

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

For sale—Baby Carriage in good condition. Mrs. Len Tait, Stouffville.

A test of the local water and milk supply taken last week by the Board of Health shows all the liquid supplies to be in a safe condition for domestic use.

Mrs. Tidy is prepared to serve noon-hour hot lunch to the school children at 15c. On wet or stormy days it will be convenient for children to secure this accommodation right across from the school house.

'Mr. O. L. Heise of Gormley reports growing a pumpkin this fall weighing 59 pounds.

Rev. Herbert Lee preached in St. Andrews' United Church last Sunday morning, while the pastor Rev. Mr. Auld took the anniversary service at Cherrywood.

The Seth Parker group from Allandale will present a program in Melville Church on Thursday evening, Oct. 29. They sing the same songs and present the same program as the famous radio group of Parker players.

A heavy frost one night last week nipped some of the mangolds, and formed quite a coating of ice on the watering troughs, farmers tell us. This is the first heavy frost this fall but the evenings are becoming quite cool, and one is glad to wear an overcoat.

The Markham Economist estimates there will be at least four candidates in the field for the Reeve-ship of Markham Township at the coming elections next January. Well, there's nothing like estimating high enough. At least two have intimated to The Tribune that they will be in the field, and no-doubt there are others.

The cash receipts for admissions to Markham Fair this year totalled $2185 as against $2382 received in 1930. The reduction this year is accounted for by the fact that the admission was cut to 25c as against 35c a year ago. However, the grand stand receipts this time exceeded those of a year ago by $130, thus the 19th annual fair, despite the so-called depression went over as one of the best in its history.

One of the finest and largest crops of citrons ever grown in this section was produced this fall on the farm of Mr. Malcolm Connor at Ballantrae. This farmer has enough to supply the demands of the neighborhood for 50 miles around. As an evidence of the wonderful growth Mr. Connor took a citron to the Ballantrae merchant a few days ago weighing 27 pounds.

In keeping with the general fall in prices, scrap iron has come down to a point where it would be a dead loss to ship a carload. Last week a buyer came out from Toronto and bid Mr. Ben. Rexlin just $20 for a large car. Needless to say, Ben. was disgusted with the bid and promptly turned it down. To gather a car load of old iron from far and near paying in cash for it, then storing in ones own yard for many months, only to receive such an offer, is to say the least discouraging. Better days ahead Ben!

Effective with November 1st, 1931, The Toronto Daily Star is advancing its mail subscription rates for six-months and one-year subscriptions. In the past The Daily Star has accepted mail subscriptions at a rate of $2.75 for six months and $5.00 a year. On and after November 1st the rate will be $3.00 for six months or $6.00 for a year. Farmers and others who renew their Star this month may do so at the old rate of $6.75 for Tribune and Star. This is only 75c over the cost of the Daily Star after Nov. 1st. Do not allow this offer to slip by you even though your paper does not expire for some months.

Our townsman William Stewart and in fact the whole Stewart clan had occasion to be joyful and celebrate the eighth day of October (last Thursday) for it was the occasion of the 55th birthday of Mr. Stewart, as well as the wedding anniversary of two of his nephews Messrs. Adam and George Stewart. This younger generation with their wives and families, also Albert Stewart and wife, James and Edw. Evans and family foregathered at the Stewart home on Main street to do honor to the aged grandfather who was taken by complete surprise. Everybody entered into the spirit of the celebration and from the youngest to the very oldest enjoyed the gathering as one of the happiest events of a life time.

In transmitting information to this paper last week there was a serious mistake made somewhere in which we were given to understand that Mrs. Benj. Madill of Strathcona, Alta, had died. Such, we are glad to say, is not correct, although it is a fact that her husband Benjamin Madill is dead, he having passed away following a stroke. The late Mr. Madill was well known in Uxbridge where for long years he was a grain merchant. When his family moved west twenty-five years ago or more he also moved there. Two years ago he married Elizabeth Lloyd of Stouffville, and to her much sympathy is extended in her bereavement. The late Mr. Madill was thrice married, and besides his last wife is survived by several sons and daughters mostly living in western Canada.

