In the list of prize winners announced in our last issue in the recent examination on the Temperance Study Course as given by the Northern Messenger, a name was omitted, it being that of Master Jack Clubine, son of E. Clubine who was successful in securing honors. We apologize to Master Jack for overlooking his name when he did so well, but it was missing in the original list furnished to this paper.

An old well on the farm of Herb Mitchell on the first-aid road south of Lake Musselman on the 9th concession, was put into operation again this week, after being in disuse for some years. It is now said to be as good as when first dug, which is over 100 years ago. Mr. Mitchell, by the way, has a choice herd of Ayrshire cattle, and fanciers will find a delight to see his splendid herd, and his up-to-date steel equipped stables.

Just before retiring on Thursday night last, Mrs. John Gower (nee Lizzie Miller) was seized with a stroke. Medical aid was at once called and it was found that her left side was paralyzed. Though in a serious condition it is thought Mrs. Miller will recover.

While playing, sliding down the banister, Ruth Barker, daughter of Morley Barker, fell down the stairs at the school last week. Swift's auto was speedily secured and she was taken home. Upon medical examination it was found that outside of some cuts and bruises no bones were broken.

When engaged in cutting up a side of meat last week, Mr. Albert Cleverdon of the 7th concession of Whitechurch, inflicted a nasty cut in her arm, necessitating seven stitches to close the wound. The knife slipped in some manner and entered the left forearm to quite a depth. Mrs. Cleverdon is recovering, and no ill effects are anticipated.

The comment in this paper last week concerning the blocked roadway opposite the Gilbert farm north of Ringwood, is deemed to have been unfair. The article, it has been pointed out was unfair stating all other roads were open, for if this was the case why was it necessary to travel from Stouffville up the 8th to reach Ba'lantrae. If the 9th was in good condition? Following the biggest storm of the season which occurred last Thursday the snow plough was on the job promptly and little delay was caused by blocked roads the next day.

Last Thursday will go down as the worst day this winter in respect to weather conditions. A terrific storm blew all day, and it was fortunate there was no snow here ahead to bank up. As it was the bit that did come down seemed to cluster in one spot, and caused a few blockades which were soon opened, because none of them were of any length. The public auction sale on the farm of Eli Mairs at Gormley was postponed until next Monday, March 18th, while all lines of business was almost at a stand still for the day. It wasn't fit for man or beast to be on the roads. Not until Sunday did the weather really settle back to favorable conditions again.

The Stouffville Old Boys and Girls Association of Toronto, recently held their annual election of officers in the city when they made a selection of what appears to be a really capable and live organization. They made one omission in the election, in that they failed to appoint a press correspondent, whose chief duty would be to report the various "doings" that they might be passed back to old folks at home who are much interested in their movements. If this suggestion should bear any weight there are at least one or two in the old boys association who are qualified to do this office every year. The elected officers are as follows: President—W. J. Mertens, Weston; Honorary vice president, Thomas Shaw; 1st vice president, Dr. C. F. R. Richardson; 2nd vice-president, Miss K. Darrach; Secretary, Mrs. H. B. Hall; treasurer, Mr. F. D. Nighswander. A special committee was appointed to arrange for regular annual reunions in the home town.

Wm. Licorish of Uxbridge Township has rented the Eagleson farm of 140 acres on the highway south of Claremont. At one time it was expected that Mr. Licorish would move to a farm at Ringwood. His sale has now been cancelled.

Parties having stock or goods to list for the combination sale at Stouffville, on March 30th, should communicate with George Keays at once, so the bills may be gotten out next week.

There is talk of the dog owners in town passing around a petition to have signed praying the council to modify the recently enacted bylaw compelling dogs to be in charge of masters at all times of the year when at large, to read be "under control" from April 30th to Sept. 30th in each year. As one owner put it to The Tribune, "If the dogs are to be locked up 12 months of the year, what right has the council to collect a dog tax?" The dog tax was primarily intended to compensate owner for keep by dogs, but if the canines are not allowed to get loose there is no necessity for the tax. We saw seven dog owners at Councilor Ward at one time the other day, so there is likely to be something heard at the next Council meeting.

At the regular meeting of the school trustees on Friday evening of last week, a motion was passed to be sent to the Department of Agriculture at Newmarket, commending to the District Representative the desirability of holding a school fair at Stouffville this year as in the past. There had been some attempt on the part of someone to shift the fair from Stouffville, but this is meeting with stern opposition. The Stouffville School Fair is one of the finest in the province, and is of real value to the section. The Stouffville Women's Institute stands ready, we understand, to support the fair again in a substantial way as they have done in previous years.

The funeral of the late Harry Perry was held from the home of his mother, Mrs. C. Perry, on Friday afternoon, and was conducted to the Stouffville cemetery for interment. The service at the late home was in charge of Rev. H. S. Warren and Rev. S. Goudle, the latter being a neighbor of the family for many years. The pall bearers were Messrs. J. S. Dougherty, Chris. Armstrong, D. H. Cook, Isaac Barkey, Irwin Gray, Alex. Scott. Only the immediate family and friends were in attendance, the funeral being of a private nature. The late Mr. Perry had been in ill health for some years. He was born in Stouffville 49 years ago, a son of the late Charles Perry, and Mrs. Perry, with whom he had lived the past winter. Mr. Perry was a painter by trade, and his ability in this line was widely recognized. Of latter years he gave up the business owing to his health. He served for some years as the local assessor and at other times as collector of taxes, and was very thorough in his work. He married Miss Florence Rao daughter of the late Matthew and Mrs. Rae, and to this union an only son survives, Mr. Rae Perry C. N. R. Lematcher at Cobourg, who reached home in time to be by his father's bedside when the great summons came. Besides his aged mother, one sister also survives, namely, Mrs. E. J. Venables who was unable to return from her home in Hamiota Man. for the funeral.

Owing to the demand for advertising space, considerable news matter is crowded out of this issue, including the minutes of Whitechurch Township Council.

Again the public are urged to send in their premium lists to the Horticultural Society. Many have neglected doing so, but in order to secure the premiums desired they must be given to the secretary, Miss Mertens, by March 20th. Do it Now.

When cattle or human beings commence to fight they usually attract more attention than an auction sale, which was proved in fact last week at the public auction on the farm of Jas. Vincent. Shortly after Auctioneer Silversides mounted the stand two of the gentry from Uxbridge Township undertook to settle a dispute by the fist route, and this started a small riot which was only culminated by the auctioneer reading the statutes respecting individuals disturbing auction sales. This had the proper salutary effect on the two exponents of Jack Johnson, who ceased their scuffle. Then the sale started again, when a nice young cow with properly curved-up horns entered the ring. The animal successfully disputed the right-of-way through the ring. The bovine took one look at the assembly crowding in to file their bids, then with lowered head she charged. There was a sickening thud, and men flew every way some of them being greatly assisted by the cow in their effort to make way. Buyers were picking themselves up with their teeth full of hair while the auctioneer gained the summit of a straw stack in time to get a good panoramic of the charge. That the crowd was uninjured is a matter for congratulation. The cow was knocked down in haste shortly after for a good figure to someone who wanted to take home an animal that could repeat the story of the cow which jumped over the moon.
