This is the season of the year when many beautiful shrubs are cut down to be used as Christmas trees. Farmers who have any evergreen on their property are liable to be victimized by vandals unless they keep a sharp watch.

Mr. Percy Brentnell who will be remembered as teller in the Bank of Commerce here two years ago, when he left for Oshawa, has entered into business for himself. Mr. Brentnell and his brother have formed a partnership in a bakery business in Woodville, near Beaver-ton.

John McKinnon, who is an ex-councillor, is likely to be a candidate for office again, this year after being out of harness the past 12 months.

A woman in Toronto charged that rural mail carriers could not read. If this were true, what a lot of good entertainment they have missed especially in the post card season.

Stouffville merchants have prepared well for this Christmas season. The window shopper can enjoy the season, while the stores are laden with Christmas gift goods.

Mr. Edw. Walls this week purchased the large brick house on the 10th concession north of the cemetery, belonging to Mrs. George Boardway. This property is fairly convenient to the small farm Mr. Walls purchased just south of the cemetery from Walter Dickson. Edward keeps east end real estate on the move.

The mite boxes belonging to the W.M.S. of the United Church were recently emptied and the contents, all in silver amounted $25.40, and weighed 6 1/2 pounds. This contribution on the part of the ladies, is from what is known as "pin" money. When you have an odd copper in change drop it in the box, which all goes to show how the little odds and ends which no one misses, mounts up when taken collectively.

Mrs. Clifford Soden of Claremont died suddenly at her home in Toronto last week at the early age of 31 years. She was a daughter of the late C. O. Bennett of Claremont, and formerly of Uxbridge where the late Mr. Bennett conducted the Mansion House for so many years. The death of Mrs. Soden came as a great shock to her friends at Claremont. Mrs. Ross Soden of Stouffville, is a sister-in-law.

The municipal nomination meeting takes place next Monday evening in Ratcliff's Hall for Stouffville ratepayers. It is hoped that the citizens will show their interest by being present. From 7.30 to 8.30 p.m. nominations will be received for reeve, councillors, cemetery commissioner and three school trustees. Whitechurch ratepayers meet in the afternoon at Vandroif, and Markham ratepayers at Unionville, Uxbridge in Goodwood.

Walter Dickson has sold his 39 acres of land on the 10th concession to Edward Walls, who intends to erect a bungalow on the property next spring. For some years Mr. Dickson has worked this property in conjunction with his acreage on Main street. It is situated just south of the cemetery grounds. Mr. Dickson has purchased six acres of land from George Simpson, known as the Arthur Yake place. Mr. Simpson retained the house, barns and a few acres.

One of the longest subscribers to The Tribune is Thos Kellington who rendered his subscription last week. Mr. Kellington is living at Bloomington although he spent all his more active life on the farm south of Island Lake on the 10th concession. Mr. Kellington is over 70 years of age, but he looks about 60 and recalls the events of 50 years ago as he remembers the doings of a week back. When the first railway train came through Stouffville Mr. Kellington was working in Robt. Sangster's swamp at Lincolnville assisting his father to get out a few sticks of cedar. On hearing the first train whistle young Kellington as he was at that time ran through the swamp a half mile to the tracks and saw the old wood burner engine go rushing by the first one over this line of railway.

The sight gave Thos. Kellington a thrill which he has remembered for over 50 years.

The auditorium of the Stouffville school was well filled on Thursday evening for the annual concert by the children of the public school. The various items were well received and each held big interest for the audience. A wealth of ability was displayed in the 18 varied lines on the list rendered by the tiny tots in first room to the older pupils in fifth room. Certificates were presented to the entrance class of last midsummer. The chairman stated that of 59 pupils trying entrance from Stouffville school in the last three years all had been successful with one single exception. Credit is due Principal Watson and his staff of the school. With the appearance of Santa Claus who came rolling in, and presented the prizes from the tree, the evening program was concluded. Many expressed approval of holding the concert in the school, giving the parents an opportunity to see the interior of this fine building for the first time in some instances.

The Tribune will be sent to any address in Canada for $2. to the end of Dec. 1930. United States points $2.50.

In the next issue of this paper Cober & Cober, radio dealers will announce in detail their new radio service department. Sooner or later every radio requires expert attention and this firm carries all repairs with experienced workmanship to install them. There is no radio set they cannot fix, so watch for their special display advertisement.

Messrs. Edw. Baker, Edwin Lloyd and A. V. Nolan are the three members of the Stouffville school board whose term of office expires this year. We have not heard of any new names to fill these positions, but a keener interest may be taken in the school as well as the council elections as the nomination date draws nearer.

Prices for poultry are not likely to rule high at the Christmas market in Stouffville today (Thursday). Turkey prices especially will be easier, but there is very little of this fowl raised here. The heavy supply of fowl now in storage and the American tariff which has advanced to 7c per pound, are the two contributing factors to easy prices.

ON THE RIGHT SIDE OF THE ROAD QUESTION

Since the expression of opinion in these columns a couple of weeks ago that the council was not moving fast enough on the road question towards securing an engineer to survey the west end for storm sewers, Reeve Sanders assures us that he is on the right side of the road question. He has interviewed Engineer Rose who says there will be plenty of time to bring on the engineer next spring. We are glad the reeve is keeping abreast of this question, and the ratepayers will be pleased to learn that Engineer Rose is satisfied to have the survey held over until 1930 without endangering our chances of a high class road within a short time.

★ FOR ★ CHRISTMAS

THE gift that many men will give their families this Christmas will be a Rogers-Batteryless Radio. We say this without hesitation, because, at the new low prices now in effect, the 1930 Eight-tube Rogers is unquestionably the greatest radio value in Canada.

Four Christmases ago (and that is a long time in the radio industry) Rogers blazed the trail for all of the electric radios that are on the market this Christmas.

Even the word "batteryless" was coined by Rogers to describe this Canadian invention—the first radio in the world to operate successfully without batteries!

First in the field in 1925, the Rogers is still first in standards of reliability and outstanding performance. Proven for the past five years in thousands of Canadian homes, you cannot possibly make a mistake in choosing, for Christmas the...
