

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

The annual district meeting of the E.Y. Women's Institute will be held in Stouffville on Thursday, June 20. The attendance will likely be very large.

A new cement bridge is now being constructed by the Provincial Highways at Markham, to replace the one destroyed by the recent floods on Wellington street just west of the fair grounds. While the bridge is under construction, a detour has been provided which is very convenient.

Quite a number of the men took in the races at the opening of the Woodbine last Saturday. It is a place the writer has never visited, but we are told that the number of "merry widows" that infest the grounds are quite as attractive as the races. This isn't to be constructed as the reason so many young men from here took in the races.

The Mayor of Mount Forest was paid for extra work in looking after the installation of sewers and paving there last year, then was defeated in the January elections, regained the seat on a technicality, and then had to defend a court action against him. A municipal man's lot, like a policeman's, "is not a happy one."

Big men and big industries are looking to the smaller towns as they have never looked before. In a recent issue of the American Magazine, Henry Ford said: "Is it sufficient for business to pay high land prices and high taxes in congested cities where its workers must pay exorbitant rents? By moving out business could get lower rents—and far better living conditions for its people."

A woman of fine christian character, Mrs. Jos. Nighswander, succumbed to an illness of some months, when she passed away on Saturday May 18th, at Midday. Since coming to Stouffville 22 years ago she had lived in the house where she died, one door west of the Mennonite church, and it was here that her husband also died a little more than 10 years ago. Mrs. Nighswander was a daughter of pioneer parents to Altona, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hoover, and it was in that section that she spent all her life until moving into town. With her husband they farmed the present Wm. Lewis place. No children were born to her marriage, and she is survived by an only sister Mrs. Chris. Stouffer. Martin Hoover of Locust Hill is an only brother. Mrs. Nighswander was reared in the Mennonite faith, and she followed religiously its teachings, and passed away in the faith and hope of the true christian. The funeral on Monday afternoon to Stouffville cemetery took place from the late home. The divine service was in charge of Rev. S. S. Shantz, and the pall bearers were Messrs. N. Stouffer, Ab. Stouffer, Jacob Boadway, Noah Baker, Martin Reesor and Wm. Connor.

The local Chinese Laundry has again changed hands. Leun Kon of Toronto is the new proprietor and he is now in possession.

On Monday, Mrs. A. E. Paisley left on the evening train for Toronto enroute to Garfield, Sask., where she will spend the summer months at the home of her daughter.

Stouffville Citizens Band have engaged Mr. Dohney of the 48th, Highlanders band as their leader. Mr. Dohney won first prize for Ont. with his Weston Band in 1914, also with his Overseas Band in 1918. We are glad to learn that the band will be in existence this summer again.

Mr. J. E. Cober, Pontiac Agent has found business so good that he has enlarged his show rooms in Markham village by renting the old Crosby store adjoining his present premises. Mr. Cober expects to secure the agency for the new Marquette car advertised by General Motors to be on the market June 1st.

A traveller informs us that "on Monday this week he was in Cobalt, and there was good sleighing. Huge loads of pulpwood were being hauled over the roads on sleighs. This probably explains the reason for the cold north winds of the past week, with so much snow within three hundred miles it is not surprising that we have cool weather."

Mr. James Elson has rented his mill pond at Glasgow but just what the new tenants intend to use it for Mr. Elson is not sure. It may be made a fish preserve or perhaps a hatchery. Mr. Elson entered into the lease with a Toronto organization, but it is rumored that the government are behind the project. The premises are being fenced and trespassing signs erected this week.

In the locality about Stouffville there are 20 English lads who were brought to this country and placed in farm homes by the Fegan Home of England. Last Thursday evening the head of this philanthropic movement, Mrs. Fegan, came to Stouffville and met all the lads at Porters ice cream parlors where they enjoyed a brief reunion and picture views of the old home of their adoption across the seas. The Fegan Home in England has a farm in connection with the work, but many of the boys are brought to Canada at 15 years of age where every effort is made to place them in good homes.

A popular petition has been circulation the past week to present to the council at their next meeting in the hope of stimulating that body into action with respect to better street lighting in Stouffville. Those who took the petition along Main street tell us that not one man refused to sign, and some who were overlooked through absence from town, went to the trouble to get on the list later. It has been pointed out that Stouffville is the only place of its size in York street lighting on only one side of the Main street. The citizens desire better lighting and the council, who often style themselves the servants of the people are called upon to carry out the wishes of the majority. The old cry of too high tax rate need not apply in this instance, as the expense of putting up the necessary lamps will come out of hydro electric funds earned and now in the bank. The next regular meeting night of the council is Friday June 7th.

Somebody has removed the "stop" signs at the 10th concession, the action of which nearly caused an accident and altercation between two motorists at the intersection leading north one evening last week. A driver coming around the corner from the north made the turn at a lively clip, and narrowly averted colliding with another car about to turn north. The vision at this point is obscured by an old building on the corner. Both cars pulled into the ditch in the effort to avert the threatened collision. The chap going north commenced to arraign the other driver for not obeying the stop sign, as the speed with which he made the turn indicated he hadn't so much as slowed down. The man from the north didn't take kindly to the criticism, and declared he always obeyed "stop" signs. In order to prove this statement to be one only comparable to an Annanals, the gentry walked around the corner intending to point out the sign, when lo, there was nothing there but a post hole. Someone had taken down the sign. Both men saw the joke, and parted smiling. A new sign should be put up at this point without delay.

Congratulations are due Miss Edna Hoover (Ted) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lud Hoover, on passing her second year examinations at the Ontario College of Art on every subject, and in addition she received honor standing in the commercial class, on which she was taking a specialists course. This is a splendid accomplishment, and the many friends of this Stouffville girl will be delighted to learn of her progress.

There is a local bylaw which prohibits the setting off of fire crackers on the Main street, an act which some lads were guilty of last Saturday night. Constable Pennock was after them, but they eluded him, although he held the names of the offenders. The boys should observe the law in this regard, as the crackers are liable to cause injury in different ways. In fact, someone threw one in fun at the feet of one of the town girls. It exploded and burned the young lady's stockings. Ladies' hosiery these days runs into big sums and the damage therefore may not have been small.

CARD OF THANKS

We hereby wish to express our deep and heartfelt thanks to all the friends, who in our recent time of sickness and sad bereavement, have helped us so willingly. Those who brought flowers and fruit in the time of sickness, those who helped in the time of death in the home, or by use of automobile, others who sent flowers, those who sang for us and the words of sympathy sent to us and all who helped in any way, we heartily appreciate.
