Four Perfect Bridge Hands Were Dealt
Four perfect bridge hands were held by players in Excelsior Springs, Mo., in a recent game. Thirteen spades, thirteen hearts, thirteen diamonds and thirteen clubs.

The cards were dealt on the up-and-up and the players, on receiving such extraordinary hands forgot to play and started asking "what can I do with a hand like this?"

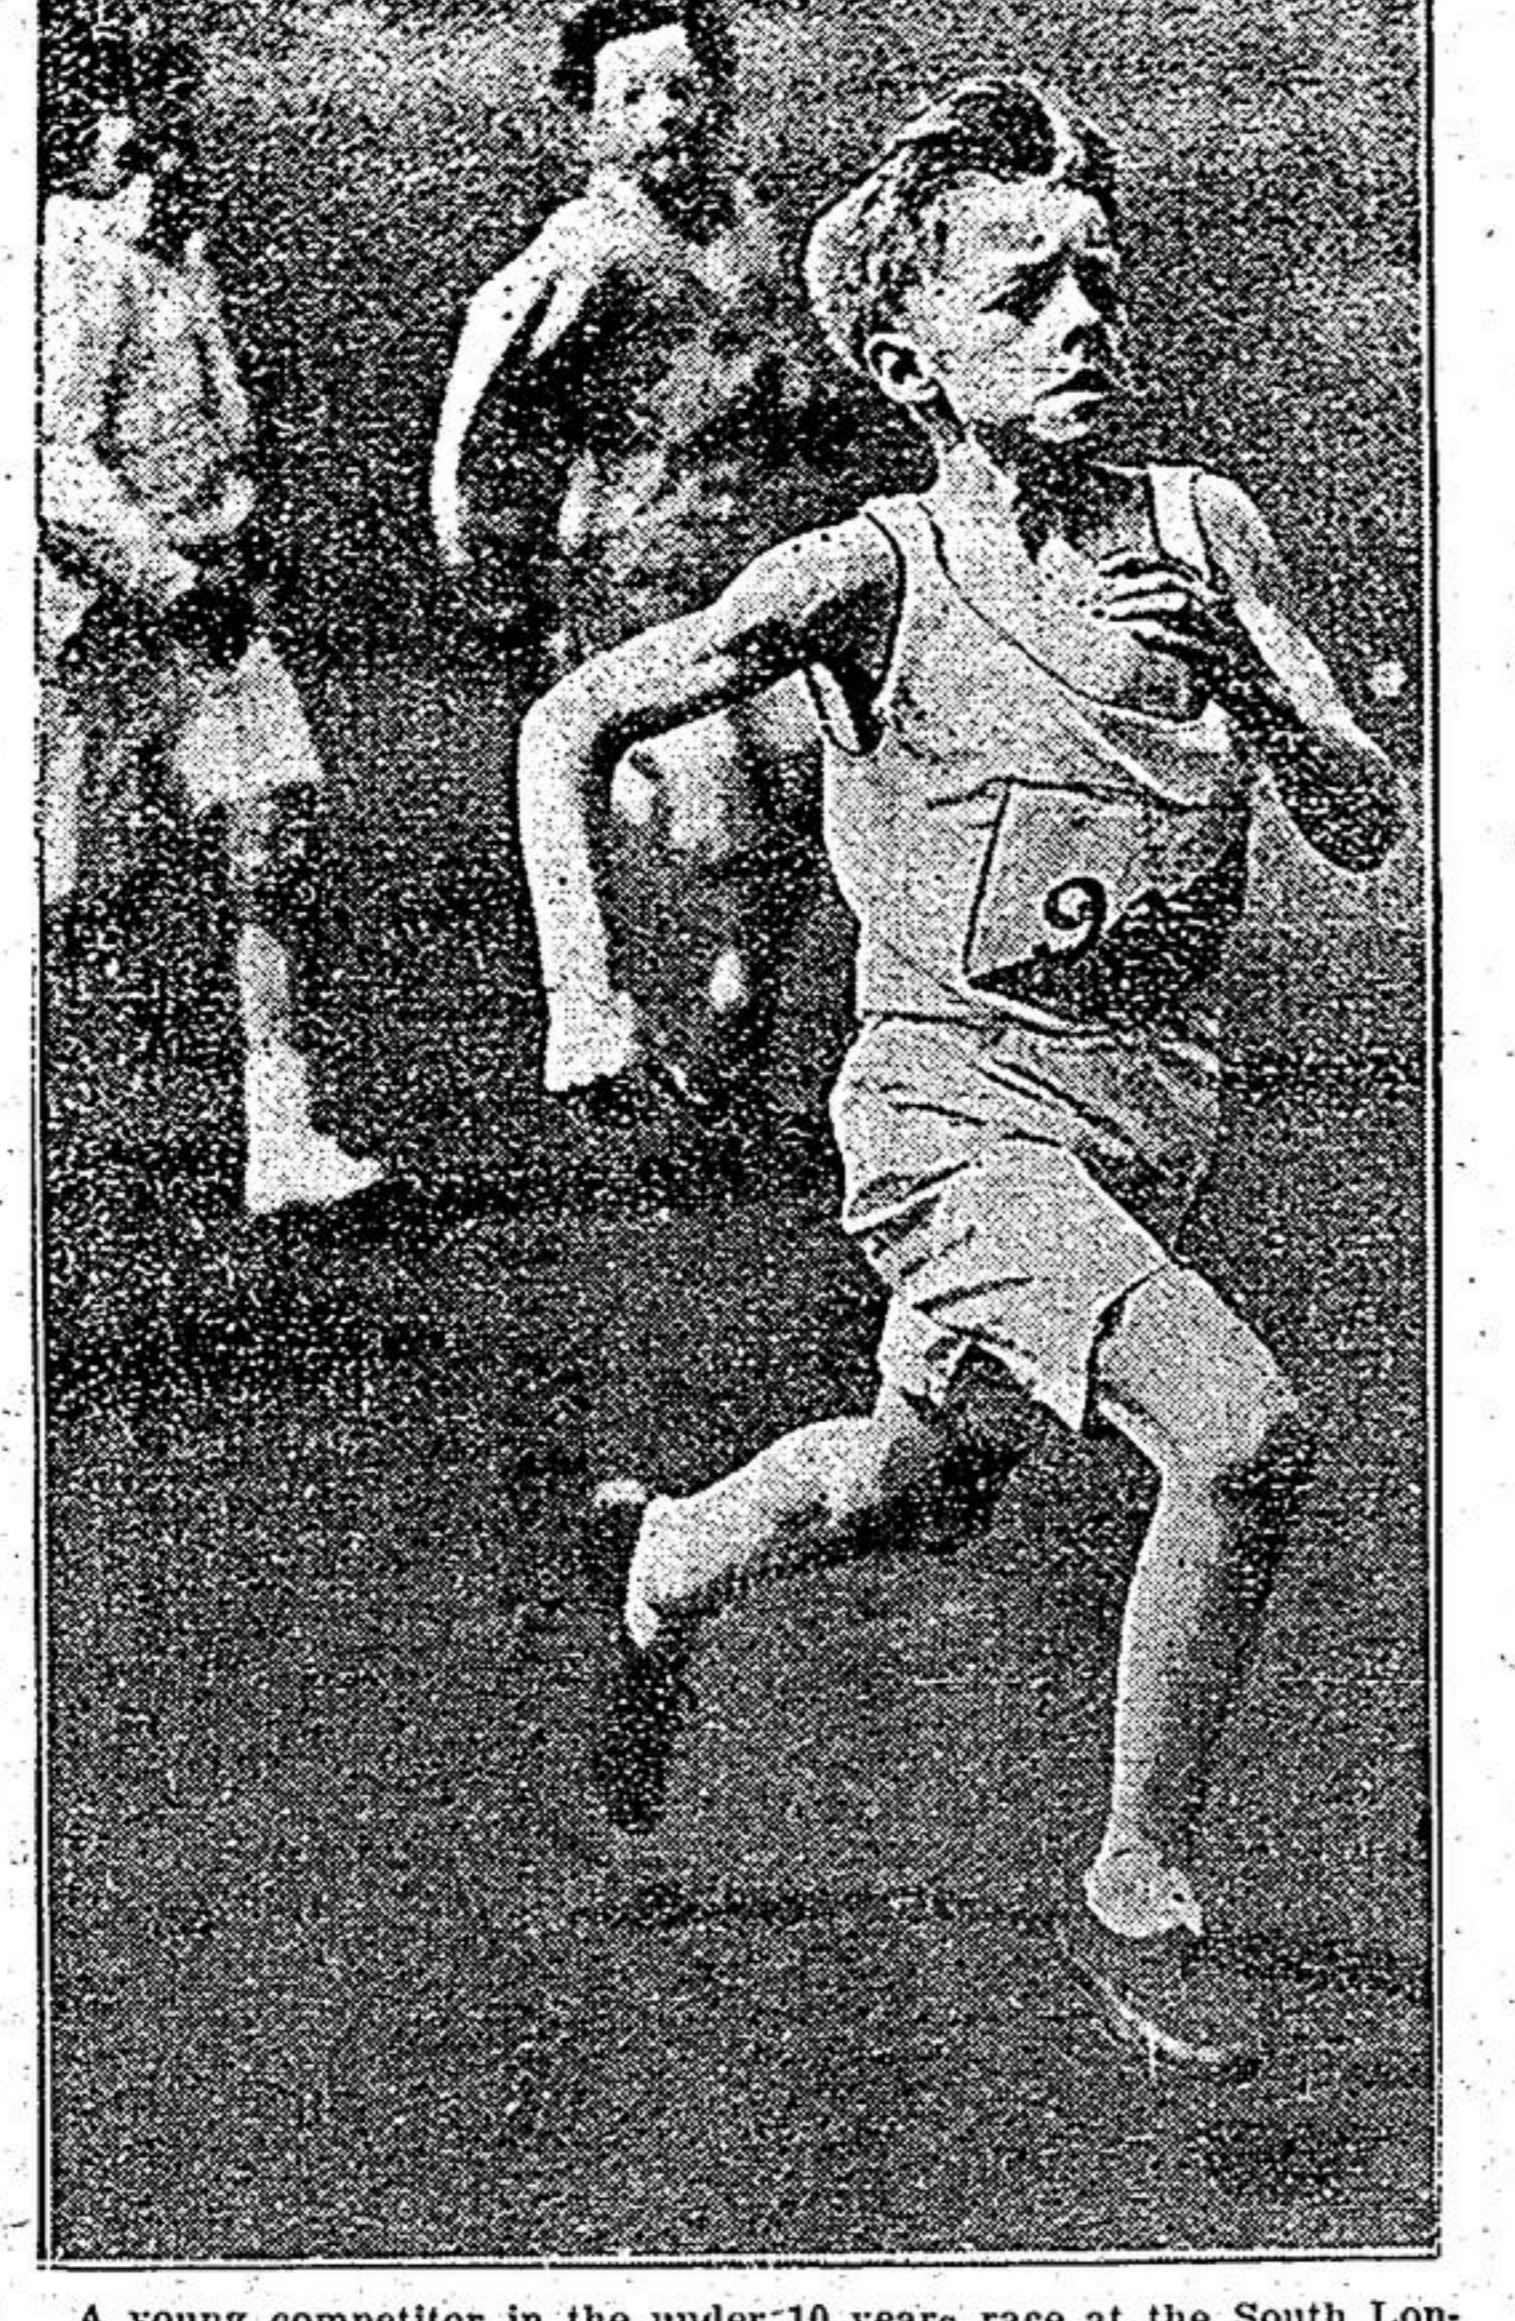

Mrs. Risley, one of the players, immediately on looking at her cards, asked for a headache tablet.

