

...SMILES...

She—Speaking of germs in kisses, what do you think a girl could catch that way?
He—"Oh, lots of them catch husbands."

There are two periods when the fishing is good—before you get there and after you leave.

Jenkins—"My wife has the worst memory in the world."
Sampson—"Forgets everything?"
Jenkins—"No; she remembers everything."

Mrs. Miggs (to husband who has been for twenty-five years unpaid secretary of Savings Club): "It's all very well 'aving an 'obby, but a man with more sense would 'ave got one that was more ludicrous."

Teeth On Edge

Second-Hand Car Salesman (on trial ground)—"This car is sound in every part."
Prospective Buyer—"So I hear."

Unremarkable Remarks

Little men, like minnows, keep close to the shore. He who can bottle up a little sunshine for a rainy day is a corker. While our joys may not exceed our expectations, our expenses always do. Political birds know how to feather their nests the best. A man with a high aim in life seldom carries a gun. Most times the prodigal son and not the fatted calf should be killed. You can't keep gasoline down by stepping on it. Be a self-starter and don't make a crank out of the boss. Drive your work instead of permitting it to drive. Lock towards the light, and the shadows will all fall behind. An ounce of encouragement is worth a ton of scolding. It's hard to do a clean business in a dirty store. Every now and then you miss a man and learn he is married. The most indefinite number is "several fish." If she won't talk she's a sick woman. The human mind should be like a good hotel—open the year round.

Judge—"And why do you think I should be lenient with you? Is this your first offense?"
Prisoner—"No, your honor; but it's my lawyer's first case."

Boss—"The last boy I had was worth twice as much as you."
Store Boy (timidly)—"Please, sir, did he get it?"

"Nurse," said the patient, "I'm in love with you. I don't want to get better."

"Don't worry; you won't," she said, cheerfully. "The doctor's in love with me, too, and he saw you kiss me this morning."

There was great excitement aboard the liner.

"Man overboard!" was the cry.
"Gentleman overboard, if you please," said Mrs. DeSnobbe, indignantly. "That's my husband."

Patient—"Doctor, do something for me quick; my temperature is 130."

Physician—"Gracious, your case is beyond me. You'd better send for the fire department—I'm only a physician."

Jason—"You are looking down in the mouth."

Mason—"Well, that's natural. I'm a dentist."

The rest of your days depend on the rest of your nights.

Man—"Why are you lugging home that expensive box of candy?"

Neighbor—"Just playing safe. My wife kissed me this morning so I think it must be her birthday or our wedding anniversary."

Proof of the Pudding

Mrs. A—"Shall I ask the cook for references?"

Mr. A—"References don't mean very much. Get her to submit samples."

Nanking Building Program

Includes Plans for Future

Nanking.—City planning in the national capital reaches so far into the future that uses are decided upon for out-moded government buildings even before they are built. Construction began here this week of the new home of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. In the city that is to come it will be converted into a building for reception of foreign diplomats.

The new home of the Ministry of Communications is almost finished. It will later become the central post office. Facing it is the Ministry of Railways, a striking building of Sino-Western architecture, which will take its place later among the unique railway stations of the world.

You Can't Fool a BLOOD TEST

On November 14, 1932, a pale, thin girl walked into a physician's office and had her blood tested. The reason for her condition was at once evident. The haemoglobin content of her blood was only 69 per cent. Red corpuscle count only 4,640,000. She just had to be pale. And her weight was but 91½ pounds.

