

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

There is now some talk of the Federal Government declaring Remembrance Day, November 11th, a public holiday. If they do there will be a holiday for each month in the year.

William Simpson, Edward street, has a grape vine climbing over a piece of lattice work at the entrance to his garden, and from it has picked over four baskets of grapes of rare good quality.

Mr. F. L. Button took in the Inter-collegiate Rugby match at the Varsity stadium in Toronto on Saturday afternoon, when the Western University of London invaded the Varsity field. There were 12,000 spectators in the stands.

Dr. Herbert Freel is arranging to take a short post graduate course right away in New York City. He will probably see the man who is discovered to have two hearts, and learn first hand how this spare tire habit works on the human body.

At the election of officers for the year at the close of the annual Baptist Convention held in Toronto last week, Rev. C. E. McLeod of Stouffville, was returned as secretary of the organization for the 22nd year. The president is Rev. Dr. M. F. McCutcheon of Montreal.

P. C. Stover, the Brooklyn baker, announces that he will conduct a strictly cash business after Nov. 1st. This is not surprising. The proprietor pays cash for everything that enters into his business, hence a customer or any number of them drain the cash out of a normal good business.

Peterboro defeated the Rouge Hill Box Lacrosse team in Stouffville arena on Friday night by a score of 9-4. The Rouge boys did their best work in the first period and scored the first goal of the evening. This was the first of home and home games with Peterboro in the Provincial semi-finals.

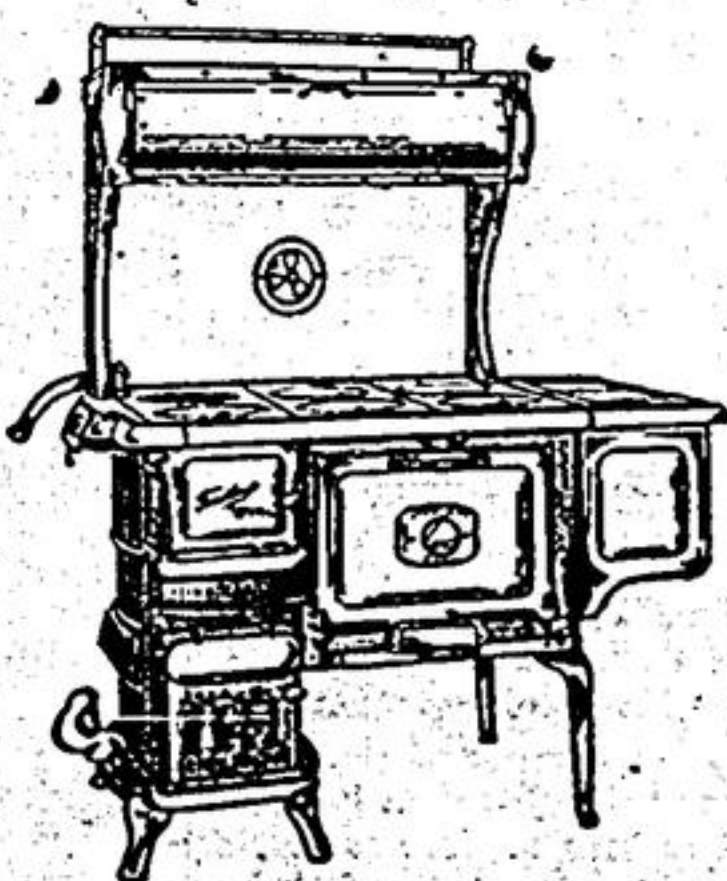

All yearly subscribers in town to The Toronto Globe are again receiving their morning paper at the post office, instead of at The Tribune office, where however renewals should still be left, and the clubbing discount obtained. The Tribune is the authorized agent, in Stouffville for all Toronto dailies.

The death in Toronto on Friday, October 21, removes another former resident, who was familiar to many citizens of this vicinity. Mrs. Chas. Hewitt, whose maiden name was Mary Ann Fisher, lived with her husband, east of Stouffville for years. She was 79 years of age, and is survived by three of a family, namely, Alfred and George Hewitt, and Mary (Mrs. Smales.) Her husband predeceased her some years. The family attended school at Monrovia, and before leaving Stouffville they resided on the O'Boyle farm east Main street. The funeral on Saturday afternoon came by motor, for interment at Stouffville cemetery.

The postponed mixed tournament held on Markham greens last Wednesday afternoon attracted 112 bowlers from Unionville, Stouffville, Claremont, Agincourt and the home rinks. Three games were played of 12 ends, resulting as follows: 1. Watt, Stouffville, 3 wins; 2. Still, Stouffville, 3 wins; 1 Marshall, Stouffville, 2 wins; 2 Stewart, Markham, 1 win.

While farm stock sales in this district are selling well, there are very few auctions this fall, consequently the two to be held this Friday and Saturday are likely to be widely attended. On Friday stock and implements on the farm of E. Tienkamp just south of Ringwood, will be sold, while on Saturday the stock and implements on the farm of Mrs. Kirby at Ballantrae will come under the hammer. There will be no reserve at these sales, while liberal terms are extended.

