Notes and Comments

A recent Associated Press report states that material evidence has been uncovered at Tiberias, on the Sea of Galilee, indicating the spot where Jesus multiplied the five loaves and two fishes to feed the multitude, "in number about five thousand."

Tradition persists that a church was built on the scene of the miracle. The ruins supposedly of this church, buried beneath seven feet of clay, have now been uncovered by the Rev. Everist Andrea Mader, director of the German Oriental Institute of Jerusalem. The discovery includes portions of a bas-relief, behind the altar of which mosaics depict loaves of bread, two fishes, and a stone supposed to mark the location of the event.

Secular corroboration of the Scripture has its value. Whatever makes more vivid to mankind the life and loving labor of Jesus cannot lack interest to the reverent Christian, and many, on reading the newspaper item, will turn again to the sublime though simple recital by the beloved disciple of the Saviour's tender thoughtfulness of the human needs of those to whom he was spiritually ministering.

WHITCHURCH COUNCIL HOLD OCTOBER MEETING

The October meeting of the Whitchurch Township Council, held on Saturday at Vandorf may be marked as the quietest session thus far this year. The chief item of business was scrutinizing and passing of accounts.

Only one deputation was received, being the road men at the corner of the 4th concession and Newmarket road. They sought a further grant to complete some very necessary work. 90 1/2 rods of gravel put on the beat was not enough to repair half the road, and permission was obtained to spend another small sum to smooth out the worst spots still untouched. The deputation was composed of Messrs. Howlett, Harper, Johnson, Sheridan and Hunt.

The reward offered for killing a dog or dogs alleged worrying or killing sheep in the neighborhood of Pat. Murphy's farm and the Brodie sheep ranch, was sought by Messrs. Norman Hall, K. and L. Sibley. Since the boys traced down two dogs, no further killing has been reported, and council by resolution instructed the treasurer to pay the boys $25. No action was taken on a claim for $24 for compensation for sheep killed on the property on west side of township where the Toronto Hunt Club retain a few animals.

It was stated that the sheep belonged to the president of the Hunt Club who owns a farm in King Township. The animals had been loaned to the Hunt for purposes of training the hounds; not to chase sheep. Evidently some other dogs need training too, for several sheep were killed one night when the hounds were locked up.

Reeve Kidd presided over the meeting and members were all present as follows: Deputy-Reeve Newton Rae, Councillors Ratcliff, Isaac Morton, and Earl Toole.

Holiday Observations

By Rev. H. B. Storey, Pastor of the Newmarket Christian Church who succeeded Rev. Fay Le Meadows

Rev. H. B. and Mrs. Storey have returned from their holidays. They visited former parishioners and friends in Cleveland, Ohio, but spent the major portion at Chautauque Lake, New York. Rev. Storey herewith gives to our readers some observations of places, men and world events, gained during his recent trip. Chautauque is a beautiful region and has the most varied program available anywhere. It extends for two miles along the western shore of Lake Chautauque. The 400 acres of beautiful wooded land is parked and open to the public. The program includes golf, tennis, horse-back-riding, roque, horse-shoes and baseball. It is the leading summer music centre of America, having its symphony orchestra, opera company—chorus and organ recitals. The $50,000 organ in the amphitheatre was the gift of Mrs. Vincent Massey of Toronto. The world's greatest preachers and speakers discuss subjects of world-wide significance. One meets people from Canada, United States, China, Japan, India and other countries, and there is a marvellous freedom about the life of the institution. The season covers a period of ten weeks. It was conceded among the ministers that the two outstanding preachers of the 1932 season were Britishers. Rev. Richard Roberts, of Sherbourne Street Church, Toronto, and Dr. Martin Lloyd Jones of Port Talbot, Wales, who filled so acceptably the Sherbourne pulpit this summer. A notable musical triumph was won by the Welsh Imperial Singers, a group of marvellous singers, direct from Wales.

Mr. Storey spent some time studying India with Professor Herbert Adams Gibbons, head of the department of political economy at Princeton University, and Dr. Sam Higginbottom, the world-famous agricultural missionary of Allahabad, India. Dr. Gibbons has recently spent two years in India, and Dr. Higginbottom has been living in India for 23 years. Both these authorities agree that the encouraging feature about the difficult situation, is that the British are in control in India. We can rely upon their faith and their colonizing virtues to solve the problems, before anarchy or disorders commence. Deep-rooted religious differences between the Moslems and the Hindus; a variety of languages and dialects within a country that can boast no common language, as a medium of thought exchange, and a caste system similar to none other in the world, are some of the difficulties which India finds blocking the way to progress and self-government. Mr. Gandhi, although a graduate of Oxford University, is an "impractical mystic." He has failed to unite the Hindus and the Moslems, and his influence is on the wane. His spinning-wheel is only a "political gesture," and to boycott modern methods of machinery, is to keep India in ignorance and poverty." Dr. Sam, Higginbottom is the principal of the Agricultural Institute of Allahabad, India. His methods of agriculture are so admirable, that they have been made a standard by the Indian Government. Dr. Higginbottom says there is no hope for India if Gandhi's methods are adopted. India must learn to use modern machinery, in her own way. Critics of British rule in India, say the cost of supporting the troops there is fabulous. This is untrue. The cost of supporting the British troops stationed in India is only 23 per cent. of the total budget. India is a land rich in resources, inhabited by poor people. Government salaries in India are not excessive, they are much lower than those paid by private concerns. The people are poor because they choose to be. India has wonderful resources if only developed. The British are trying to meet the legitimate demands by the Indian people in as full a measure as it is possible to do so. Indians and British get along well together, and the hatred which is described as existing between them by some American newspapers is fallacious. The world must have the fullest possible sympathy with the aspirations of the Indian people, and at the same time the sincere belief in the intention of the British Government to give to India, just as fast as India can stand and assimilate it, the free elements of self-government.

