One of Canada's outstanding artists, Elsie McLuhan, will give a program of recitations and character sketches in the United Church on Wednesday, April 9th, at 8 p.m.

Those who went to Toronto last Thursday night in the hope of seeing the greatest hockey match in all Canada in amateur lineups were handed a lemon so to speak. The game was such a walk-over for Montreal, that in the last period the big crowd was surging out of the arena five to ten minutes before the final gong sounded. More thrilling games have been witnessed in the Stouffville arena.

Last week Roy Strong, the Central garage proprietor, received word that his father, Mr. Sam Strong, was lying seriously ill at Niagara Falls. In a few hours from receiving the message "Red" was at the Falls, when he learned that his father had just a bare chance of recovery. He is suffering from appendicitis, but had been treated for stomach trouble until the abscess on the appendix broke. For a year or two Mr. Strong has been living at Virgil at which place he resided when rushed to the hospital.

Mrs. Percy Allan of Vandorf was in Stouffville last Friday, and collected a very substantial sum toward the expense of wiring the United Church at Vandorf, where hydro power is shortly to be installed.

The small adv. column of The Tribune is a wonderful salesman. One little adv. inserted by Mr. Sam Fretz brought over Frank Stiver the grain merchant, who purchased a fancy gray colt Mr. Fretz wished to sell.

The Business Men's Bible Class of Uxbridge has secured Mr. Denton Massey to speak at a special men's service to be held in the United Church of that town, on Sunday evening, April 13th.

A move is on foot in the town of Whitby to billet 300 Shriners there. A further proof that a few hundred might have been arranged for to billet in Stouffville, if only some organization would undertake the matter of locating homes, and getting in touch with the billeting headquarters in Toronto which is in action on this work now.

Considerable local interest is being created in the sale of horses belonging to G. A. M. Davison, to be held in Unionville on Tuesday, April 8th. Among the animals to be sold are work horses, hackneys and Shetland ponies, standard bred trotters and pacers, saddle horses and hunters. Mr. Davison is a noted horseman, and his sale will attract a great many admirers. It will open at one o'clock.

Claremont village commissioners are considering the matter of ringing the curfew bell again. A number of young boys are running the streets at night when they ought to be at home, and they make themselves a nuisance at times. Ringing the curfew bell has been mooted in Stouffville on more than one occasion, for there are many young lads running the streets here at night who might be better employed at home.

On Saturday of last week Mrs. John Hamilton, now living at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Turner, reached her 91 birthday. Records which recently have been considered show that Mrs. Hamilton is of this great age, although in these columns on previous occasions her age has been given a few years under 91. Mrs. Hamilton is in fairly good health, and best wishes from her many friends are extended to her on this birthday occasion. She is especially grateful to the Women's Institute of Stouffville for sending her a handsome bouquet of flowers, in honor of this great occasion.

J. H. Silverthorn took over the Standard Garage business on Monday morning this week, succeeding Robt. Woodcock who moved to Markham that same day. This garage was established by Baker Bros. who took over from A. Swift when he built across the road from the present place. The Standard building served for many years and was built by the late W. H. Todd as a carriage factory and blacksmith shop, which automatically ceased business with the coming of the automobile.

That dogs, which have been accorded the freedom of the streets since the incorporation of Stouffville, must obey the indictment hurled against them by the municipal council last year, was evidenced for a second time last week, when the municipal body ordered John Gower to shoulder his gun, and lay low a few canines which had been aimlessly running the streets and disturbing the peaceful slumber of west end citizens. Two mongrels have been destroyed, while a third was taken into captivity to give the owner a chance to redeem the cur. The alertness of the council may be taken as a mark of their determination to enforce the dog bylaw, although had it not been for the night prowling and the vulgarity of the brutes on the streets, the bylaw might not have been rigidly enforced until the flower beds are put in, when their bone-hung instincts and love for fresh ground becomes a menace. However, with a council showing blood in their eyes through a fusillade of bullets, the puppies would be well advised to keep under cover except when "under control." With council receiving a fresh mandate from the people by way of an acclamation in January, after having passed the bylaw last year, it may be construed that the citizens in general want the bylaw observed.

Mr. Harry Paisley has rented Mr. Alf. Pugh's house in the east end directly opposite Leavens' general store.

With a fair blanket of snow covering the ground right up to the present time, the fall wheat area has come through the winter fine, and with plenty of warm weather now will show wonderful growth.

Delos Graham of Ringwood is a successful well driller, for he usually gets water when he goes after it. Just recently he has secured a good well on the farm of Jos. Forsyth at Glasgow at a depth of 95 feet.