Just think how two short weeks ago we all did much perspire. Now down the cellar steps we go to light the furnace fire.

Mrs. S. B. Bray sister of Mrs. S.P. Foote, and a former resident of Stouffville, is home on a visit from Kelowna, B. C. This town has a population of 4,313, situated in Yale district, east of Okanagan Lake, which is a fruit valley and shipping centre as well as an industrial point.

What with the additional tax on coal and now the extra jump in price due to the value of the Canadian dollar in the United States being under normal, those who have their winter supply of fuel in are to be congratulated, and possibly envied by their less fortunate neighbors.

Mr. D. J. Atchison of Toronto was in town last week and was a caller at The Tribune office. When a citizen of the town a few years ago he was a capable member of the school board and an active official in St. James Church.

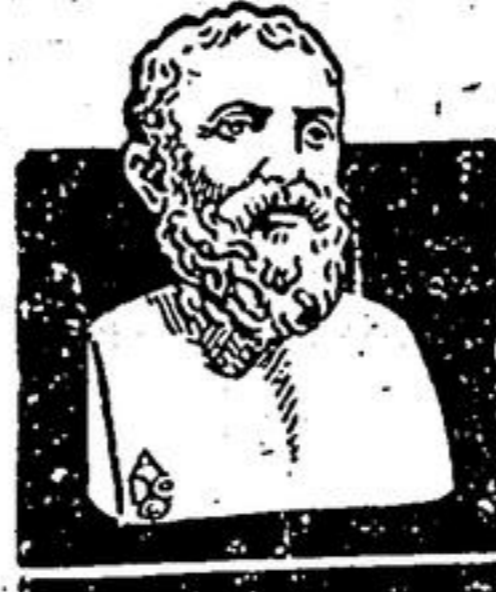

Last week Councillor George Dowswell attended the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Robt. McKenzie, who died at her home in Brock Township, aged 99 years. Despite the fact of being almost a hundred, Mrs. McKenzie was a bright woman and quite active to the last. The funeral from her late home near Victoria Corners took place to Sunderland cemetery, Mr. Dowswell acting as one of the pall bearers.

Henry Ford is credited with the intention of putting on the market next spring a new car that will again surprise the people of the American continent. The new car is to be a six cylinder motored machine fully a foot longer than the car now being sold, is to have the new device known as free wheeling and is to include a number of new creations which, 'tis said, will put the new car in a class not yet approached by other motor car manufacturers. The proof will be the car.

The North Ontario Plowing Match was held last week at Rathburn in the extreme north of the county near Orillia. Despite the fact of the distance a few local plowmen made their way there and landed some of the prize money. In first class jointer Wilfred Ferguson won third and captured $9 in prize fund, while Wm. Timmers came first in high class sod winning $15. D. J. Tran and Lloyd Turner also won a second and third prize respectively, and Edwin Ferguson and Ed. Morris were also winners, the latter in the green horn class.

This issue of The Tribune may be somewhat delayed owing to a combination of circumstances over which we had no control. In addition to the public holiday on Monday which, of course, was observed by the whole staff, ye editor, on Wednesday this week was subpoenaed to appear before Police Magistrate Wm. Keith in connection with the Wideman case at Ringwood. This unfortunate boy, Theodore Wideman, signed a confession to the charge that he had some time last winter tampered with cars in the Ringwood garage, and the Tribune bus happened to be one he mentioned. The case which came up last Friday and which was almost the first on the docket, was shifted to the last and then remanded until this week, after holding two lawyers and a number of witnesses at the court house all morning and half the afternoon.