Mr. Storey conversed freely with influential leaders of American life as to the possible outcome of the approaching Presidential Election. He says: "I have never known the American people to be so depressed, or panicky, as they are now. They have permitted themselves to be 'galloped' by the newspapers in making Prohibition or its repeal, the main issue in an election when it has no right to be. The economic conditions in the United States are bad, and the big issue should be whether a few 'multimillionaires' are to be dictatorial autocrats, or whether material wealth is to be more freely distributed. On the other hand, the masses of people rightly or wrongly, are

Ford Re-SALE Depot—Lowest Prices

Our policy is such that we can AFFORD to sell used cars for just what they're worth in unused mileage. The value of the new Model Ford is so high—so close to the cost of production—that we have no leeway for making excessive trade-in allowances when we accept used cars in trade. Thus when we resell a used car, we have no incentive to mark up the price to save us from taking a loss. When you buy a used car from us, you pay for the miles of unused transportation in it—FOR ITS ACTUAL WORTH—and nothing else.

50th ELECTRIC ANNIVERSARY

When the lights of fifty-nine customers were turned on exactly half a century ago in a square mile of downtown New York, Edison declared that the occasion marked the transition from one epoch to another. At the time the observation was attributed to the natural enthusiasm of an inventor in his thirty-fifth year, the sort of flourish that one expects at the completion of any public enterprise. But now that the fiftieth anniversary of his greatest achievement has been celebrated it is evident that he saw more clearly than any of his contemporaries how electricity would transform society. Trolley cars and subways instead of horses, Edison lamps in place of kerosene and gas, motors driving everything from sewing machines to battleships, energy on top everywhere, like water—a new epoch had indeed dawned when the switch was thrown in Pearl Street, New York, on September 4th, 1882.

blaming the President for existing conditions, and are determined to make a change. Then the more conservative people do not seem to want to swap horses while crossing the stream." President Hoover has not helped the confused situation by his pronouncement on the 18th Amendment. His attitude of encouraging "states rights" in settlement of this question infuriates the "Drys." Mr. Hoover was really elected by the "Dry" vote in 1928, but now seems to have changed his tactics. The Republican platform attempts to be "amphibian, wet and dry." The Democratic party is confessedly wet, and though we think mistaken its at least consistent (taken by Mr. Hoover in his speech of acceptance). In my opinion, his position on prohibition has greatly lessened his chances of re-election in November. Franklin Roosevelt is not a particularly strong candidate, but he is clean-cut, outspoken and courageous. There seems to be no presidential "Moses" to lead the American people out of the wilderness into the promised land of prosperity. Predicting the outcome of an election is as difficult as foretelling the results of a horse-race. But there are two factors which cause me to think that Franklin D. Roosevelt will be the next president of the United States. (1) The desire for a change of leadership in a time of crisis and depression. This may be poor logic, but it is the usual way of a nation, and has been seen in the life of Canada. (2) Lured on by the newspapers millions of Americans think that the repeal of the 18th Amendment will bring back prosperity to United States, and will probably vote for full and positive.

the candidate "confessedly wet." Also the voluntary resignation of Mayor Walker will help the Democratic candidate. Had Mayor Walker or been impeached, Tammany would probably have opposed Roosevelt. If he had been exonerated, thousands of conservatives might have used their influence against the Democratic standard-bearer. It is freely expected that Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate for president, will do better than ever. He is a former Presbyterian minister, and is perhaps the ablest leader and best speaker of all the presidential candidates. The title "Socialist," however, does not help his case. Rightly or wrongly many are suspicious of the word "Socialist." But many ministers and religious leaders expect to vote for "Norman Thomas." They say he is really the People's leader, and has held squarely to the economic issues of the campaign. We shall see, what we shall see.

Mr. Storey has returned home believing in the future of Canada. This Dominion must carve out her own destiny. Canadians must not imitate the weaker phases of low-class Americans. She must be British not only in theory, but in practise. Canadians should cease "to Knock," and learn to "Boost," at least in a mild manner. For a young nation, we are too conservative. We need faith in our country, in ourselves, and in our future. The Imperial Economic Conference will not solve all Canada's problems. We must solve our own problems. Nothing can impede the progress of Canada, except ourselves. Let us be enterprising, hopeful and positive.
