Are you ready for the chicken pie supper at Melville Church.

If you intend to order Christmas Cards with personal greetings printed, place your order at The Tribune office. Our printing and designs are high quality and up-to-the-minute in style.

Wheat has advanced 20 cents a bushel from 40 to 60c on the local market within the past week or two, but there is little offering. Considering the fact that dealers tell us there is a lot of wheat in this locality, it is a good sign that farmers are able to hold their grain, and not be forced to sell.

Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Smith, Dr. Neil Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Leslie motored to Port Hope and Cobourg on Remembrance Day.

On Sunday last Rev. Herbert Lee conducted the church services on the Melville circuit, while the pastor Rev. T. McNeill officiated at the anniversary services near Keswick.

In the school well at Sandfield, on Manitoulin Island they have struck what appears an oil well. We had shares once in an oil company which worked the other way. They dug a hole in the ground and struck water.

Arrangements are being laid for the annual School Commencement Concert and presentation of diplomas. We understand that a one-act play will be a feature of the program now under preparation by the Literary Society.

An interesting marriage ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening of last week at the home of Rev. Herbert Lee, Church street, when Miss Flossie McNair, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McNair was united in matrimony with George Stanley Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson of Atha. Rev. Mr. Lee performed the ceremony, and it is interesting to note that he also officiated in the marriage of the groom some 26 years ago. At the ceremony last week Miss Evelyn Reesor acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Fred McNair, brother of the bride, as best man. The happy couple are on a honeymoon trip, visiting Paris, Toronto, and other places. Best wishes are extended to them in their new sphere of life.

Curling Club meeting at Curling Rink on Friday, Nov. 20 at 7.30 p.m. Dr. W. A. Sangster, President

Mr. A. B. Bartholomew and two sons, Herb of Toronto and Allan of Newmarket, left last Wednesday for a two weeks hunt in the north.

The town water supply was installed on the farm of Garfield Kellington on the 9th concession of Whitchurch last week. The Stouffville main pipe from the reservoirs passes the Kellington place, which made it possible for them to get the service. Mr. Kellington had to dig 1100 feet of trench and lay pipes the entire length in order to carry the supply from the mains to his house and barns, but the very day the domestic service was ready for use, their old well supply became completely exhausted. The rate to farmers for this service is $18 per year.

A quiet and happy wedding took place last Wednesday evening at the home of Rev. E. Morton, when Alvin Harper and Flossie Hoover, (both of Stouffville) were united to go life's journey together. As the happy couple settle in their new home they have the best of good wishes from a host of friends.

A party of hunters from west of Stouffville met with fair success chasing deer in the Haliburton district last week. The group was composed of Robt. Ratcliff, Donald Ratcliff, Chas. Atkinson and our local merchant Jas. Ratcliff. They brought home two nice animals, and had a look at a few others that their rifles failed to halt.

Rev. Dr. Holling of Lindsay, president of the Lindsay Presbytery, will take the Business and Young Men's Bible Class next Sunday afternoon, and will bring up for discussion a topic selected by himself. Every old and young man, as well as every business man, are cordially invited to hear Dr. Holling on a subject which will no doubt create a lively discussion.

The monthly meeting of the W.M.S. was held in the United Church school room on Thursday afternoon Nov. 12th. There was a large attendance. Mrs. G. S. Vernon of Uxbridge, president of the W.M.S. was the guest speaker. A special thank offering was taken. Tea was served. The room was tastefully decorated with flowers and plants.

Every few days we see some of the town professional and business men hieing off with golf bag over arm, but times are different nowadays. Shakespeare, for instance would never have been able to write so many plays if their had always been some person at his elbow to call out, "Hi Bill, how about a little golf this afternoon!"

Many Stouffville people held tickets on the new car given away at Markham village Wednesday evening last week, and they will now be able to draw a long breath seeing that the contest is over and the car has gone to Toronto. The lucky ticket holder is John Crawford of Toronto with ticket No. 1546. Despite the lateness in the season Markham's big night on the street was successful in drawing a big crowd.

The weekly press is beginning to talk election, but here in Stouffville everything is quiet, and folks are wondering what will be doing on January first next. Our prediction at this date is that there will be an acclamation with perhaps some shifting of members of council. There are those who are openly asking for a change, of course in the council and reeveship, but so far candidates have not come forth. What's your guess?

Communism on Trial
The Business and Young Men's Bible Class met last Sunday afternoon when "Communism versus Capitalism and Christianity" came in for a lively discussion.

