Re-SALE Depot—Lowest Prices

Our policy is such that we can AFFORD to sell used cars for just what they're worth in unused mileage. The value of the new Model Ford is so high—so close to the cost of production—that we have no leeway for making excessive trade-in allowances when we accept used cars in trade. Thus when we resell a used car, we have no incentive to mark up the price to save us from taking a loss. When you buy a used car from us, you pay for the miles of unused transportation in it—FOR ITS ACTUAL WORTH—and nothing else.

Notes and Comments

A pledge not to smoke or to use profane language will entitle 3,000 Montreal schoolboys to season passes to the ball park this summer. The passes are being handed out by Frank Shaughnessy, veteran ball player and manager of the Montreal Royals, who is a firm believer in the promotion of clean living among boys.

Down in Windsor three boys were expelled from school owing to their refusal to take part in cadet drills. One was subsequently re-instated owing to his father's "conscientious objections." Just why cadet training should be compulsory in some schools while not in others, is hard to understand. It shouldn't be in any school. And while we believe that the training as given to the cadets at the secondary schools is of value to the physical health of the students, it should not be a compulsory study and no scholar should be expelled for non participation. For after all the business of the secondary schools is not to train young men to fight but to develop them, mentally, morally and physically and the boy who refuses to comply with this compulsory law to take military training may have developed more moral stamina than the hundreds of others who took the training sooner than raise any objection to the law that should never have been passed.

GLASGOW

We have been having some excellent weather lately and most of the farmers have finished seeding.

Who heard those wedding bells ringing? Congratulations Evelyn and Earl.

We have been listening for those tin cans but perhaps it was such a surprise the boys hadn't them ready.

May Boake has been enjoying a holiday at her home here.

Folks say wedding bells will be ringing again in the near future "I wonder?"

THE CHANGING WORLD

Three years ago the United States was sitting on top of the world and with its usual modesty was silently waving a star spangled banner and proclaiming to all and sundry that it was the wealthiest nation on earth, that the other countries owed it billions of dollars and that it won her the war. It even went so far as to maintain that it could live within itself and fenced itself off from the rest of the world by a high tariff wall. However, it wanted its creditors to pay their accounts in gold. There was a scurrying to dig up the gold and it was found that there was not enough of the yellow metal in the world to pay Uncle Sam. His creditors, anxious to discharge their obligations, asked him if he would not take goods in payment. Of course, he wouldn't. If he did, his factories would close. He was adamant. His accounts must be paid. Then Germany fainted. Uncle Sam revived her with an extension of time. Then Great Britain discarded the gold standard and forty countries have followed her example. They also followed the American example of increasing tariffs until international trade has fallen off forty billion dollars. Today the United States is having convulsions. Business is stagnant. Millions of its citizens are without work. Two million farmers have been dispossessed of their farms. Cities are bankrupt. Three times the government has made stupendous efforts to get the country onto its feet and three times failed. It still retains its policy of "rugged individualism," a policy that is dragging it deeper in the mire. Its system of government is being ruined by the greed of its bankers. Enough has come out of the Senate Enquiry to show that the stock exchange was the creature of Wall street—a huge gambling table where the man who saved his money and wanted to invest it so that its earnings would help support him, had the cards stacked against him in the form of powerful pools which gave to stocks a fictitious value. Out-manoeuvred, out-generated by the conditions of its own making, Wall street and its friends are ready to risk a new world war evidently meaning to save itself or to perish in the attempt.

Attention is called to the special services at the Parkdale Tabernacle on Cowan Avenue, Toronto. Services Sunday at 11, 3 and 7 o'clock and every weeknight at 7.45. until May 29. A famous quartette from Tennessee is singing at each service. Pastor W. M. McGuire invites those who can to attend any of these services.

