

This is all and let us bear in mind the generation of today is the world tomorrow, and if we do our duty we won't need to say she or he deserves the lash. From

An Old Timer

(The above letter is scarcely an answer to the editorial article, appearing in the last issue of The Tribune. The article of last week deals with the punishment of criminals by the lash, and not with the training of children, hence "Old Timer" while he makes some truthful statements, scarcely offers any solution of the question under discussion.—Editor.)

MRS. FRANCES STORRY

On Tuesday of this week death removed Hannah Studholme, relict of the late Francis Storry from a long siege of sickness, extending over a period of seven years. Her trouble at that time was a stroke, from which she never recovered. Born in Ontario County the deceased who was in her 66th year, had spent her entire life in the neighborhood. Eight years ago in May her husband died, and she is survived by an only sister living at Upstergrove, and an only son Russell, who lives on the homestead at lot 17, con. 1, Uxbridge. The funeral on Thursday to Goodwood cemetery was largely attended. The divine service was in charge of Rev. J. Laycock and Rev. E. Morton, the late Mrs. Storry having attended church at Bloomington for years.

Radio Perfected

When radio broadcasting was instituted by Westinghouse as a means of giving to the world its universal benefits and pleasures, the goal of batteryless operation was set.

The foremost vacuum tube engineers of the continent have devoted their scientific knowledge and experience to this end for over six years in Westinghouse laboratories, and at last have perfected a tube which operates directly from the light socket.

Now you can own either a five tube or six tube Westinghouse receiver that costs less to buy and less to operate than has ever been offered before.

In them you will find excellence of tone, high selectivity—extreme distance and full volume; combined with simplicity of operation, pleasing design and the guarantee of satisfaction by the Pioneers of Radio.

These new models are on display in our store. Let us give you a demonstration in your home without cost or obligation.
