

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

December—the month of subscription renewals

Christmas Candles, Nuts, and Fruits, are now on display at Dominion Stores Ltd. Call and examine our displays.

The Cedar Beach Association of Lake Musselman, all Toronto persons, held an at-home in the city last week. Prizes were presented by Reeve H. Kidd of Whitechurch, who was guest of the evening, along with George E. Davies, proprietor of the Pavilion.

Instead of issuing their annual Christmas Calendar, the Stouffville Creamery Co., are sending out to all their former patrons, a splendid thermometer, which no doubt will be greatly appreciated. Either in the home or in the stables such a register is useful, hence if you are a customer at the local creamery you are fortunate in being in for one of these thermometers.

A 25c admission to one of those popular chicken pie suppers, held in Markham village on Friday evening last, surpassed all expectations of the sponsors, and when a number of Stouffville people landed at 6.30, the sign was out, "nothing doing." There wasn't even a neck left for the hungry visitors with whetted appetites. One of the worst disappointments we know of is to attend a chicken pie supper where the earlier birds had made a complete clean-up. Fortunately such disappointments are rare, and so far as we know never occurred in the immediate vicinity of Stouffville at any time. Our people always see to that sufficient hen coops are invaded to assure a supply of chicken that will not become exhausted by an unexpectedly large crowd.

The price paid farmers for dairy butter last Thursday on Stouffville market, was decidedly easier, at 18c pound. A few very preferred customers obtained 20c. Eggs were in good demand at 30.35, and 40c dozen. Poultry prices on the other hand are not high. The Christmas market will be held on Wednesday, December 21, with no market the following day.

Mr. A. E. Gilbert of Belleville is acting agent for the C.N.R. at the local depot, taking the place of Mr. Walter Burkholder whose wife passed away last week, and who came here as relief agent for our Mr. J. R. Hodgins, who is undergoing treatment in Toronto, for eye trouble. Mr. Gilbert expects to remain on the job until the return of the regular agent, which is not expected to be long, as friends will be pleased to learn he is "improving rapidly."

Councillor Mervyn E. Watts has a flock of laying pullets one of which did something fantastical when it laid an egg within an egg. The first egg was a normal pullet size, complete with shell. The second encircled the first and was of course abnormal in size. While not altogether unknown, double eggs of this nature are rare, and usually the outer egg has no yoke.

Ball; Deputy Master—Norman MacLean; Imp—Delbert Holden; J.M.P.—Delbert Holden; Secretary—Sam Armstrong; Fin. Sec.—Wm. Armstrong; Treasurer—Martin Tait; Chaplain—D. Continuation school students were fortunate in hearing Dr. L. S. Klinck, president of the British Columbia University, in a short address, given at the school last Friday afternoon. Dr. Klinck spoke on "Vocational Guidance," and made reference to the great problem of unemployment as it affected the graduate student. Dr. Klinck addressed the students in the school auditorium, on the invitation of Principal H. W. Watson. Again on Monday evening, President Klinck, spoke to a good sized gathering of the Swastika Society and their friends, in the basement of the United Church. He enlarged on the subject of "Student Attitudes," pointing out that the average student does not exist until himself, all mingle together daily, each different in character, purpose and method. All are held in check by their amount of experience and circumstances under which they exist. Reference was made to the student attitude toward study, athletics, religion, society, etc., all of which the majority of students enter into as their heritage, which is theirs as a great intellectual adventure. Dr. Klinck spent five or six days visiting his aged mother on O'Brien Avenue, leaving here during the middle of the week. At the invitation of Premier Brownlee he is attending a meeting of University leaders in Winnipeg next week.

Within the recollection of many readers is the once popular excursion trip, perhaps to Niagara Falls, Hamilton, or was it to see the Stouffville Lacrosse Club play at the Island. Well, those days are here again, or were here last weekend. The C.N.R. advertised a special excursion rate on this branch of the system. The fare from Stouffville to Toronto and return was only 50c, a rate that more than met the popular prices prevailing on any previous excursion from here to Toronto, back in the so-called "good old days." More than 100 passengers boarded the train Saturday morning under this favorable rate quotation. The rates quoted farther north proved equally attractive, for there were eleven coaches pulled by two engines loaded with passengers. Some returned that evening, but the majority took advantage of the occasion to spend Sunday with city friends or relatives. The bargain rate of $1 to Hamilton and return was taken advantage of by six persons. The wonder is that the railways have been so backward in offering special rates, preferring to drag empty coaches up and down the line as they have done.

"Santa Claus" is coming again to Stouffville on Christmas Eve, Saturday, December 24. A community Christmas tree will be erected at the clock tower, and Old Santa will distribute gifts to every good boy and girl 8 years and under. Watch The Tribune for detailed announcement next week.

