The first warm rain of the spring season came down on Sunday morning as a nice thunder shower, and as a result the meadow lands are real green again, and the grass is shooting up aptly. The maples seemed to have come into almost full leaf since the warm rain also.

Congratulations are due Messrs. George Lawson and Marvyn Lemon, two local boys, who have just completed a second year course at the University of Toronto. Marvyn succeeded in getting a clear pass, while George was a few marks short on a couple of subjects which he is entitled to write off during the summer. This week George left for New Ontario where he has taken a position with a construction co. at Kirkland Lake. As he is taking an engineering course this summer work is right in line with his studies.

Midweek programs withdrawn at the Auditorium Theatre owing to poor business.

The citizens should patronize the school concert to be held on Tuesday, May 19. The general admission is only 25 cents. Remember, Ratcliff's Hall at 5 p.m.

On Thursday of last week Mrs. Ambrose Stover was suddenly stricken with an attack of acute appendicitis and was rushed to the hospital in Toronto within a few hours of the attack where she immediately underwent an operation which proved highly successful. Mrs. Stover's friends will be pleased to learn, she is making rapid recovery and is expected home the latter part of this week.

Although "Tin Can Day" was slated for Friday of last week, it was Saturday morning before the rubbish was removed from off Main street, while other streets had not been cleaned off on Tuesday. Just the night prior to this annual clean-up event, a heavy rain came down, and made the way into the dumping ground impassable for trucks, hence the delay. It may reasonably be said that the weather fairly "canned" the canned day for a time at least, and where else could one better put the blame.

Miss Rhoda Fuller teacher on the high school staff for the past two years has resigned her position to take effect at the end of this term now drawing to a close. It is not the intention of Miss Fuller to seek another position at the beginning of next term as she finds it necessary to remain home with her mother in St. Mary's. Miss Fuller's resignation will be formally accepted by the school board on Wednesday evening of this week. A teacher of exemplary habits and kindly disposition, her departure from town is not without its regrets.

Most housewives will be shocked when they learn that some people will use the milk bottles for putting coal oil and turpentine in. Such is the case, and one milk dealer had a bottle returned to him last week with enough turpentine left in the bottom to destroy the brushes with which the bottles are washed. For such people who are thoughtless enough to do this sort of trick there is a health law which will deal severely with them. The act forbids milk bottles being used for any purpose other than holding milk. They are the property of the milk dealers and the householders have no right to utilize them for any purpose. If this intimation fails to put an end to such practices as mentioned the Board of Health is likely to look into the matter in a more serious way.

The local Board of Education has had to pay a surgical and medical bill of $101 as a result of a child running a sliver in its leg while playing on one of the teeters at the school grounds. The cost mounted up owing to the youngster having to be taken to the hospital for the final removal of the bit of wood. Fortunate for the ratepayers and for the Board as well, one day prior to the accident the Board took out an accident insurance policy protecting them from financial liability in such cases. The cost of the policy was less than $30 which indemnifies us for a year, and right off the bat we fell into a liability of nearly four times the amount of the premium. This is the first time the school board ever took out an accident policy, but we believe it will not be the last. The insurance company carrying our risk is the London Guarantee & Accident Co., of which Mr. A. C. Burkholder is the local agent.

A native son of Stouffville, died in Lansing, Michigan, on April 12 in the person of Roy E. Davis, son of Mr. Elijah Davis of Lansing, and at one time a furniture dealer in Stouffville. The family left here when Roy was a small boy. Only last summer the deceased visited the old town and enjoyed many happy hours among relatives and former friends of the family. He had been ill for about a week, and died in the hospital of pneumonia. Mr. Davis who was 45 years of age had been a resident of Lansing for 26 years, and for 23 years was employed as book-keeper with the Reo Motor Co. He was widely known in fraternal circles, and made many radio acquaintances a few years ago as program director for station WREO. He was a member of Plymouth Congregational Church in Lansing where he acted as organist for the past 18 years. Surviving are his father Elijah J. Davis, two sisters Mrs. Chas. Miller of Pontiac and Miss Marguerite Davis of Lansing, and one brother Merle Davis also of Lansing.

PIONEER'S DAUGHTER CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. J. Bruce Succumbs to Long Illness.

A life-long resident of this locality passed away just after midnight on Tuesday in the person of Mrs. J. W. Bruce, whose maiden name was Mary Ann Stouffer, a daughter of pioneer parents to this locality.