Mr. A. J. Ward, assistant teacher, who took charge of the class, blamed the exploiting of the masses by the Czarist and the Greek Church regime as the primary cause of the revolution in Russia, and the establishment of the Soviet Rule.

When the meeting was thrown open for discussion, a spirited debate, for and against the soviet plan on a modified form, took place among the members present. Leaving out religion and establishing atheism and permitting lax morality were unanimously condemned by all present. Some held out that there were certain features in the plan that could be imitated, such as no class or social distinction, and the methods of employing every citizen of the state.

The consensus of opinion was that capitalistic system should be so modified as to give the masses of the people a chance in life. Those who were absent missed one of the most educative and spirited discussions heard here for some time.

Call at Porter's and sample the "Tutti Frutti" home made Christmas Cake, and leave your order.

Keep in mind that Saturday next is the date of Mrs. H. Elson's furniture sale to be held at her home just opposite the public school.

Music lovers must not miss the King street choir at Melville church supper and concert this Friday evening.

Mr. Al Pryne, the town's "uniformed" street cleaner, was off duty several days last week with pains in his head. Even though he is 71 Al has no notion of giving up work; he has no use for the so-called "Red" army.

Local notices under this heading are charged for at 10 cents per count line. The rate should not be regarded as unduly high for in an old issue of The Tribune of 30 years ago the rate was 7 cents per count line. Here's one item that has not advanced greatly. And we almost forgot to say that it is one that pays well, too!

King street United Church choir will give a musical program in the Melville church on the 6th line of Markham, in connection with the chicken pie supper to be served by the W.A. on the evening of Friday, Nov. 20. Stouffville and district are especially invited to this function. Supper being served from 6 to 8 o'clock. Admission supper and concert, adults 50c, children 25c.

Only routine business was transacted at the regular meeting of the Library Board on Thursday evening last, but a feature of the gathering was the fact that every member of the Board was present. A one-hundred per cent attendance at a library meeting, is said not to be a common thing. The government grant to the local library is $40 less this year than any previous grant received. This is due to the reduced number of books bought and to the high percentage of fiction.

The Mission Circle of the United Church held a pot luck supper in connection with their November meeting at the home of Mrs. M. E. Storey on Wednesday evening last week. Whether it was the mere fact that the day was a holiday, or the more potent event to the host and hostess (Mr. and Mrs. Storey) that it happened to be their wedding anniversary, we do not know, but the spread is said to have been fit for a king, (and who would be a king?) These pot luck spreads are "pot luck" in name only, and as on this occasion there was not a thing lacking to make it a full course banquet.

Following an illness of about six months duration Mrs. Daniel Burnett passed away on Saturday afternoon in her 82nd year. Her husband predeceased her several years, and prior to that the couple lived a retired life in the west end of Stouffville. Their active days were all spent on the farm on the 9th concession of Whitchurch. Mrs. Burnett was a daughter of the late Robt. Stapleton, being born in the vicinity where she spent her long life. A faithful and loving mother, and true christian she was highly prized in the community, and in her active years was a worker in the Christian church. A family of four children, two sons and two daughters are left, they being Herbert and Robert Burnett on the 9th concession, Mrs. Philip Lemon of Bloomington and Mrs. J. S. Dougherty of Stouffville. Until this present serious illness Mrs. Burnett had always enjoyed excellent health. The funeral on Tuesday this week took place to Stouffville cemetery, following a public service held in the church and conducted by the pastor Rev. Ervin Hyde assisted by an old neighbor of the deceased, Rev. E. C. McLeod.

Miss Dorothy Ferguson who lives with her grandfather W. P. White, left on Sunday for Fergus where her step-mother is quite ill.

The November meeting of Whitchurch Township Council will be held this coming Saturday in the township hall at Vaudorf.

The "Deacon Dubbs" comedy on Wednesday evening this week by members of the Junior Institute anticipated a packed house in Ratcliff's Hall.

The old picture theatre over the bowling alley in the auditorium is being remodelled for a dance hall, to be opened a week from Saturday, November 28th with a 7 piece local orchestra in charge.

Several representatives from the United Church here attended the gathering at Markham last Friday evening to hear Dr. E. H. Oliver moderator and Rev. Jas Endicot speak on various features of the church work.

Wheat sold at 69c a bushel at Landon Steckley's auction sale last week. While the price is considerably above market quotations, there is very little offering at the market local buyers tell us.

On Tuesday Mr. Percy Spofford was in town for the first time since his accident of a month ago, when he lost his left foot just above the ankle. Mr. Spofford is making fair recovery, and his friends were glad to see him in town again.