The editor of an American paper published in a small western town caused a great sensation by stating that he had been kissed by one of the most beautiful married women in the town and he added that he would give the lady's name in the next week's issue. As a consequence, the entire issue—especially large one—was sold out immediately after publication. But it turned out to be merely a smart advertising ruse, for the name of the lady was that of the editor's wife!

"Old Fashioned Day" was observed by the Stouffville W. I. at the October meeting, the president, Mrs. Davey in the chair. Exhibition of handwork, quilts, blocks, cushions, etc., and a parade of old fashioned costumes filled a very pleasant afternoon. In the work exhibition, first honors went to Mrs. R. Hamilton, second to Mrs. W. Simpson. In the dress parade, Mrs. L. Lownsbrough won first, and Mrs. W. Simpson second. Community singing was the only music on the program. Tea was served at the close, hostesses being Mesdames Lee, Leslie, and Malloy.

Prentice & Prentice, the veteran auctioneers, disposed of the assignee's sale of the contents of the Ringwood Garage on Thursday afternoon of last week. This was an unusual sale, and was necessarily conducted differently to a farm stock dispersal. Each individual sale had to be settled for in cash at the time it was knocked down to the highest bidder. Everything was disposed of in record time, and a good crowd was on hand to pick up the offerings. We understand that the garage will be rented shortly, and will then be open for business again.

Mr. Harry Peacock, an artisan of unusual ability, with workshop at the rear of Porter's store, has just turned out a splendid piece of work in the form of a "rolling cabin" mounted on a trailer. The order is for J. E. Allan of Hamilton, who has now left with his new outfit for California, where he will spend the winter. The cabin is made of pressed wood obtained from Scotland, and the interior resembles a modern railway coach. It is equipped with sleeping quarters, and kitchen, and the total size of the cabin is 6x12 and 6 feet high. For high-class workmanship this latest job turned out at Peacock's would be hard to surpass. Body building firms in the larger centres normally ask just twice the price that the cabin was produced for in Stouffville too.

Miss Kathleen Sloan of Toronto spent over the weekend with Mrs. H. D. Sawyer.

With such fine days it is hard to realize that Christmas is less than two months away.

Fresh stock of Peals and Dried Fruits for the Christmas Cake have arrived at Dominion Stores Ltd.

E. A. Grubin, Optometrist, will be at his office in Stouffville on Monday and Tuesday, October 31st and November 1st.

Ratcliff & Co. are now handling Maple Leaf Dairy milk and cream, which customers may secure at their store at any time.

The Rev. H. R. Stephen, late of Claremont has been called to the Alvinston Baptist Church, and leaves next week for his new charge.

The Eastern Star will hold a euchre on Friday evening, October 28, at which time the draw for the Hope Chest will be made. This is an open evening to which all are invited.

Anniversary Services will be held in the United Church, Bethesda, on Sunday Oct. 30. The Rev. Levi Atkinson of Beeton, will be the speaker at both services, 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Ringwood choir will furnish the music for the morning service, and the home choir for the evening.

Councillor D. H. Rusnell brought into the office of this paper the other day branches of a raspberry bush, well loaded with new fruit. This is getting quite a customary thing every fall, and some people have picked a fair quantity of the fruit. Luther Allan at Bethesda informs us that they had a pie at his house a few days ago, made from fresh raspberries just picked on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Stover and Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Stover attended the funeral at Gormley on Monday of this week of David Wideman, aged 72 years, and brother of Mrs. Elias Stover. He was a retired farmer of Gormley, living with his daughter in Toronto, where he died on Saturday. He was a Mennonite, twice married, and is survived by his widow, one son Louis Wideman of Toronto, and five daughters, Mrs. Sloggett, Toronto; Mrs. J. Hilton, Mrs. E. Garlick, Detroit; five grand-children and one sister, Mrs. E. Stover, of Stouffville. Another son, Ernest Wideman, was killed at Paschendale in 1917.

The Stouffville and Church Hill Christian churches have secured the services of Rev. Chester O. Sommer, a young married man who comes from Nova Scotia, and who is a son of Rev. Fred Sommer, pastor for a short time nine years ago of the Disciple Church, west end. The new minister comes here highly recommended to fill the vacancy caused by the return of Rev. F. E. Hyde to the U.S.A. to pursue his college course. Rev. Mr. Sommer has a wonderful background for a preacher, as not only his father, but his grandfather were gospel ministers. His father is now stationed in Nova Scotia. He will take charge of the work here on the first Sunday in November, and the pulpit in the interval is being supplied by Rev. C. E. McLeod.

