Information For Farmers

New Cold Storage Plants

Two new cold storage warehouses are in course of erection in fruit-growing districts of Ontario. The Oxford Fruit Co-operative has begun work on a two-storey concrete and brick cold storage warehouse at Woodstock, which will cost $30,000. It will have a 10,000-barrel capacity and will be ready for the fall pack of apples. The Lambton Cold Storage Company is also erecting a two storey building, which will have a capacity of 5,000 barrels storage with a large packing room in addition. It is located at Forest and will prove a boon to the fruit growers of that district. The cost is placed at $15,000.

"Rust" Disease

The "rust" disease that attacks outdoor flowers such as Snapdragon and Hollyhock can be controlled by keeping the plants thoroughly dusted with sulphur. The spores of the fungi, which cause this disease, are killed when they come into contact with sulphur on the plants, thus preventing infection. Sulphur may also be used as a treatment for the control of black spot and mildew on roses.

The tarnished plant bug is frequently destructive to the buds of dahlias and zinnias together with other flowering plants. Dust mixtures applied by means of a hand-blower are of value, especially tobacco dust. Hydrated lime when dusted on is proving beneficial.

Vegetable Crops

Discussing vegetable conditions in Ontario, George Rush, vegetable specialist, Horticultural Branch, said that the yield of early potatoes is considerably below that of last year, and that fair prices have caused many growers to market their crop early. A certain percentage of growers, however, are holding back in the hope of a greater yield and that prices will remain at their present level.

Tomatoes have suffered to some extent with lateral blooms not setting so well. Stalked tomatoes have given best results in fruit sets.

Beet and carrot crops are fair, and heavy plantings for late crops have been made.

Peas, both canning and market are finished. Cabbage crops have been good, with large supplies still available. Late plantings in cabbage and cauliflower are large.

Potato Yields Decrease, Prices Reasonably Firm

Unlike other years, says C. W. Bauer of the Ontario Growers' Markets Council, first plantings of potatoes have already been harvested, and supplies are now coming from later districts and second early plantings, which materially reduces available supplies. Yields have varied from twenty to fifty bags per acre as against sixty to seventy-five bags a year ago. Even though the yield is light, the sample is exceptionally good. Unless growers become nervous the price should remain reasonably firm, and as to available supplies, it is doubtful if there are more than sufficient to carry the demand until the late crop is ready for harvesting. Pasture for pigs may undoubtedly be made good use of on the average farm. This method of feeding, however has disadvantages, particularly with the active bacon hog, owing to the opportunity for excessive exercise from the standpoint of fast finishing and the liability of little pigs to stunting through sunburn and the combined effects of sunburn and dew. With plenty of skim milk or buttermilk both the experimental evidence and that of practical feeders would indicate that growing bacon hogs may be fed for market more economically indoors or in well shaded pens, supplied with racks for green feed, preferably in the form of alfalfa or clover. Racks are essential to the prevention of waste.

Ontario Agriculture Well Represented at Regina

A very comprehensive picture of Ontario agriculture is being given to the visitors at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference through the large educational exhibit that has been prepared by the Extension Department of O.A.C. for the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The display is 120 feet in length, and is divided into five units that show the most recent advances in poultry and hog production, and the latest developments in cereal and legume breeding that have been made in Ontario. These four panels are balanced about the central unit which provides a key to the whole scheme with the caption, "Ontario Agriculture: A Well Balanced System. With Much Live Stock, and Regular Rotation of Crops."

The idea of crop rotations as the most important factor in the success of Ontario agriculture is also very forcibly presented in the central panel by means of an eight-foot wheel, which revolves slowly, showing in a very striking manner the crops and arrangement that go to make up a good rotation for Ontario.

Weather Conditions Setback to Ontario Cattle Business

Live stock in Western Ontario is experiencing a setback due to the drought of the past two months, says George H. Duncan, live stock investigator, Ontario Marketing Board. Pastures are dried out to such an extent that cattle are barely holding their own, even on increased acreage of pasture land. Without more favorable weather conditions, many cattle will be unfinished by the coming autumn, or will reach the market later than usual.

To obtain best returns the producer will have to exercise greater care than ever before in the marketing of such cattle. Heavy supplies of unfinished cattle reaching the market will, undoubtedly, demoralize the entire live stock trade.

BALLANTRAE

The death of Mrs. Clara Kate Hosking which occurred at the home of her son, Alfred on the Elmer Clark farm on Tuesday July 25, came with great suddenness. She had been ill only a brief time when death came. Six years ago Mrs. Hosking suffered a stroke, but was fully recovered and seemed in good health right up to a few days before her death. Seventy-three years of age, she was born in England, and came to Canada in 1909. For a time she lived at Aurora, but seven years ago came to Whitchurch to live with her son on the Elmer Clark farm at lot 17, con. 7. Her husband died quite a few years ago, and her son Alfred is the only surviving member of the family. The funeral on July 27 to Pine Orchard cemetery, was in charge of Rev. E. Norton of Stouffville. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hosking have the sympathy of the neighborhood in their bereavement.

Here and There

Indications point to a fairly early harvest in Western Canada, says a late July weekly crop report of the Canadian Pacific Railway agricultural department. A few points in southern Manitoba, the report added, had already started cutting wheat and barley.

Canada jumped to fourth place in bacon exports to Great Britain last May as compared with sixth place in 1932, behind Denmark, Holland and Poland. Total exports to Great Britain from Canada in May were 5,566,400 lbs. or at the rate of 66,000,000 lbs. per annum.