The Peculiar Beauty of England

If the beauty of England were only superficial, it would produce only a superficial effect. It would cause a passing pleasure and would be forgotten. It certainly would not—as now in fact it does—inspire a deep, joyous, serene and grateful contentment, and linger in the mind, a gracious and beneficent remembrance. The conquering and lasting potency of it resides not alone in loveliness of expression but in loveliness of character. Having first greatly blessed the British Islands with the natural advantages of position, climate, soil, and products, nature has wrought their development and adornment, as a necessary consequence of the spirit of their inhabitants. The picturesque variety and pastoral repose of the English landscape spring, in a considerable measure, from the imaginative taste and the affectionate gentleness of the English people. The state of the country, like its social constitution, flows from principles within, which are constantly suggested, and it steadily comforts and nourishes the mind with a sense of kindly feeling, moral rectitude, solidity, and permanence.

Thus in the peculiar beauty of England the ideal is made the actual—is expressed in things more than in words, and in things by which words are transcended. Milton's "L'Allegro," fine as it is, is not so fine as the scenery—the crystallized, embodied poetry—out of which it arose. All the delicious rural verse that has been written in England is only the excess and superfluous of her own poetic opulence; it has rippled from the hearts of her poets just as the fragrance floats away from her hawthorn hedges. At every step of his progress the pilgrim through English scenes is impressed with this sovereign excellence of the accomplished fact, as contrasted with any words that can be said in its celebration.

Frances Perkins Aims To Bar Child Labor

Washington.—Secretary Frances Perkins told newspapermen last week that she personally was recommending that in drafting each code under the United States industrial recovery act, provision be made to bar employment of child labor.

Miss Perkins said no definite age limits were being mentioned but she thought 15 should be the minimum with 16 the most desirable limit.

"I think it is time," she added, "that no child should be employed when so many adults are without employment and the real purpose of the recovery act is to spread work as much as possible."

Try a TESTED Medicine

On November 16, 1932, in a doctor's office in a Canadian city, a woman was given a blood test. It showed a low haemoglobin content and such a low content of red corpuscles that the case was decidedly one of anaemia.

The physician who made the test knew the formula of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the patient was instructed to take two of them after each meal. On December 16, one month after the first test, the haemoglobin had increased from 63 to 75 per cent., and the red corpuscles from 2,580,000 to 2,944,000. The patient had more color and felt better. In two months more the haemoglobin increased to 85 per cent., and the blood count to 4,400,000. The patient feels better, stronger, and more energetic every day.

If you are pale, tire easily and lack " pep," start right now to build up your haemoglobin with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the clinically tested medicine for anaemic conditions. You'll feel a different person in thirty days. The pills are sold by all druggists, fifty cents a box.

Africans Commemorate 100 Years of Christianity

Maseru, Basutoland.—Thousands of natives and hundreds of Europeans mingled in celebrations marking the centenary of the introduction of Christianity into Basutoland observed at Morija recently. Hymns in Sesuto were sung by a large native choir, and among addresses given was one by Chief Sekhoyane who deputized for the paramount chief.

The resident commissioner, Mr. J. C. Starrock, in his address, spoke of the condition of Basutoland when the first missionaries came. Those were times of trouble and stress, he said, when every man's hand was against his neighbor. But the wisdom of chief Moshesh had saved Basutoland.

In 1833 three missionaries came, said Mr. Starrock. Many were the trials with which they were faced, but their assistance was invaluable to Chief Moshesh. The missionaries worked with no ulterior motive, no advertisement, no attempt to magnify their achievements or to solicit praise from the world but solely for love of the cause.

In 1868 Basutoland came under British protection and in the years since then the British Government has learned to appreciate more and more the faithful labor and devotion of missionaries, said Mr. Starrock.

A New Old France

Writes the Contemporary Review: The rebuilding of the devastated areas of France present several interesting contrasts. Albert, for example, was houses occupying inconveniently rebuilt on exactly the same old plan, including awkward street corners and shaped sites. Wherever the former residents have returned to their towns, with true French fidelity they have refused to pay any regard to the advice of modern town planners and reproduced as nearly as possible their pre-war surroundings. But where new industrial centres were being created, those responsible have studied the latest ideas of town makers in all parts of the world, and added thereto many touches of French thrift and originality.