Her father, Abram Stouffer, came from Pennsylvania. The late Mrs. Bruce was born on the homestead just north of the village 66 years ago, and was one of a family of nine children, seven of whom survive her. They are Mrs. C. Ramer, Mrs. M. Wideman, Misses Elizabeth and Adaline Stouffer, Mrs. S. Hoover, Mrs. J. Boadway and Abram Stouffer, all of this locality. Mrs. Bruce is also survived by a step-daughter, Mrs. (Luella) Creighton of Toronto.

Following her marriage to the late J. W. Bruce, the couple moved to Winnipeg, but finally located in Stouffville where he conducted a blacksmith shop for years. Mr. Bruce died in November 1923. Mrs. Bruce had been in ill health for some years, and for a long time was unable to even leave her room. A member of the Methodist church of former days she was a devout christian woman, and was highly regarded by all who knew her.

The funeral on Thursday afternoon of this week will take place to Stouffville cemetery. The service in the Mennonite church at 2.30 will be conducted by Rev. T. Laidlaw and Rev. S. S. Shantz.

For Saturday this week Cooper's plumbing and heating store announce a special demonstration of the "Norge" electric refrigerator. All owners of refrigerators should be interested in this convenient new type. You are invited to call and see the Norge. There is no obligation to buy. Store next the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Arthur Swift, wife of one of our garage men, in the death of her father which took place at Claremont last weekend. The late Thos. Dehaney was 79 years of age, and had lived in Stouffville for some time with his daughter but at the time of his death was staying with Mrs. W. Swift another daughter. The funeral took place on Monday of this week to Prospect cemetery Toronto.

Dr. Ira Freel is providing cash prizes for the public school oratorical contest in connection with the singing concert in Ratcliff's Hall next Tuesday evening. Only public school children are eligible to compete and the issue will be "The Early History of Stouffville." The four or five competitors in the contest will be allowed only three or four minutes each, hence it will not unduly draw out the program, which promises to be of great interest.

Mr. Fred Chamberlain, a former resident of Whitechurch, but who moved to Toronto a year ago, has returned to this locale, and has purchased the Harry Gilbert place of 50 acres just east of Stouffville on the townline. Mr. Chamberlain also purchased the stock and farm implements just as they are on the place, and on Tuesday moved here to take possession. As between city and country at the present time, Fred says the land is much more preferable. He had a position in Toronto with one of the big transcontinental lines, but steady employment was uncertain and wages had been cut to a minimum, considering living costs there. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain are welcome back to Stouffville, and are to be congratulated on securing this ideal farm home.

Friends in Stouffville and vicinity will be shocked to learn of the death of Miss Mabel Cook which took place at Paterson, N. J. on Wednesday of last week. For some fifteen years Miss Cook had been engaged in the American centre as a registered nurse, and held a very high position in the profession. It was known that her health had not been good of late but her death came as a shock none-the-less. Miss Cook was born and raised at Lemoyne and was a sister to the late Wm. Cook who died so suddenly in 1924, by being asphyxiated in his garage here. The funeral of the late Miss Cook took place at Paterson, on Tuesday of this week, and was attended by Mrs. Edith Cook of Toronto, and by Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Simpson of Ballantrae, the latter being cousins to the deceased.

DISCIPLINE

Last week we had things to say about the teacher and her pupils. Just where does discipline begin? Is it not in the home? If a child has not been taught to obey, and that promptly, if he has not been taught what restraint is, he hasn't been dealt a fair deal. It is every child's right, to know what obedience and restraint is. It is every parents duty to see that these fundamentals are given to the child. There are homes where these matters seem to be reversed. This gives rise to the sentence we have seen on the blackboard at service stations. "Parents who disobey their children are a problem."

Now to return to school discipline, we venture to say that a teacher can readily detect those of her pupils who know what prompt obedience means. Trouble frequently arises with pupils who try to "put it over" the teacher. It has often occurred that children have remarked to the teacher, "My mother said I was to, or not to do so-and-so." What reply can teachers wisely make but to say "Your mother is too busy with her home duties to know just what is needed at school." Then again it often occurs that a child who has to be forcibly restrained at school, can successfully make a case with his interpretation of the affair to his parents, and get them peevish against the teacher.

Did you ever hear the remark made by a parent regarding his child? "Oh, he'll get that taken out of him when he gets to school." The school is expected as a corrective agent. The home looks for the school to overcome home delinquency.

A certain mother was having a hard time with her six-year-old. Why won't you mind me? You mind Miss B., your teacher, don't you? "Oh, I have to mind her." Pedagogue