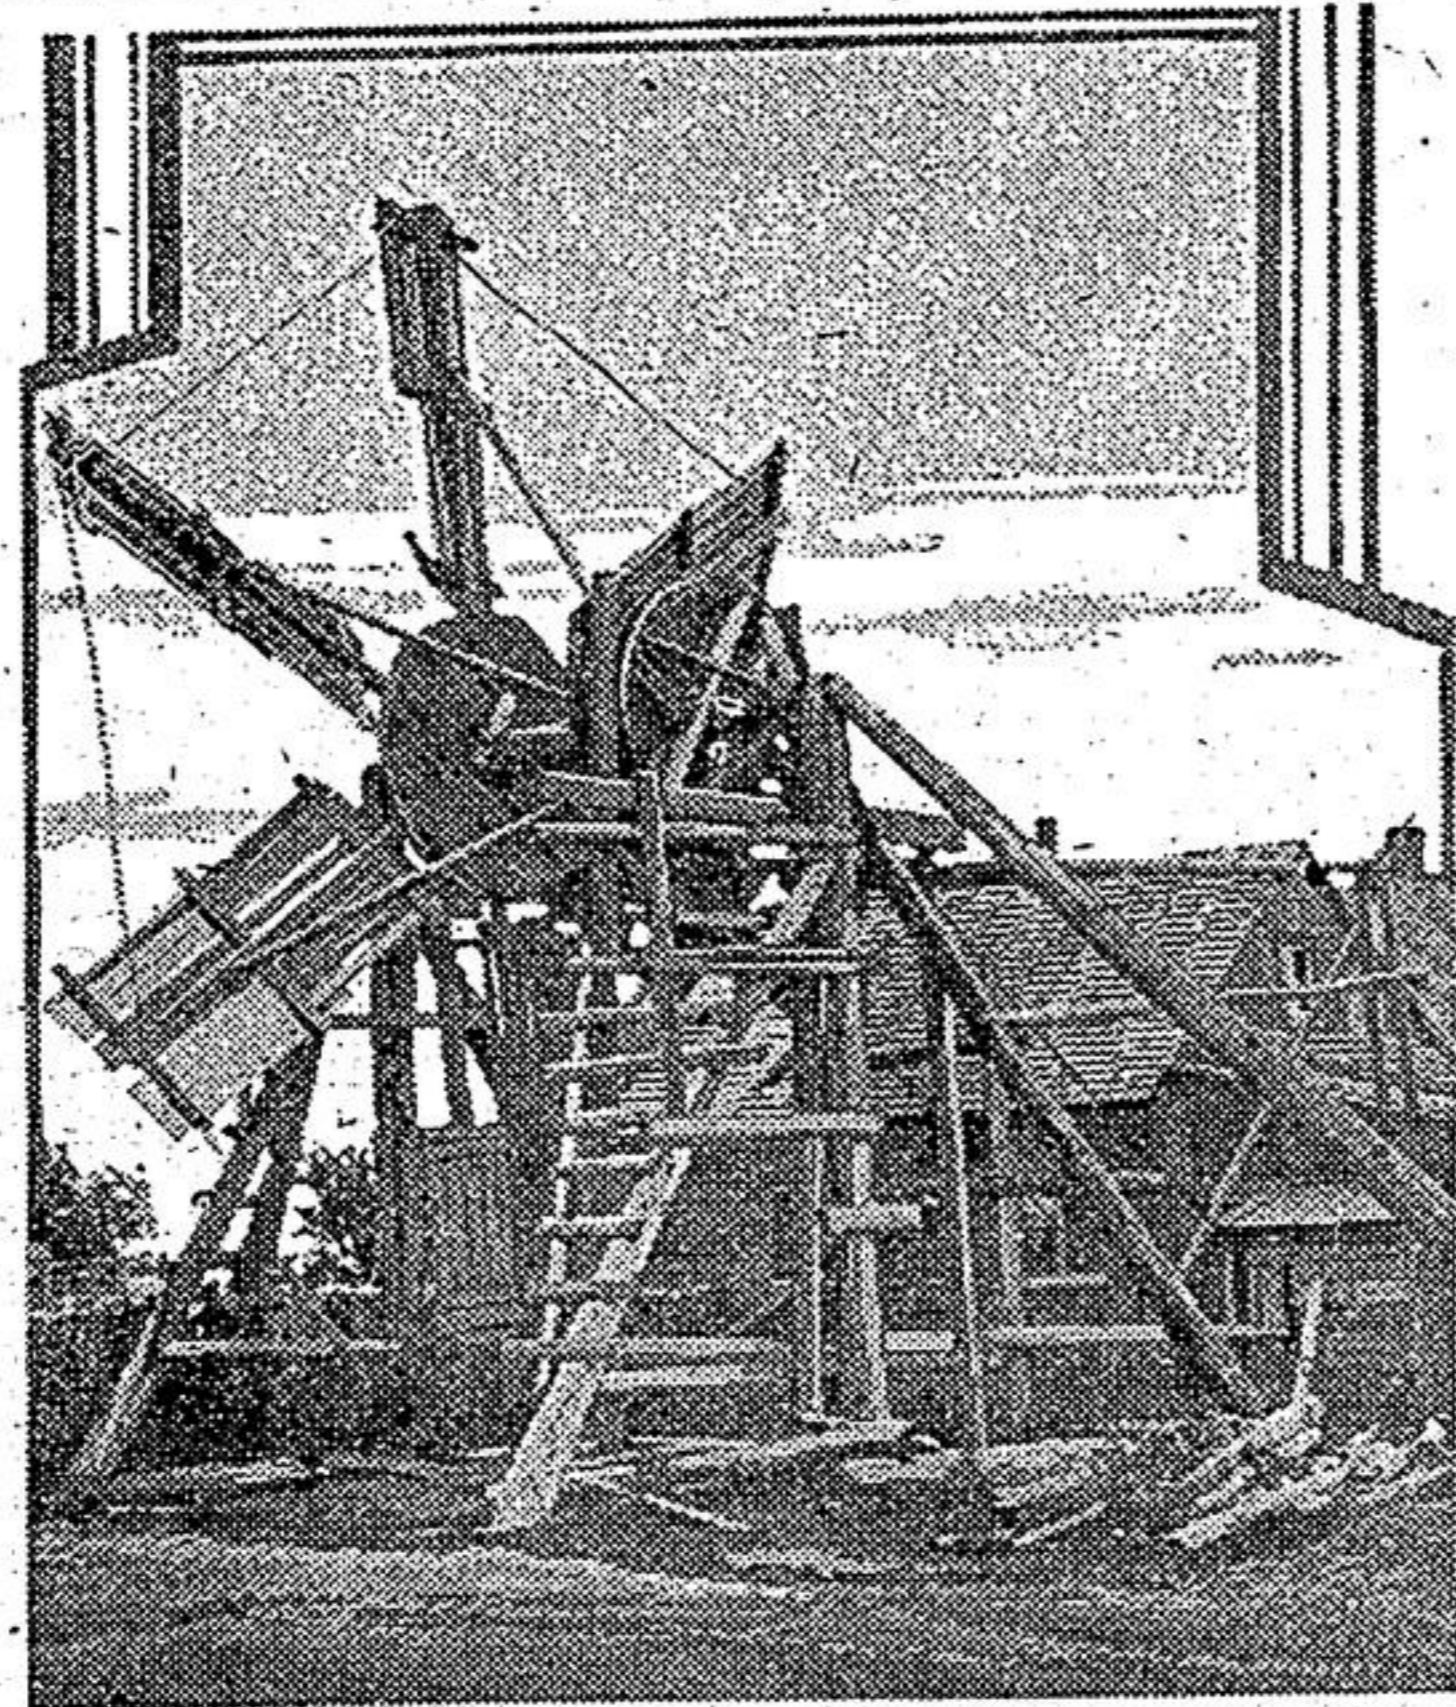

The physician, who knew the formula of the remedy, told her to take two of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after each meal and to come back in a month for another test. She followed instructions and took no other medicine.

On December 14 her blood showed 88 per cent. haemoglobin and 5,024,000 red corpuscles. Her weight was 100½ pounds, a gain of nine pounds in thirty days! She had gained color and attractiveness. The doctor noticed for the first time that she was positively pretty.