The Garrett Young Women's Auxiliary of the United Church held a public meeting on Wednesday evening of last week, with Miss Anne Lehman, the president, in the chair. The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. J. M. Storey, while the guest speaker was Mrs. Thompson of Toronto, secretary of the Circles and Young Women's Auxiliaries of East Presbyterial. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Readers of the daily papers will recall a report of a Vancouver robbery, of a very sensational nature about a week ago, when hold-up men at the point of a gun stole the pay roll of the firm of Ross & Howard, a large shipping firm. The pay roll was taken after Howard was shot through the breast, but he is still living. The theft amounted to $23,000. The senior member of the firm Mr. Ross, is a brother-in-law to our local plumber, E. D. McGrattan, who received a telegram from his sister shortly after the affray.

Frank Harvey's shopping mill at Unionville had a record-day's run last week, when 355 bags were run through. Another farmer was on his way with about 40 more bags when he became stuck in his lane, and failed to reach the mill, "otherwise," says Mr. Harvey, the record would have been still more unusual." With the mills getting such good patronage, the farmers are evidently taking the wise course, in keeping well stocked up. One of these days there will be a change from the ridiculously low price of live stock, and when it comes, the man who has nothing but empty stalls, will not be able to benefit.

An unexpected death occurred in town on Saturday, December 3, when Mrs. Walter Burkholder succumbed after only a week's illness. She had arrived in town only ten days prior to her death, to be with her husband who was acting as relieving agent at the C.N.R. Although in rather delicate health, her condition was not regarded as serious until a few days prior to her passing away. Mrs. Burkholder was only 33 years of age, and besides her husband is survived by two children of tender years. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith of Hastings, and the remains were taken there for burial, leaving the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Nelson Burkholder on Saturday evening. Interment took place at the Trent Valley Cemetery, Hastings, on Monday. Mr. Frank Burkholder brother-in-law to the deceased, and Mr. Ralph Rae, were in attendance.

Election talk is decidedly "dead" in town, although nomination day is only two weeks from next Monday. While no one has pledged themselves, The Tribune believes that the 1932 council will accept an acclamation to their present position. At one time it was freely whispered that Councillor Dowsell, Councillor Rusnell, and Councillor Weldon, were seeking the reeve ship, and while probably any one of them would not be adverse to the honor, we doubt if they are sufficiently keen for it, as to force an election. Reeve Morden is open for another term, tis said. Anything might happen at nomination meeting to cause a rift in the erstwhile placid waters: This year's council has guarded the "strong box" well, and that is just what the electorate wanted done. This village enjoys about everything in the way of modern conveniences as do our neighbors to the south in the great city of Toronto, thus we should be content, with only the most meagre expenditures. A council, careful in adding new expenditures is greatly to be desired, and in this regard our 1932 council have measured up.

15 Eggs to the Dozen

Here's the way one man, who feeds Quaker Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash, expresses his increased production: "I gather 15 eggs for every dozen I got before I used Quaker Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash."

The base of Quaker Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash is pure oatmeal. To this are added many other important ingredients which go to form a "perfectly balanced ration"—a mixture which supplies all the necessary elements for heavy egg production.

Bone meal and calcium carbonate furnish the all-important minerals. Cod Liver Meal, high in vitamins D, takes the place of sunshine and makes it possible for your hens to produce as many eggs in winter (when eggs are high) as they do in the spring.

Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash is the cheapest feed you can use because IT PRODUCES MOST EGGS FOR LEAST MONEY.

Besides being perfectly balanced, it is finely ground and thoroughly mixed. Your hens cannot pick it apart—every mouthful is perfectly balanced, and because of these features less feed is required.

Consider the economy of Ful-O-Pep Mash when you compare its price with cheaper feeds. Eighty pounds will go as far as one hundred pounds of an ordinary mixture. For the sake of "More Eggs and Greater Profits" feed

And had some chicken trimmed with leaves
With apples for full measure.

Now Garnet Francy ordered "all" To sigh he wasn't able. For when the nineteen plates came back, They nearly filled the table.

And Archie Fleming did declare, Before it all was over That potato such as he was served Was only fit for "Rover".

Then up the stairs they all did go, To see what would come after. And there they laughed and laughed until, The echoes shook the rafter.

Jess Cook, with twinkling eye, sang songs About a Sunday School Where he had gone when he was young And learned the Golden Rule.

Mrs. Winterstein told funny things, And read for us a sonnet. And poor "Aunt Susan" did arrive, In the cutest old poke bonnet.

The chairman's spicy stories told,

And thanked them one and all And said he hoped when they had teas, They'd always on him call.
