The school trustees at Dickson's Hill have engaged Miss Die (pronounced Bee) of Greenwood as teacher in the public school for the coming term, at a salary of $1100, which is the same as they paid Mr. Brown, who gave up the school owing to some altercation between himself, the trustees and the children, which resulted in a public meeting of the ratepayers. Miss Die had two or three years teaching experience near Kingston, and with the backing of parents and trustees is sure to make a success in her new school.

Mr. Arthur Swift, the energetic garageman on Main street, has generously donated to the Stouffville Baseball Club a valuable Home Plate made in thick rubber, which will be so easily seen by Earl Cook that walking anyone to first base will be a thing of the past, as it has been rare. The gift will be generally appreciated by the sporting element of the community.

Their plant is located at Scarborough where Mr. Kester is located.

The Stouffville baseball club were badly defeated last week in a league fixture at the local park. The Toronto visitors mounted up a score of 16 against 6. Marks of Uxbridge was on the mound for the locals, who had an off day. Owing to the short notice it was impossible to advertise the game, hence few spectators were present to witness the downfall.

Mr. Ernie Stouffer who had worked up one of the largest garage businesses in this locality, has disposed of his shop to his right hand employee, Mr. Roy Strong, who takes possession on July 23rd. Mr. Stouffer has been engaged by a Toronto firm to manage a portion of their business. His duty will be to diagnose the trouble as the cars come in, and to see that they go out in proper running order. This job Ernie will be able to handle to a nicety. "Red" Strong has had sufficient experience in the mechanical end of the business as to enable him to render satisfaction, and he should enjoy a good share of public confidence.

Although three rinks of local bowlers played in the tournament at Uxbridge on Wednesday afternoon of last week they all failed to "bring home the bacon", the prizes having been won by other outside teams. Stouffville, however, gave some of the winners a hot chase. The players all report a wonderful day, with good meals served by the host, and an excellent bowling green. The rinks from here were composed as follows: Lou Hare, Bert Smith, Geo. Saunders and D. Russell sk. Irwin Gray, Reg. Button, W. R. Sanders and F. L. Button sk. M. Rowbotham, M. E. Watts, W. Armstrong and A. C. Burkholder sk.

Fred Reynolds of the 7th concession of the local market has laid on the editor's desk two nice juicy apples picked from his orchard last fall, and wintered in the cellar. Mr. Reynolds couldn't give the variety of the fruit, but they are surely wonderful apples to keep. The fruit is solid and full of juice, which shows that the old fruit tree which was discovered in the garden of Eden, and the picking of fruit from which caused the downfall of man down through the ages, can be well preserved if one has a suitable cellar to store the harvest in. Mr. Reynolds' fruit cellar has a stone wall and dirt floor.

Will someone please tell us why the Stouffville public school is among the very last to know the result of their entrance class. The examining board, if it is in their power, would only be doing a fair thing to change the order of business around, and read the papers first of those schools which have in past years been held to the last. This year is no exception, for we are again at the bottom of the list to hear how the local pupils made out. We are at the bottom of the list in York County and all the other surrounding districts outside the county. The old maxim, "turn about is fair play", ought to apply here.

Silvester Bros. have been having trouble with a wet cellar under their stores occupied by the Brathwaite hardware and Dominion store, but located the trouble in a broken tile in the drain after much digging last week. The Presbyterians motored to Kew Beach where they held a joint gathering with the Markham church. S. Leaney, who sold it to Gordon Ferrier, who in turn sold to Mr. Brown, and now Mr. Ferrier has purchased it again. It is expected that Herbert Ferrier, mail courier, will occupy the place, although the new owner may remodel the building into a modern dwelling.

The Horticultural Society met on Thursday evening to receive the financial report of the July 2nd celebration. It will be noted from the receipts and expenditures below that the Society are ahead on the day by about $90. Some of the members who thought $50 high for a prize in hardball, must have received a double shock when the Society were asked by the baseball club to come across with $8 for the use of four balls. This in addition to the prize looked a little too much to ask, and the president was justified in voicing an objection to the account. The baseball club won $35 of the $50 in prize money, and should be prepared to put up sufficient money to buy their outfit.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our dear husband and father, William Lewis, who died July 17th, 1926.
Why do our loved ones leave us?
Why are our tears in vain?
Why is the sunlight darkened,
And veiled by mists of pain?
Many a heart is weeping,
Even though the sky is clear,
'Neath the sunlight is sorrow,
Behind the smile a tear.
Ever remembered by wife and family
