ENGINEER'S REPORT ON WATER SOURCE

Council Decides to Try for One Well at Once.

The action of the Municipal Council on Friday evening last week in coming to a decision to drill for an artesian well on the reservoir property, will no doubt meet with the general approval of the ratepayers.

The Council have been strongly urged, through the press and by popular feeling, to improve the water supply of the town, and with a view to acceding to the request the firm of Wynne-Roberts, consulting engineers, was employed to make a report on the situation. The sanction of the engineers that an artesian well should be sought on the property strengthened the council in their decision to make the effort, and on Friday they directed Councillor Horvinsky and his committee to proceed with drilling operations at once. The engineer's report in part reads as follows:

"The source of water is a series of springs rising on the slopes of land about two miles northwest of Stouffville, and the water appears to be good. The springs, however, are located south of ploughed fields having an elevation of 20' to 30 feet above the ground around the springs and during wet weather flushes of dirty ground water flow down the slopes causing the spring water to be discolored and possibly slightly polluted. The best remedy for this is to cut a ditch along the north of the spring area to intercept the flood water and to discharge it away from the springs. This can easily be done at relatively small cost. Before any work can be done, it will be necessary to obtain levels so as to select the best lines for the ditch or ditches.

The question was asked if it would be possible to conserve the spring water that now escapes the intake. The area is water bearing, sodden and soft. The surface is difficult to work in as there are innumerable roots, but after a slight clearance it would be feasible to drive tongued and grooved sheet piling, say six feet into the ground and about five feet above. The length of such a sheet piling on the south-east and south-west sides of the upper intake would be, say 300 feet. This sheet piling should be supported by a bank of earth on both sides.

The embankment would also raise the water level at the spring. We have no doubt that you have contractors at Stouffville who could undertake this work. The cost will be in the vicinity of $1,500.

We are investigating the prospect of obtaining water by sinking an artesian well on your waterworks property. There does not appear to be any reason, other than the geological formation, why such a supply should not be made available. Such well or wells would eliminate troubles with respect to pollution. Two wells should be less costly than sheet piling."

LOCALS DROP OUT OF THE CONTEST

Three hits in a row by Peterboro, one a two-bagger, good for two runs with nobody out in the seventh, put the Stouffville baseball team out of reach of the O.B.A.A. Intermediate championship which was almost within their grasp.

They had Peterboro and Niagara Falls to beat, but now they stand third best and are through for the season. Peterboro came here Saturday for the return game and both teams were held scoreless until the seventh when the visitors got a striking streak as indicated above. They tallied three runs in the eighth, while the Stouffville nine were shut out entirely.

The winning visitors never got a man to first base until the fourth inning, and he never got any farther before the side was retired, and it was not until the sixth that they sent a man that far again. Earl Cook made them look like beginners at bat until the seventh, when he let up a little and the history, wielded by experienced batsmen, soon decided the fate of the game.

Stouffville commenced to tap the ball in the third inning when two men got onto bases only to be stranded. In the fourth and fifth a runner was stranded on bases, also in the 7th and 8th, but the hitting being all infield was easily taken care of. The runners were weak too and lacked the direction of capable coaching.

It was the greatest game of ball seen on the local diamond this season. Masterson for Peterboro struck out only two men, while Cook for Stouffville struck out thirteen batters. With the same experience base running and fielding as displayed by the visitors, Stouffville should have won the game, but there is no kick from any quarter. For a small town to go so far in the league finals is an achievement we are proud of, and the team deserves great praise.

The Peterboro Daily Examiner makes these remarks about the game: "Bill Kay's Raybestos 'P'eliners, conquerors of Ontario East are in. Their great victory at Stouffville on Saturday against one of the best pitchers in the province sends them into the finals against the winners of the Leamington-Niagara Falls series. The Rays have won ten straight games, winning their series with Cognawagas to land the city title, and making it two straight against Hastings, Cobourg, Napanee and Stouffville.

Manager Mather had the playing field in tip top condition for the game. It is a dirt infield, and when rolled as it was on Saturday has few equals. The Stouffville club provided capable umpires, and Joe Walsh, of the O.B.A.A. Executive came down from Toronto for the game. Another visitor on the Raybestos bench was Horace Walkey who came in from Oakwood.

FALLS OUT OF CAR FATALLY INJURED

Mrs. Davis Meets Almost Sudden Death—A Stouffville Girl.

Mrs. A. S. Collins of Stouffville, and Mr. Albert Davis of Altona, went by train to Lansing, Mich., on Tuesday last week, to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Elijah J. Davis, whose tragic death was briefly announced in our last issue. Mrs. Davis was a daughter of Mr. John Urquhart of this town, and was born here 62 years ago. Her husband is also an old Stouffville boy.

The Lansing Capital News gives the following account of the fateful accident:

"The victim of a peculiar automobile accident near Howell about 4.30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Bertha Davis, 62, the wife of Elijah J. Davis, 322 W. Saginaw st. suffered injuries that caused her death four hours later at Edward W. Sparrow hospital here.

Mrs. Davis suffered a broken leg, a fractured pelvis and internal injuries, the result of being hurled to the road when the door of the machine in which she was riding flew open as the car swung around a sharp curve. Before she could be rescued the next car in the line of traffic had struck her.

Door Swings Open

Mrs. Davis and her daughter, Miss Margaret Davis, who was driving, were returning from a shopping trip to Detroit and were negotiating the detour at Howell when the accident happened.

As their machine made the curve the door of the car, a Chevrolet coach, swung open and Mrs. Davis was pitched to the roadway. The machine following, driven by Dr. Lyman J. Pinney of Detroit, struck Mrs. Davis before it could be brought to a stop. It was said that Mrs. Davis was lying just far enough around the curve to prevent the doctor from seeing her prostrate form as his car approached the corner.

Dr. Pinney, en route to Lansing to attend a meeting of the stockholders of the Novo Engine Works, did not have his medical grip with him, but managed to ease the pain Mrs. Davis was suffering by utilizing the limbs of a small tree in making improvised splints in which to rest her broken leg.

Brought to Hospital

Mrs. Davis was then taken to the hospital a distance of 35 miles in a semi-conscious condition by her daughter. Dr. Pinney followed in his car.

Mrs. Davis died at the hospital at 8.30 o'clock, her injuries, combined with her age, proving more than she could overcome.

Surviving are her husband, Elijah J. Davis, employed at the Reo Motor Car Company; two daughters, Miss Margaret, Lansing, and Mrs. Charles O. Miller, Pontiac and two sons, Morrie H. Davis and Roy E. Davis, both of Lansing."
