

MILL OWNERS CHANGE

Mr. A. Wilson from Carville Mill Richmond Hill has taken over the ownership of the mill property of the late Joseph Leary at Whitevale. Mr. Wilson has been in the milling business for some twelve years and has put the new property in first class shape to handle general chopping work. The present capacity of the mill is about three hundred bags and it is in the mind of the new owner to do considerable machinery replacement in the near future to give a better service to his patrons.

GOODWOOD

Our obliging road foreman, Wm. Todd, was "under the weather" a few days last week.

The county road through the village has been treated to a coat of calcium chloride, to lay the dust. It is greatly appreciated.

Watch for bills announcing the big annual strawberry festival given by the United church Sunday school on Friday, June 27th, on the church lawn. "Fickle Fortune," is the popular drama to be given by Lindsay talent.

There was an overplus of roast beef and brown gravy here on Saturday. The host to our councillors had a real banquet prepared for the fathers who never turned up at the accustomed time of 12 noon. Could there be a mistake in the date? No, but there was in the hour. The host never noticed the time in which council was to meet changed from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Mr. D. McDonald and Rev. A. Harden participated in conferring Masonic ritual on two of our residents when they joined Richardson Lodge, Stouffville, last Friday night. The goat riders were Morley Symes and Walter J. Brown. J. F.

Reid, was also present with his other brethren, and took an active part in what those Masons call the fourth degree.

A great deal of interest was manifested in the football match between Goodwood and Claremont played in the park at Claremont on June 7th. Both teams had many fans present to cheer them to victory. It was a splendid exhibition of football. The combination was good and there was no roughness. The referee was an hour late, and what was to have been a league game was made an exhibition game, with Claremont winning 3-1. The league game will be played at a later date. Some of the sporting elements had bets up at 2-1 in favor of Goodwood.

Shooting a reporter of a Chicago paper as a threat to the big dailies against their activities in publishing news that was not acceptable to "gangland" has proved the most serious thing the gangsters have run up against. The whole energies of the law is bent in hunting down the murderer. Threatening newspapers with violence is a dangerous practise in any form, and is usually severely dealt with.

INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER
(From Dept. of Agriculture)Time to Repair Barn

The best time to do any of the needed repair work on the barn or buildings is in the late spring or early summer. The hay mows are then empty so that stalls can be renewed, posts moved if desired, changes made in windows and doors, ventilating flues installed, and other needed equipment put in. Having things handy around the barn is a great advantage in lessening labor as well as in saving time.

Dangers in Fenced Fields

One of the greatest dangers on farms with many fenced fields is of piling up too many furrows against the fences. On some farms this has been practised for so long that embankments half as high as the fence are around some fields. Persistent back-turrowing here, and there will bring such land into shape after a time. One rule should be never to plow a field the same way twice in succession. With the proper laying out and handling of "lands" it is possible to keep fields free from objectionable "dead furrows" and ridges. It is the matter of having the shape of the land in mind all the time.

Veteran Hen Dies

The "oldest hen resident" of Berrie Township, Welland County, died last month after a career extending over twenty years. She was "Granny," a Plymouth Rock owned by Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lawson of Ridgeway. Hatched in 1910, the Methuselah of Welland hens had spent her entire 20 years and one month on the same farm. In her younger years she regularly hatched two broods of chicks per year, and in 1930 her last working year, "Granny" was set on pheasant eggs to hatch. When the pheasants were not discernible after 21 days, she walked away from the nest and failed to return. Pheasant's eggs take 28 days. The venerable deceased sported spurs which measured 1 3/4 inches. She now rests under the old snow apple tree.

The Farmer's Problems

"We are as yet in the schoolboy stage in regard to intensive agriculture in Ontario" was a remark recently heard. Nature richly endowed the soil of Ontario but there are parts where the response is not quite so brisk as formerly. There must be as much returned to the soil as is removed in crops if continued bumper yields are to be harvested. The question to decide on each farm is, what is required and how may it most advantageously be applied. The farms carrying a heavy stock are in the best heart but here the question of how to make the best use of the feed grown comes up for consideration.

Clark, former secretary of the Toronto Horticultural Society, and superintendent of horticulture for the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, has been appointed lecturer in horticulture to succeed Mr. H. J. Moore. Mr. Clark is an ardent horticulturist and has been closely identified with the work of the department for some time as judge and lecturer. His services will be available for meetings, etc., in connection with the work of the Horticultural Societies of Ontario, through the efforts of the officers and directors of the Ontario Horticultural Association have accomplished so much in the way of beautifying Ontario during the past score of years.

Current Crop Report

Reports of an optimistic nature have been received during the past few days from no less than 32 agricultural representatives in various districts throughout the province. Despite the fact that some injury was caused by cold weather in the latter part of May and growth was retarded in some sections because of lack of moisture, the general theme of these reports reflects the promise of abundant crops in a general way over the province. Recent rains have brought the meadows and pastures on rapidly. Alfalfa, clover and hay promise instances. Fall wheat is showing excellent growth in most localities. Livestock is showing rapid improvement since going on the grass. Early strawberries suffered by reason of the early frost, but other fruits in most counties are in a satisfactory condition, considering the vagaries of the weather during the past two months, the situation throughout Ontario is very encouraging.

MAKE THE MEADOWS PAY

Ontario usually has about four and one half million acres of hay crops each year. In passing across the province just before haying one cannot help feeling that many of these acres are not paying the taxes and the cost of handling the crop. Statistical reports indicate an average yield of only one and one-half tons to the acre and this can certainly be much improved upon. For the meadows, good drainage and sweet soil are very important. Roots of grasses and clovers are slow to penetrate wet soils and wherever there is a surplus of water on the soil, air is shut out and hence the bacterial life is either weakened or killed. Another point in meadow improvement is the use of high quality seed. If poor seed is used the meadow starts out with a handicap. Good drainage, good seed, and a liberal supply of suitable fertilizer make profitable meadows.