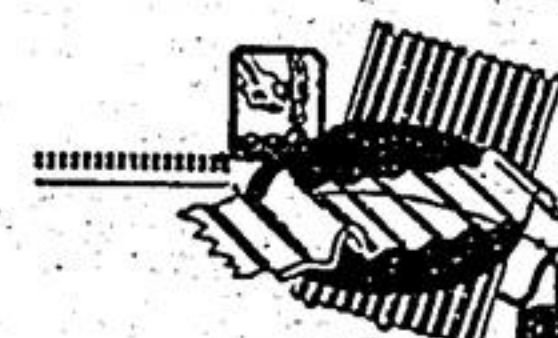

The Farmer Is Made The Goat

Some days ago a farmer walked into The Tribune office and said that he had just sold his cattle at the Union Stock Yards in Toronto, and when he received his cheque for the load, the Commission house charged him three cents for the revenue stamp which they had to affix to their own cheque.

This started us thinking and asking ourselves if it were possible that a farmer would have to hand over three cents payment for a stamp to affix to a cheque coming to him. Whenever The Tribune issues a cheque we pay for the revenue stamp, and expect to do so. At once we took the matter up with the Department of National Revenue, only to find that the Union stock yards or any other person issuing a cheque may gather the payment from the party to whom the cheque is issued—if he can get it.

The law simply says on the matter that no person shall issue a cheque for an amount exceeding $5, unless there is affixed the necessary revenue stamp. Most firms pay for the revenue stamps they use, and do not dare ask a customer to fork over the amount, but at the Union Stock Yards where the Commission men are the over lords they are in a position to dictate, thus the farmers are being made to hand over the three cents—they have no chance to kick for the commission men take it out of their payment due for the cattle.

The Department of National Revenue and the government at Ottawa recognize this as fair practice.

MARRIAGES

McMULLEN—ARMSTRONG

In Toronto on Monday May 11, 1932, Evelyn Armstrong of Glasgow (Uxbridge Township) to Earl McMullen, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob McMullen, Stouffville.

EVANS—WARD

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Claremont United Church on Wednesday, May 11th, when Lillian Aldine Ward, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ward became the bride of William Russell Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Evans. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and Rev. A. McLellan officiated. The wedding music was played by Miss Enid Cook, cousin of the bride. Promptly at 2 o'clock the charming bride, who was unattended, entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. She wore a graceful gown of white crepe satin with silk net embroidered veil caught in front with lily-of-the valley and orange blossoms and carried a beautiful bouquet of pink sweet peas and blue forget-me-nots. After the ceremony and congratulations and best wishes from the many friends present, the party repaired to the bride's home where a reception and wedding supper was held for the immediate family friends. Later the happy couple left on a motor trip, the bride travelling in a light navy georgette and cloth ensemble, black hat trimmed with blue, black shoes, with neck fur and other accessories of grey. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm one mile east of the village. They are one of the most popular and talented young couple in Claremont. The groom is a cornet player and for some years was a member of the Claremont Citizens Band. The bride is a soprano soloist and music teacher. Their talents have been freely used in the service of the church where they are enthusiastic and faithful workers in the choir, Sunday School and Young Peoples' Society, and in all organizations for the public welfare. The numerous gifts and congratulations received testify to their popularity and they enter upon this new relationship with the best wishes of a host of admiring friends.

60 YEARS MARRIED

Sunday, May 15, 1932 was an epoch event in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Both are in excellent health, the groom being 81 and the bride 30 years of age. An Electric Lighter

STARTS YOUR KITCHEN STOVE

An auto without a self-starter would be old fashioned—out-of-date. You wouldn't have one. An Oil Burner for your range without an electric lighter is in the same antiquated class.

The Bunsen Range Oil Burner is the only range burner that is equipped with an electric lighter—a self-starter for your kitchen range. All you have to do is turn on the oil and press the button. And this burner costs no more with this time saving feature.

See us for a demonstration of the BUNSEN OIL RANGE BURNER, equipped with the Electric Lighter.