When we realized that the case had been adjourned it reminded us of the court case where the prisoner after being sentenced to five years by the Judge was asked by his worship if he (the prisoner) had anything to say. "Only this," promptly replied the prisoner, "I think you are mighty liberal with other people's time." If the Tribune is a few hours late this week we hope it will be all the more welcome.

Under auspices of the Community Hall, Victoria Square, a Masquerade Dance will be held on Friday evening, Oct. 30th. Farmer Ball, floor manager, and a list of good prizes will be offered, for best lady in costume, best gent in costume and best couple in costume, also there is a prize for the lucky number ticket holder. Everybody welcome. Ladies 25c and gents 47c. plus tax. Lunch provided.

A general meeting of the town business men is called for this Friday evening (Oct. 16th) in the municipal hall at 8 o'clock. Matters of importance should be dealt with and the note will be burned on this occasion which pledged the funds to the council for building the tower. All obligations have been fully met in this regard and the association have paid all demands and show a small surplus. Secretary

Sutton municipal council passed a bylaw last week, to regulate and control the erection of buildings also additions to buildings erected within the corporation. Such a bylaw has been advocated in Stouffville, and one which we think would prove a good thing. After the passing of such bylaw no buildings could be erected without first obtaining a permit. Instances have occurred where an objectionable business has been established in a residential section thereby reducing the value of residences hundreds of dollars.

Great excitement took place on Main street on Thanksgiving Day when an animal with one extra huge horn, and shaggy hair, visited town. Some people sought safety by jumping fences, others ran behind trees or up on nearby verandas. It was rumoured that a similar animal had been seen on Mr. Levi Forsyth's farm. Several people phoned the farm and were surprised to learn this fierce looking animal was called a goat. Mr. Forsyth and son Floyd hurried to town to find Mr. Floyd had lassoed it and tied it to a tree. Crowds of people now ventured forth to see Levi lead it home by means of a thick string. We are wondering if the goat is responsible for the torn condition of its owner's coat.

An unfortunate accident befel the 10-year-old son (Walter) of Mr. and Mrs. Everton Smith on Tuesday afternoon when the lad suffered a fractured left ankle as a result of being struck by a car driven by Mr. Fred Mowder. Mr. Smith had just passed over the bridge which is being demolished on the townline at Ringwood. The Smith car drew up at the gasoline tanks on the west side of the bridge, when the little fellow unexpectedly jumped out and stepped in front of Mr. Mowder's car travelling close behind. A policeman was summoned and found that the Mowder car stopped in 18 feet. The child was rushed to the doctor where a full extent of the injury was learned. Within a couple of years another child of Mr. and Mrs. Smith lost an eye while playing with other children, while still another member of the family suffered a fractured arm at play. Mr. Smith is probably hoping that this third accident will put an end to his misfortune and seemingly hard luck.

4th LINE UXBRIDGE

Mr. T. Dawson jr. was home over the holiday. Miss Maud Norton spent Sunday with Margaret Wilson on the fifth line.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Staley and children visited with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Talbot at Lemonville.

A number from this line attended the weaner roast held in Ira Redshaw's field last Wednesday evening. Miss Laura Ashenbush was home over the Thanksgiving, after attending the convention held at Beaverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Reesor and family of Cedar Grove also Mr. and Mrs. Elias Stover of Stouffville called at Geo. Jones' last Monday.

Mr. J. Kidd had the pleasure of gathering together a few of the closely school marns and called enroute for Beaverton where the teachers convention was held last week.

Too Late Last Week Mr. Herb. Coppins visited his brother Roy Sunday.

Miss Maud Faulkner and mother spent Monday at J. Faulkner's. Potato digging is the rage this week. Out they come good or bad price.

A number from this line motored to Markham last Saturday to attend the fair. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Drudge of Locust Hill visited at Geo. Jones' last Sunday. The early morning traffic has ended on this line since the tomato factory has closed. Mrs. Geo. Jones visited her uncle and aunt near Markham one day last week. Mr. N. Linton also Mr. Bert Staley called on Dan. Norton on Sunday.
