Glasgow's Octogenarian

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jas. Wellman was held on Tuesday afternoon from her late residence, at Glasgow to Stouffville Cemetery. Mrs. Wellman, who before her marriage was Sarah Barker, was in her eight-fourth year. She had belonged to the Methodist Church and later to the Christian Church. Three weeks ago she suffered a stroke from which she never recovered, dying at her home on Sunday. She is survived by her husband, two sons, Rolph, of Claremont, and Harry at home, and one daughter, Mrs. A. Bothwright, of Markham.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. Morton and pallbearers were nephews, Morley Barker, Frank Baker, George Barker, Cecil Nichols, Will Wellman and Leonard Wellman.

At the anniversary services at the Bloomington Christian Church, November 20th the Bethesda Male Quartette (Reach Twp.) will sing at the 11 a.m. service, and the Kinsmen Male Quartette, Toronto. The public will be glad to know that Mr. E. Morton who has been confined to the General Hospital for some weeks is improving nicely.

The monthly meeting and social evening of the Women's Association was held at the home of Mrs. Jesse Cook on Friday evening. There was a good attendance and a splendid social time was spent.

A large number of the young people of Bloomington spent a very enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lemon celebrating Halloween. This is becoming an annual gathering at Cliff's.

The Ladies Aid of the Bloomington Christian Church held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Otto Baker last week. There was a good turnout, and arrangements were made for the Church Anniversary services on Sunday, November, 20th. Rev. G. Hunter, pastor of the Olivet Congregational Church, Toronto, will preach in the morning and Mrs. L. Dearborn, Toronto in the evening.

After the Christian Endeavor society had their regular meeting at Bloomington, last week, there was a social hour spent by the half a hundred present. The sociable time proved to be very fitting, as it was understood that Wilfred Hurt, in a few days was going to England. After a brief address was read as an expression of the society and Sunday school class of which he was a member, he was presented with a pair of gloves.

VICTORIA SQUARE CHURCH

Victoria Square United Church in Markham Township, celebrated the centennial of its founding on Sunday. In 1832, the days of the circuit riders, Victoria Square Primitive Methodist Church was founded on Markham circuit with this appointment as the head. The late Wm. Haton was class leader, with four names on the church roll. A little frame church was erected on the east side of the road, where the east cemetery now is. This was in time replaced by a larger frame structure. Both these structures have since disappeared from the landscape.

The Wesleyan Methodist denomination, also strong in the neighborhood, worshipped in a moderately-sized frame building, which still stands, and is owned by Rolph Boynton, and is now used as a blacksmith shop. This denomination in 1880 replaced this little frame church with the present brick structure.

Forty-eight years ago, when all the Methodist denominations in Canada united and formed the Methodist Church of Canada, these two congregations, Primitive and Wesleyan, worshipped together in the present building, which has served the congregation ever since. The building has been kept in a splendid state of repair, electricity has been installed, and the grounds and cemeteries show the same interest.

Among the early pioneers of the church the names of Hooper, Peach, Jennings, Klinck, Nichols and others appear. Their descendants are still in the neighborhood and members of the church to-day.

At the time of the union of Methodist churches Victoria Square was associated with Richmond Hill to form a circuit and has never really dissolved the partnership, though Victoria Square and Box Grove, since the formation of the United Church, are now for convenience under one pastorate, with the Rev. Percy Peacock in charge.

The present session members are: Louis Nichols, clerk; Robert Hopper—Rev. Mr. Haig, Egbert Avison and Rolph Boynton. There is a present membership of 142. The centennial services were held afternoon and evening, Rev. C. Pollett preaching

AN OLD PIONEER PASSES

The death of Robert Ashenhurst Sr., which occurred on Thursday, October 27, at the home of his son Andrew, removed from our midst one of the few remaining early settlers of Uxbridge Township.

Born in the County of Tyrone, Ireland on November 25th, 1842, he with his parents and his family emigrated to Canada in the year 1849, settling on Lot 21, Con. 6, Township of Uxbridge. He received his early education at the school known as No. 5, but the most of his learning was acquired in the school of experience, assisting the early settlers in removing the timber and clearing the land for cultivation. In the spring of 1875 he married Jane Vance, also of Uxbridge Township, who passed on ahead nearly four years ago. To this union was born seven children, six of whom are left to mourn his loss: W. C., of Reach; Andrew, Robert and John of Uxbridge Township; Mrs. J. E. Kidd, also of Uxbridge and Mrs. J. Beelby of Pickering.

With the exception of one year spent in the Township of Orillia, he spent the remainder of his life in Uxbridge Township, farming the farm now occupied by his son Robert, until about fifteen years ago when on retiring he located in the village of Goodwood. Mr. Ashenhurst was fortunate in his investments, and accumulated a great deal of this world's goods.
