POPPY DAY, SAT., NOV. 9th

Next Monday is Thanksgiving Day and a public holiday.

Special sale this Thursday, Friday and Saturday in all lines of millinery at Mrs. M. E. Watt's.

Allan Goudie has moved into the new house just completed on Church street north for Rev. Mr. Lee who expects to retire here at some future date.

Around $1600 has been spent on new cement sidewalks in Stouffville this summer, and the council appear to have got splendid work done. The citizens appreciate the new walks and next year a similar expenditure ought to be made to rebuild some still very bad sidewalks which it is impossible to construct this season.

The citizens will be glad to know that the council are now making some headway towards implementing their promise to put up more street lamps, and it now looks as though the expected extra lights will be installed within a month. 18 addition lamps will be put up, which should make a wonderful improvement to our street after dark.

Reg Stouffer who completed his matriculation in Stouffville school, has taken a position as clerk in Brathwaite's hardware store.

The usual pranks were performed on Halloween night, but no particular damage was done. The boys (and girls) were extra good this year, but it didn't diminish their fun judging by the action of the young folk on the streets. Over in the hall about a hundred young people enjoyed a Halloween social. Harry Pennock and Viola Lehman were congratulated on providing some of the evening's enjoyment.

The Gordon Eckardt Co. of Bell Ringers and entertainers will appear at Ratchiff's Hall, on Monday evening Nov. 11, to present their varied program of songs, stories, and instrumental numbers, playing the original peal of Swiss Hand Bells imported by T. Eckardt over thirty years ago. A special feature, this season is the Carman Gay Gypsy Band, an all girls five piece orchestra. Dance is free to concert patrons after the concert, music for dancing by Carman Gay Gypsy Band.

One of the surprises of the provincial election was the defeat of Mr. W. M. Pearson in North York. Case rolled up a majority of 332 in Aurora while Newmarket gave Mr. Pearson only 88. The Township of King voted for Case. Sutton gave him a majority of 120, and Holland Land- ing 32. In Whitchurch Pearson pulled out a good majority. Lemoville giving a majority of 33 and Bloom- ington 104. Mr. Pearson was handi- capped with ill health throughout the campaign. The total Case majority is over 200.

For those municipalities that have gotten away from the old time municipal election date on New Years the nomination will be on Nov. 25th. It would be a lot better if Stouffville council would enact a similar bylaw as that in many places whereby we could hold our nomination on Nov. 25th with the election the following week. It simply means that the financial year of the municipality would end at that time instead of Dec. 15th, which would eliminate the bother of nomination and elections coming right in the Christmas and New Year holiday season. Why not submit the question to the ratepayers?

The Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec met in Ottawa from October 18th to 24th this year. Rev. C. E. MacLeod of Stouffville was in attendance, and was re-elected as secretary-treasurer. An outstanding feature of the Convention this year was the decision to raise $300,000 for foreign mission work, to be followed by the announcement of three men that they would raise $100,000 of this amount by their own subscriptions. An invitation was received from the Hamilton Chamber of Commerce to hold their next convention in that city. Christopher Cook of Brantford city was elected president for the ensuing year, Gideon Grant, K. C., and D. D. McTavish, both of Toronto, vice-presidents.

As Christmas draws near the old question of "what shall I give?" comes to the fore. For many the question may be readily answered in this issue by W. J. Mather the local furniture dealer who is offering a big special in the famous Ruddy Kitchen Cabinets, made in various designs. With every order placed now $7 worth of staple groceries are given away absolutely free. The gift is not added to the price of the cabinet either and if you are in need of this appreciated and useful piece of furniture without, come in and see the display. Look over the beautiful designs. If you want one, we will hold it until Christmas if desired on a very small payment. Settle the question today. Come in and see for yourself, and get the prices on the various lines. The display adv. in this paper will give you the list of groceries we are giving away free.

