WAY IS CLEARED TO CONTEST WILL

The plaintiffs in the will case of the late Eleanor Casely, having complied with the order issued in Master's Chambers at Osgoode Hall two weeks ago, it is now likely the case will be contested at the fall sittings. The plaintiff's were required to pay costs incurred when the original application was made and which was found not to comply with the statutes in that behalf. They were accordingly granted the right appeal on payment of original costs, and given a week to file statemen of claim. Having complied with the Master's order, the case-may now be aired in the courts, possibly early in the fall. Mrs. Shank of Markham and other relatives of the deceased lady contend that they should share in the estate for which Morley Barker of Stouffville is the executor.

Breaks Both Legs

While walking along the sidewalk in the town of Aurora on Tuesday, Mrs. W. H. Chapman, formerly of Bethesda, and Stouffville, stumbled on a small stone lying on the cement, and fell in such manner as to fracture both her legs just about the knees.

Mrs. Chapman was rushed to the hospital at Newmarket, where she will be confined for possibly eight

The loose stone had evidently been thrown-from the roadway-to the cement sidewalk, and was not seen by Mrs. Chapman. Stepping or it she stumbled to her knees, with such serious results.

Burrows, escaping with slight injuries, crawled from the car and ran to pull the badly-injured man from the ditch where he had been thrown from the buggy.

Passing motorists stopped and nearby farmers came to his assistance. Coroner Dr. C. D. Farquharson of Agincourt was summoned, but Tomlinson was dead when he reached the scene. The body was removed to an undertaker's parlor in Agincourt, where Dr. Farguharson ordered an autopsy. An inquest will be held, he announced later.

P. C. Howard Cramp of the Scarboro police investigated the accident and Burrows was not held. Constable Draycott launched a further investigation.

Little is known about Tomlinson by his neighbors other than that he had resided on his farm for some time, was quiet and had little social contact with residents of the district He wore long flowing whiskers