Petitions to open and counter petitions not to open the business places in the town of Uxbridge for three nights a week, is the stimulus of a nice little war along the broadway of our northern neighbor just now. At the present time a bylaw forbids the opening of stores excepting on Saturday nights, and the action of the council is now being watched to see if they will allow those business houses to open who are anxious to do so.

The death in Toronto on Saturday of Edwin Forsyth, retired farmer, removes a former resident of Markham, where he farmed some years ago, and his daughter taught school there. He passed away at the residence of his son at 117 Perth Avenue following an attack of pneumonia. He was a member of the United Church, and was 73 years of age. There survives two sons, Irwin and Roy, and one daughter, Miss Lillian, all of Toronto.

Councillor Joe. Borinsky and wife were in Toronto on Sunday for the purpose of attending the memorial service held in the Imperial Theatre for Lord Balfour, who restored Palestine to the Jews. Rabbi Abramowitz of Montreal declared in the meeting that whatever faults the Jew may have, "no one can accuse him of ingratitude, and for the British nation he declared that so long as Great Britain continued to produce men of Balfour's stamp, the world would never lose faith in the justice of the British people.

Dr. D. C. Smith was called to Woodville last week, owing to the death of his sister, Miss Mattie E. Smith, of the Kitchener public school staff, who expired suddenly at the Kitchener hospital from a heart attack. As a tribute to her memory, the public schools of Kitchener were closed, and the remains were followed to the station by the Board of Education, as well as the teachers and pupils. Mr. Carmichael, supervisor of the Kitchener public schools, officially represented the Board of Education, and teaching staff at the funeral at Woodville on Saturday.

If that witty mayor of Hollywood were in Stouffville now he would be apt to tell the world of radio fans that the Stouffville council are suffering from the foot and mouth disease. Reeve Sanders has just had some teeth extracted, while Councillor Ward has been nailing with threatened "maize" on his heel.

Mrs. H. Porter was called to Peterboro recently to attend the funeral of her youngest brother, Cassie Roy Peacock, who died from pneumonia following a month's illness. Born in Manvers Township he was the youngest of a family of eight children (five sisters and three brothers) and passed away in his 32nd year.

One of our weather, profits who generally forecasts about right tells us that weather the latter part of March decides what we might expect until near the middle of April or to the 14th of the month. There will not be much warmer weather until after the eclipse which will be a double one.

The death took place in Markham village on Sunday of Mrs. Charles Leadbetter, wife of the Markham butcher, and mother of Harry Leadbetter and Mrs. R. Woodcock, formerly of Stouffville. Mrs. Leadbetter whose maiden name was Florence M. Taylor, was 66 years of age. The funeral on Wednesday took place at Grace Church cemetery Markham.

This is the season of the year when farmers and others are pestered with agents soliciting subscriptions for newspapers and magazines. Invariably they charge a higher price than the subscription could be obtained for through local dealer, and they exact money from you when you just haven't got it to spare if you wish to take or renew your subscription to any daily paper telephone The Tribune office. We are official agents, and can secure a rate for you that is not authorized by any canvassers or other agents. Not long ago a local reader paid for a Toronto paper and was promised a silver spoon, but the article never arrived, which is evidence that it is safer to do your business with an established home office.

The Markham Economist has some nice things to say about some of the Stouffville talent which visited that town recently with the local Choral Society concert. While the concert was not a financial success for the hockey boys, it was none-the-less enjoyed by those present. The paper goes on to say: "The Stouffville Choral Society won laurels on the occasion of their recent visit here under the auspices of the Markham Hockey Club. Miss Ivy Saunders and young lady directly behind her on the stage (we failed to get her name) captured the audience with their fine personality and whole spoiled singing. Mr. Harold Sanders will doubtless some day charm the Legislative Halls of our Province by his distinguished tenor voice. Evidently the "Smiths" are not only noted for their good looks but also possess singing qualities of a very high order." Dr. Neil Smith for example.

The auction sale on the farm of Harry Paisley last Thursday drew a tremendous crowd, and prices ruled high on the average. The feature of the sale was the bids on cattle which came fast and with little effort on the part of the auctioneer. The dairy cattle proved a choice herd, and this no doubt helped to strengthen prices. An average for milk cows of $120 was made, while the highest priced animal brought $136. Robt. Barnett, J. Kollington, and a Mr. Armstrong from West Hill were among the chief buyers of cows. Horses which have been hard to obtain fair prices on sold off readily, very ordinary critters selling as high as $130. A binder sold for $150 and a drill at $100, while other implements with the compelling influence of the auctioneer sold well. The sale totaled $3658, a figure which is no doubt highly gratifying to Mr. Paisley.