Blood tests scientifically prove the real value of a blood-building remedy. If you are anaemic, pale and underweight; if you lack ambition and energy, get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from your druggist and begin the treatment today. Revitalize your blood stream and build up new resources of strength and vigor. You are taking no chances. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are clinically tested.

Holland Plans Farm Dictator

Vanishing Foreign Trade Brings Drastic Proposal To Curtail Production

The Hague.—A bill introduced in the Second Chamber of the States General purports to give the Dutch Government dictatorial powers to reorganize the affairs of the farmers and fruit and flower growers of the country. The agricultural crisis in Holland has arisen chiefly as a result of the recently erected barriers against exports.

Laud owners and their tenants, as well as the merchants and the government, are realizing that the export markets, chiefly in England and Germany, lost by rising tariff walls and onerous regulations, will not be recovered soon, and that consequently the production of vegetables and dairy commodities must be curtailed.

Preliminary measures are being taken to reduce drastically the output of eggs and milk. The annual export of butter has fallen from 47,000,000 kilograms to 10,000,000 kilograms while the wholesale price has dropped. The surplus thus created is being cleared up by compelling margarine manufacturers to include a larger proportion of butter in their products than hitherto. This regulation came into force on April 3 and ordered that the proportion of butter in all margarine should be raised from 25 to 40 per cent.

Cheese Output Curtailed. In the cheese trade a similar regulation has been made. Beginning in April and continuing for at least three months all wholesale Dutch cheese makers must reduce their output by 30 per cent, the consequent loss of profit being wholly or partially met

Happy Health

"I always keep a supply of BABY'S OWN TABLETS on hand—they keep my children healthy and happy," writes Mrs. James Wilson, Lorneville, N.B. Mrs. Wilson's plan is commended to Mothers everywhere. Literally hundreds of Mothers have written their deep thanks for BABY'S OWN TABLETS, the absolutely SAFE remedy for the common illnesses of babies and children—teething troubles, simple fevers, upset stomach, colic, colds, peevishness. Give them to YOUR children. 25c a package.

Welsh Capital Building Modern Railway Terminus

Cardiff, Wales.—A £1,000,000 railway station which will be one of the most modern in Britain is being constructed at Cardiff.

The old main-line station and the station linking up the industrial valleys and the Glamorgan coast are merged into a central terminus under the new scheme. Traffic has not been interrupted during the extensive reconstruction.

A whole street of houses has been demolished to allow for extensions. Three level (grade) crossings will disappear and 16 new bridges have been built. A special newspaper distributing centre, in itself a miniature station, is being erected.

The whole terminus covers an area of 30,000 square yards and 200,000 cubic feet of earth were removed to prepare the site.

Italy Refuses to Permit Selling Wine to Minors

Rome.—In the face of warnings that she is bringing up a race of teetotalers, Italy has preferred to retain a law prohibiting wine for children in public institutions.

The opponents, championing the grape industry, put up a strong argument in the Chamber of Deputies, but were overruled.

Holding the wine is injurious to minors, Under Secretary Arpinati, of the Interior Department, said their health is of prime importance. He decided the idea that any considerable section of the public ever would be teetotalers.

Deputy Luigi Capri-Cruciani, for the opposition, stressed America's experience to show that beverages of small alcoholic content are desirable. He insisted that moderate use of wine by children is a safeguard against abuse of stronger drinks in later life.

EXCESS FAT MELTS

Under Treatment that Creates Energy

Some folks are naturally fat, but there's a lot of people who put on pounds of unhealthy fat because they haven't got enough energy to move about to keep it off.

It's not laziness in most cases—but a condition brought about by sluggishness of the internal organs—the liver, bowels and kidneys. As a result, poisons and harmful acids that kill vigor, ambition, and energy get into the blood—the whole general tone of the body is lowered and fat accumulates.