While some people think that in these times of motor travel the days of the walking marathon is over, it is not so for Mr. and Mrs. Bert Noble, who struck out on foot for the city of Montreal last Saturday. Not only did they intend to "hoot" it all the way, but they had their small baby just learning to walk, in a rickety old carriage to push along. All their earthly possessions were stored in a small box roped to the bottom of the carriage. To face an undertaking of this kind would be more than many men could stand, but Noble is used to hardship, and braves it in a wonderful way. His difficulties are multiplied because he is an invalid, with his one arm taken off at the very pit. Noble is really a Stouffville boy for his father was one of the early Salvation Army men when a corps was conducted here thirty years ago. Bert went to school with many of the present men of the village. He had a steady job in Toronto for years, and bought a small home when he settled down. Through an accident he lost his arm, and because gangrene set in he had a couple of amputations until the arm is right off at the pit. Medical bills and loss of work caused the fortunes of life to slip from him, until his home was gone, and the little family virtually out on the road. Last spring he came back to Stouffville, and on various occasions last summer walked to Toronto where he secured a day's work cutting lawns in the big city. He would walk home again at night. A living that way was hard to make, and he decided to head for Montreal where his father lives, and where he could tide over the winter. If there are any kindly disposed people between here and Montreal we hope that Noble and his wife and child falls into their hands, for they are deserving and hate to beg.

Markham Fair Management Under Observation

In as much as the big Markham Fair is the only organization of its kind in this neighborhood, it is looked upon as "Stouffville and district annual fair," and no one would like to see it falter through mismanagement in these strenuous days.

The columns of The Tribune are open for citizens of the district to air their views on ways and means to make this great yearly event, an even more successful fair.

A non-member writes and makes references to remarks printed by "Observer" in the Economist on October 6, and in order to get the drift of the whole matter we publish "Observer's" letter here-with, followed by that of the "non-member."

COMMUNICATIONS
To the Editor of the Economist & Sun Dear Sir:

As one who is interested in the welfare of the Markham Fair I should be pleased if there were certain matters explained. According to reports the Rink only paid $30 last season, when rumour says that it should have paid at least $400. Also opinion says that the Rink is not being conducted to the best advantage from the viewpoint of the ordinary onlooker, and there seems to be the feeling that if the Hockey Team or some other body or person took hold of the Rink end of it, there would be more business done. The failure of a great many businesses can be traced to small leaks and Markham Fair comes under the same category. It takes a great number of donations to make up for a loss and those interested should not spare any effort to plug these small holes. And another state of affairs which I do not think conducive to the success of the enterprise is that the Markham Fair Board has been compared to the Senate in that one has a life membership. Then last but not least is raising the admission from 25 cents to 35 cents during such a depression as we are now passing. Markham Fair is an institution so it is up to you to see that it does not fall on account of the mismanagement of a few of its promoters.

An Observer
Editor of the Tribune

Dear Sir:—
"Observer's" communication of recent date regarding the Markham Agricultural Society's style of doing business certainly gives us some interesting information. Rumors have been afloat of something slack in their methods, but not being on the inside, I considered it just a rumor.

After reading the article, and having no reason to doubt its accuracy, I thought it very strange especially if they are as reported short of funds. If, then, that article is correct, how many more cases of a similar nature might there be if they could be uncovered?

We believe as "Observer" points out that there is too much "Senate" connected to the Board of Directors and it's habits. We find ourselves wondering just what there is about it so fascinating to make them want to be there year after year and work-for nothing.

It seems rather hard to believe that this country is becoming so defunct that we are able to meet only 7 1/2 % of our obligations. There are other business concerns hit much harder than the sports yet I have not heard of any who could pay only 7 1/2 % and still continue to do business.

However I will keep my ear to the ground and perhaps ring up again

For National Advantage—For Individual Benefit

Plan Now to Buy DOMINION OF CANADA BONDS 1932

On Monday, October 31, Canadians will have an opportunity to invest in a new issue of $80,000,000 Dominion of Canada Bonds. By buying these Bonds you will accomplish two things:

1. You will obtain the soundest investment available to Canadians, secured by the resources and integrity of the Dominion.
2. You will assist in further strengthening Canada's financial position, with favourable effect upon general business.

NOTWITHSTANDING the trying conditions which have prevailed during the past three years, Canada has established an enviable record of financing. For example, among other accomplishments, the Dominion has refinanced—before maturity and at a reduced interest rate—$640,000,000 of its public obligations, due in 1931, 1932, 1933 and 1934.

The new Dominion of Canada Bonds, which will bear 4% coupons, will be offered at a sufficient discount to provide an income yield in line with current interest rates. Within the last few months Great Britain and other countries have arranged important financial operations. In each case, these have met with marked success, investors having quickly recognized the trend toward lower interest rates.

The success of the new Canadian loan is important. It will further demonstrate the confidence of Canadians in their own country and this confidence will be reflected in the money markets of the world.

For national advantage—and for your individual benefit—plan now to buy Dominion of Canada 4% Bonds, 1932, when they are offered next Monday

This preliminary advertisement is published by THE DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE to enable Canadian investors to make arrangements to participate in this offering.