The anniversary services in the United Church last Sunday were largely attended, especially, at the evening service. In the morning Rev. W. E. Wilson, pastor of the King street church and chairman of the East Toronto Presbytery delivered the sermon. To assist in maintaining this down-town church Mr. Wilson conducts a small store down in the basement. Those who are so minded bring along goods for the preacher to sell and altogether a fund that will enable the work of the church to be carried on in what is regarded as an unprofitable district for a church to operate in. Not that a church is looking for profit, but it must have funds to sustain the work. Besides special music by the choir a male quartet sang. At the evening service Rev. R. Pogue, pastor of St. Enoch's Church spoke to a full house which occupied a portion of the gallery, and every available seat in the body of the church. The choir of Claremont United Church rendered two anthems which were greatly appreciated, while one of their number also sang a solo. A special offering for the day was asked for of $500, and we understand the amount was realized.

Stouffville will have a winter Chautauqua next February.

Lorne Reid former blacksmith of Stouffville who moved to Claremont and then Toronto, has now gone to the United States to take a position.

P. Dike, farmer and peanut vendor at auction sales, brought a sample of cabbage into Stouffville last Saturday with sixteen heads on the one root. Each head was perfectly formed and sound, about the size of a baseball. This freak is not unknown in the early cabbage, but is seldom to be found in the late varieties.

An aeroplane from Toronto flew over Stouffville on Saturday afternoon, and after attracting considerable attention, landed in a field on the farm of Mr. Paisley on the ninth concession of Whitchurch. From this point 5 minute flights were made taking on local passengers at $4 each. Among those who got a view of the old town for the first time from the clouds were Glenn Ratchiff, Paul Lintner, Otta Giebner, Orval Wideman, Peter Raymer and Miss Grace Ratchiff. All the passengers declared the short trip as delightful, none of them experiencing any fear or unpleasantness.

The village of Bradford in Simcoe County, while one of the oldest hamlets on the map has no domestic water supply and no mains ever been laid in the village even for fire purposes. But next January the ratepayers are to vote on a bylaw authorizing the council to install a domestic system costing $54,000. This figure includes the cost of sinking wells, standpipe, mains and 40 hydrants. The wells will be sunk near the station, and the water pumped to the highest point in the village then into a huge tank. It is estimated that the average small household will pay 5c per day for their domestic water supply or at $18.25 per year. This charge would be as much as Stouffville users are called on to pay for our supply in seven homes under our present low rates.

The public auction sale on the farm of W. E. Meredith in Uxbridge Township on Tuesday of last week was very well attended considering the disagreeable weather that prevailed. The fine herd of dairy cattle were all disposed of although prices were not so good as prevailed at some sales in the neighborhood this season. The best price obtained on cows was $110, with a low range of $80. A number of the animals were eligible for registration or registered, but this didn't seem to affect the price. Some of the milkers were not fresh and this seemed to mitigate against a high price, good grade critters brought just as much as the aristocrat. Pigs went very well at $40 for sows while sheep of choice breeding sold for $16 and $18 a head. Some of the implements were not disposed of, the binder for one thing being overlooked. On account of this and the bad weather which necessitated the crowd going home earlier than otherwise. Mr. Meredith will have another sale next spring before he finally leaves the farm. George Keays acted as auctioneer.

Probably the first time in the history of our electric light service has an accident on the streets of Toronto affected our service, and last Wednesday night when a street car broke away going down the hill on Bathurst street, it crashed into one of the main lead poles of the hydro system and put that part of the city and country throughout Markham into darkness for a couple of hours. With so many interruptions of late in the service in Stouffville a good deal of complaining is heard.

On Sunday and Monday last the hunters left for the northern zone where deer abound. Stouffville and district is always well represented in this sportsman's paradise, and the following have gone: Wm. Reesor, Delbert Holden, Ed. Baker, Vincent Baker, George Storey Wm. Armstrong, Robt. Hare F. D. Nighswander, Roy Strong, F. L. Button and E. A. Button. For this party Jim Little has gone along as chief cook. Jim is a professional as a camp cook and promises to give the boys cookies. "Just like mother used to bake." These men went to Ardbeg in the Parry sound District. Another group which left on Sunday night by automobile for Rutter Station, Lake Nipissing, included Norman Steckley, Peter and Murray Clendening and Job. Scott. The latter is a member of the Toronto police force, but he won't find it any easier to arrest a deer than will the boys who are not members of the force.