Thousands of overstout men and women find in Kruschen Salts a perfectly safe, sure, and beneficial means of reducing.

The "little daily dose" of Kruschen Salts keeps the organs functioning properly every day, and fills you with such a feeling of radiant vitality and vigor that before you know it you are fairly "jumping out of your skin" with energy, instead of moping around—and reduction follows as a matter of course—Nature attends to that.

Students of Both Sexes Free to Join German Work Camps

Berlin.—High school graduates of both sexes prior to entering a university may spend six months in a labor camp, according to a significant plank in the Nazi educational program.

So far the offer is voluntary, but it is expected that the government eventually will make it compulsory. Many graduates already are availing themselves of the opportunity, as attendance in the camps doubtless will enhance their chances of matriculation in a university.

Teaching the Blind to Read

It is noteworthy that the first efforts to enable the blind to read began in 1617, just 6 years after the King James version of the Bible was first published.

Various systems of raised letters were used. Progress was slow at first. In 1832 the Gospel of St. John was published in a system of raised Roman letters and by 1840 the Bible was completed in that system.

Braille, the system finally adopted and at present universally in use, was invented by a blind musician of France, named Louis Braille. This dotted system, which may be written as well as read by the blind, is now completely printed in universal Braille and is distributed by the Braille Bible Society Incorporated of Los Angeles. It is comprised of 21 volumes, and although costing $3 a volume to produce, is distributed at the price of $1 per volume.

Women Police Corps Organized in Peiping

Hong Kong, China.—Acting on the order of the Ministry of Chinese Home Affairs in Nanking, the Police College at Peiping has decided to open a class for the training of women police. Registration for the entrance closed the end of March.

The first class will not exceed 20 students. Upon graduation, these students will be given jobs in the local Bureau of Public Safety. The college received an order from Nanking to open its doors to women students last year, but owing to the lack of dormitory facilities it was unable to carry out the order at once.

Birmingham Shows Low Cost of Education

Birmingham, Ala.—Cost of education of a pupil in the public schools of Birmingham for the session 1931-32 was lowest in a table of 65 cities in the country, according to statistics received from the office of education.

For the 1931-32 session pupils were educated in the Birmingham schools, according to the department's table, for an average of $54.79 each. This was a decrease of 15.4 per cent. from the figures for the 1929-30 session, when Birmingham was next to lowest with an average cost of $64.75 a pupil. That year Norfolk, Va., was lowest with an average cost of $63.06 a pupil. For the 1931-32 session, Norfolk's average was $55.35.

Birmingham, in addition to ranking lowest in cost, was third in reduction of cost from 1929-30 to 1931-32, with a decrease of 15.4 per cent. Fall River, Mass., showed greatest decrease, 23.8 per cent, and Akron, O., was second with a decrease of 21.35 per cent. Yonkers, N.Y., has the highest average, $166.97 a pupil, for 1931-32.

Three Varieties of Milk Offered in Paris Park

Paris.—Frequenters of the Bois de Boulogne have revived the old-time fad of taking "the milk cure," which has been recommended by leading doctors.

A selected herd of cows is pastured in a section of the famous park adjoining one of the popular race tracks. The drinking salon is constructed with walls of plate glass to enable the clients to see the milking operation.

For patients suffering from stomach trouble, milk from Syrian asses is on tap at this establishment and goats have been imported from Switzerland to provide milk for invalid children. Surgical cleanliness is observed in the handling of the milk.

Farming 20,000 Years Ago

Palestine had its busy farmers 20,000 years ago. Dr. George Grant McCurdy of Yale University makes this declaration to the American Philosophical Society at Philadelphia. This carries the farming man twice as far back as did the Neolithic man. Dr. Grant exhibits skeletons of these long-headed, stooping Palestinian planters. The university's expedition brings back the most primitive sickles ever seen—First farmers cut their grain with sharpened flints fitted to a crooked stick.