The extremely mild weather of the past week has made it difficult for householders to even keep their furnaces going without making the home too warm but with them out, it's a wee bit cool. As the Scotchman's ditty goes—
Much to warm for whiskey hot,
And much too cold for beer."

Last week the road bosses of the local council got busy and cleaned up the Main street pavement before the expected freeze-up. We understand the ditches and culverts are to be cleaned out also. The Road Committee are not going to be caught napping like the old hen that was killed, and found to contain ten eggs, all lined up for laying. Her intentions were good but she was a little late in carrying them out.

The rainy spell last Sunday probably had its effect on the size of the crowd in attendance at the anniversary service held in the Presbyterian church at 3 p.m. Rev. Jas. Mustard of Oakwood delivered an impressive sermon, and those who missed it, missed a good deal. In addition to the special speaker, Markham quartette assisted in special musical numbers, while the congregation which fairly filled the building joined heartily in the congregational singing.

The Stouffville Hunt Club enumerated in this paper last week, all arrived home last Saturday from the northern country, each bearing a deer. Their generosity is appreciated by all the folk in town who are enjoying steak or roast from the butchered quarters of the hunters' game. The party consisted of F. L. Button, E. A. Button, D. F. Holden, V. Baker, Edw. Baker, Robt. Hare, Wm. Armstrong, W. Ward, K. D. Woodburn and F. D. Nighswander. James Muston who went north with a Toronto party of hunters was also successful in bringing home a deer.

Clayt. Tarr who went north with a party of 12 hunters from south Markham, returned with his deer on Monday night, but outside of one other shot by Art Appen of Cedar Grove the party returned with just the two deer by twelve hunters.

Last Friday Elsie Lownsbrough, Ted Hoover, Helen and Bruce Rowbotham spent the evening as guests of two Chinese student friends who were on the staff at Lakeview House, Jackson's Point during last vacation.

It was the occasion of a Chinese bazaar at the Y.M.C.A., Toronto where the Stouffville young people had the rather unique experience of enjoying oriental hospitality and eating chop suey and rice with chop sticks as well as sampling other dainties such as Chinese grapefruit.

Dr. Walter A. Sangster, Stouffville has been granted probate of the will of his sister, Miss Edith Florence Sangster, Stouffville, who died Oct. 3, leaving an interest of $150 in land in Stouffville; $16,562 secured by mortgages; an auto valued at $25, and $1,053 other personal estate.

CLAREMONT

C. J. Fraser will open a new butcher shop here shortly, with a full line of fresh and cured meats.

All roads leading to Claremont seemed to terminate at the Community Hall on Tuesday evening, November 10th, when the congregation of the United Church served a chicken supper followed by a humorous drama, "Sonny Jane" presented by the Allandale Dramatic Club. The savory aroma of roast chicken and other delectable foods must have travelled far, for by 5.30 o'clock cars began to arrive in large numbers from most of the neighboring towns and villages. Even the Queen City was represented by about fifty of its inhabitants who came to sample the culinary ability of some of Claremont's housewives. As the inner man became satisfied and the people assembled in the auditorium of the hall its seating capacity was soon taxed to its utmost until standing room was finally at a premium.

If the old adage "a hearty laugh aids digestion" be true, there could have been few discomforts from this source as the three act drama which followed provided an almost continuous stimulant for this hearty indulgence. The scene for the drama, centered around certain movements of the inhabitants of the town boarding house at Orchard Centre, and in the publications contained in the Orchard Centre newspaper which Sonny Jane had organized and edited under a non de plume, with funds, borrowed from some of her fellow boarders of the opposite sex. Between acts instrumental and vocal musical selections were provided by the Allandale Company.

The evening was ideal from the weatherman's standpoint and comments received from various sources gave one the impression that the event provided a most enjoyable outing for all who attended.

Roy Wilson recently met with a painful accident while on a hunting trip to Northern Ontario. In some manner a kettle of boiling water was upset, scalding his leg badly. Some of the boiling water ran down inside of his long rubber boot thus adding to the severity of the burn. Mr. Wilson immediately returned home and is having the burn attended to by his local physician.

LUCKY

It was the firm's annual dance. The junior bookkeeper had chosen a very attractive partner.

"By the way," he volunteered as they danced. "I'm glad our manager isn't here tonight. He's about the biggest ass of a man one can meet, and not fit for intelligence company."

She stopped dancing and stared hard.

"Young man," she snapped angrily, "do you know who I am?"

"Not the faintest idea," he said, easily.

"Well, I'm the manager's wife!"