EXCESS FAT RUINING HER HEALTH

Better After Losing 14 lbs.
There are a number of bodily ailments that are apt to arise in overweight men and women, and if excess fat is reduced in the right way, very often improved health follows—as it did with this woman:—

"I used to have a great deal of fat that seemed to nearly stop me breathing, especially when I knelt down to do any housework, or was walking up a hill. I would simply have to fight for my breath for about 20 minutes. But now that has all gone, thanks to Kruschen, I have lost 14 lbs. in weight, and am able to get about in comfort. I can work all day and not feel tired. I feel so much better, and am so pleased to have lost some of the fat that was steadily gaining ground with me, and ruining my general health."—(Miss) A. K.

3 E's in Education

A new set of companions for the traditional three R's of instruction has been evolved in the last three or four years. For the administrative side of education we now have the "three E's of modern education"—economy, efficiency and equalization," says a bulletin from the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction. The three E's are now pulling together with reading, 'rithm' and 'rithmetic.

Last Bank Failure in Scotland in 1878

Edinburgh.—The last bank failure in Scotland occurred in 1878. The basic banking law of Scotland was passed in 1845, and since that date no new bank has been established, and the ninety-five banking houses then in existence have been reduced to eight.

Restriction of the note issue privilege to the banks having that right in 1845 tended to develop branch banking until in 1932 the eight banks had 1,808 branches in Scotland, or one banking office per 2,666 people.

Hong Kong News Flashes

Chinese Junk Touring Globe
Flying the Stars and Stripes from her masthead, the Chinese junk, Shin Di Ping Shi, on which two Americans and a mixed crew of five men are making an adventure trip around the world, sailed into Manila harbor after an exciting voyage from Hong Kong. This completes the second lap of her globe-encircling cruise which her jovial skipper, John Blomshield, declared may take ten years to complete. Although the junk made a record run of 5½ days from Shanghai to Hong Kong, it took her two weeks to get from here to Manila, a six-day calm being to blame for the slow passage. The trip, conceived by John Blomshield, the master, a New York artist, and Loring Fransworth, the chief officer; who is also from New York, started March 6 at Shanghai, but the craft was refitted at Hong Kong. The next stage in the long journey will be by way of the southern islands, Borneo, possibly Bali, to Australia. From there the route calls for a voyage to Honolulu, then through the Panama Canal to the east coast of the United States, Europe and back again to China.

Playground Association

A meeting attended by representatives of various clubs in Hong Kong resulted in the formation of an association called the "Children's Playgrounds Association," the object being to equip and manage playing areas for the poor children of Hong Kong. The scheme has received the widespread support of practically every club in the colony and in addition many individual members of the community have come forward with generous donations. The chairman stated that the object was to enable the poorer children of Hong Kong to obtain the fullest possible use of such open spaces as are available and to introduce them to the joys and delights of organized games.

Trade With Australia

What does Australia get in Hong Kong and the great markets of South China? The answer is disclosed in a recent statement by the Australian Department of Commerce, which shows that the main items are wheat and flour, sandal-wood, leather, milk foods, butter, bee-hive, meat, fruit, railway sleepers, lead, timber and mushrooms. Altogether more than £1,000,000 worth of goods were imported into Hong Kong from Australia last year, breaking all records. On the other hand, Hong Kong sent the following products "down under"—ginger, essential oils, silk, tea, embroidery, lace and rice.

Peace Prayer By Pacifists

The Biennial Conference of the National Christian Council of China, held at Sunkiang near Shanghai, in May, was attended by the Bishop of Victoria, Hong Kong, who states that, in a significant silence, the following telegram was read out first in Chinese and then in English by the Chinese Christian educator: "The Japanese Christian Council sends fraternal greetings to the Chinese Christian Council and joins them in prayer to God that peace may be soon restored between our two countries." Following this reading, the whole assembly stood in silent prayer. The chairman, Dr. Hsu Ban Chen, made an impassioned appeal for complete pacifism and offered himself to go and live in Japan as unofficial liaison officer between the Christians of the two countries.

Edmonton, Alberta.—Organization of seed grain clubs in Alberta for 1933 reveals a large increase over 1932, or in any year since the work began, 100 seed grain clubs with about 1,400 members—comparing with 73 clubs and 1,000 members in 1932. Of these there will be 42 wheat clubs with a membership of 650, including 11 Reward wheat and 31 Marquis wheat clubs. The oats clubs will total 28 with a membership of 400, while there will be 20 alfalfa clubs with a membership of 200. Barley clubs will total seven, and there will be three or four corn and potato clubs with about 50 members.

Vancouver, British Columbia.—British Columbia's coal output may be increased as a result of experiments recently carried out by the Fuel Testing Division of the Dominion Department of Mines. Reports indicate that of 27 coals tested as to their suitability for use in pulverized form, 12 types were from British Columbia, and all were declared satisfactory.

The Dominion Coast-To-Coast

Halifax, Nova Scotia.—Cargoes handled at the Port of Halifax, from January 1 to May 12 amounted to 336,599 tons, compared with 334,161 tons in the same period of 1932, and with 321,928 tons in 1931. Exports this year to date are more than double the tonnage of imports, being 265,927 tons outward compared with 120,651 tons inward.

Fredrickton, New Brunswick.—The New Brunswick Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the Dominion Seed-Branch, is to encourage the production, grading and distribution of seed grain crops through competitions on a prize award basis. These competitions will be applied to wheat and oats crops, open to any farmer who is a member of an agricultural society. Each entrant will be required to grade to a Government standard a minimum of ten bushels of wheat and 25 bushels of oats, and to offer a portion for sale. During the growing season examination of all fields of seed grain entered will be made by the Provincial Department of Agriculture and the Dominion Seed Branch. The stated quantities of both grains must be ready for inspection and sampling not later than January 31, 1934.

Montreal, Quebec.—Production of newsprint in Canadian mills increased by about 10,000 tons in April compared with the March total. April production being 147,759 tons against 137,078 tons in March and 176,660 tons in April, 1932. Shipments by Canadian mills in April were ahead of production, and showed an increase of more than 20,000 tons (at 161,266 tons) against 140,694 tons in March.

Toronto, Ontario.—That Ontario farmers are confident poultry is again to be one of their best cash crops is shown by the fact that more chicks have been hatched and sold this year than in any year to date. From present indications, according to Mr. T. A. Benson, Dominion Poultry Branch, the present year should be better than 1932 for those in the poultry business.

Brandon, Manitoba.—The Brandon Horticultural Society has decided to hold its annual show during the third week in August, and this year ribbons will be distributed without any prize money. The usual garden competitions for the Peter Middleton and O. L. Harwood cups will be held, but cups and certificates only will be awarded. The absence of prize money this year is not, apparently, preventing an enthusiastic response.

Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.—The incorporation of a company to manufacture woollen goods at Saskatoon, the Saskatoon Woollen Mills, Ltd., is announced by the Saskatchewan Gazette. The company has a capital of $20,000, and will, it is understood, manufacture blankets and yarns for farmers on a custom basis.

Edmonton, Alberta.—Organization of seed grain clubs in Alberta for 1933 reveals a large increase over 1932, or in any year since the work began, 100 seed grain clubs with about 1,400 members—comparing with 73 clubs and 1,000 members in 1932. Turkish Pupils Taught To Repeat Peace "Credo"

Ankara, Turkey.—Turkey, turning its back on the warlike past, has fashioned a "credo" of peace which every child in every primary school of the republic must recite in class each morning.

The "credo," which the ministry of public instruction has just issued for the rising generation, is: "I am a Turk, honest and industrious."

"My duty is to protect those weaker than I, to respect my elders, to love my country sincerely."

"My ideal is to raise myself higher and to continue in the path of progress. I make a gift of my existence to the existence of Turkey."
