Both men are over 80 years of age, and enjoyed talking over earlier days in Stouffville. Mr. Sanders, a tailor by trade, can still throw a needle quite lively, when he feels disposed to do so. He has been visiting with his sister at Lemonville, Mrs. Macklem Cook, who is also over 80 years of age.

The business houses and private homes will be expected to decorate their places on Labor Day for the big celebration. If each one will do just a little, it will brighten up the village, and add considerably to its good appearance for the holiday, Sept. 4.

A former local farmer, William Meek, now of Buffalo, with his wife and daughter were in town last week. They stayed at the home of Mr. John Turner, for the two men were school chums away back, and they had not met in 25 years. At one time Mr. Meek farmed on the 10th concession on the premises now occupied by Fred Winn. He sang in J. B. Moore's Baptist choir here 40 years ago. Another guest at the Turner home was Mrs. D. S. Turner of Whitevale, who is about 80 years of age, but wonderfully smart. Although she doesn't live very far from Stouffville, this is her first visit here in six years. Her husband was John Turner's father's youngest brother.

Fitting reference was made from the pulpit of the United Church on Sunday morning to the residence here for the past two years of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Watson. Mr. Watson was principal of the Continuation School during that period, and in addition to meeting with considerable success in the profession, was also a highly prized citizen. He was active in the work of the Horticultural Society, and both he and his wife were enjoyed in church work. It is with considerable regret on the part of their friends and the town generally that they are leaving. Mr. and Mrs. Watson will locate near Hamilton, where they have a son and daughter living. They left town this week.

Tax Collector Lud. Lownsborough was on his rounds last week distributing the tax bills to local ratepayers for 1933. The first instalment is due and payable any time up to Sept. 1st, after which date a penalty will be added to the first instalment not paid. This is the first year for some time that the village has engaged a collector, as in better times it was satisfactory to have payments made at the bank. The change was made because too many people neglected to pay at the bank, but with a collector they will be constantly reminded and perhaps steps will be taken to force payment. The collector anticipates prompt payment on the part of most people, as he says a few hundred dollars were paid to him while he was distributing the bills. Anyone who remitted on first sight of the collector approaching them, were prompt indeed. In addition to bringing in this year's demand the collector is authorized to collect arrearages, and to put pressure to bear where the taxes can be secured by so doing. Lownsborough will be in the office of the village treasurer on August 31 and September 1st to receive taxes and all who go to the municipal building will find him there, or any other time they may call at his home.

A new pool room opened for business in town this week to replace the one recently conducted down in the old Auditorium building. Business will be carried on one door east of Richard Ward's garage, and four tables are installed, which are now in operation. We understand that some members of council disclaim any knowledge of a license being granted for the business, but the fact is that the place is operating under the old license granted the Auditorium, and which the council did not cancel when the business was discontinued.

Four guests were entertained at dinner one evening last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Rowbotham, which was remarkable for the great distance from which each came, but of course not unheard of in these days of extensive travel, when the following were present: President L. S. Klinck of British Columbia, William Klinck of Alberta, David Curtis from Saskatchewan, and Miss Ruth Curtis from Florida. The "far flung battle line" which we oft times read about in our school days never had anything on the vast distances from which these guests came to spend a happy summer season. Dr. L. S. Klinck has left on his return journey to the Coast.

The death of Dr. Fergus Black which occurred on Saturday last at Vancouver, removed a man who practised medicine in Uxbridge, and later in Stouffville over 40 years ago, but who is well remembered by some of those who resided here in those days. Dr. Black passed away in his 93rd year, and was one of the oldest graduates of Toronto University. When in Stouffville he resided in the east end, and left here to take over a practice at Port Colborne. He went to the coast ten years ago, and is survived by one son Norman and one daughter Mary who is the librarian at Fort William.

Almost every exchange paper coming to our desk last week missed a good item, and one that would have been appreciated by the ratepayers, regarding the Middle School reports. The Tribune undertook to give the exact standing of every pupil, indicating not only the subjects they passed in, but those on which they failed. Only by telling the whole story can the ratepayers learn of the progress of the school. This paper even went further and detailed the success attained by each teacher by giving the numbers of papers his or her pupils passed or failed on.

By the comments, we judge that the information was carefully read, and certainly the ratepayers are entitled to the information, for they are all liable for the school taxes, whether they have children attending school or not.

This is a matter for the weekly editors to consider, for the daily press cannot supply the information, because they are unable to allot sufficient space in their papers to do so. The wonder is that so many weeklies missed the opportunity to supply valuable information that the ratepayers cannot obtain by any other means.

Mrs. E. A. Button, who has been in ill health for some time is on a holiday on the Atlantic, enjoying the salt water breezes.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Swift and family spent a few days with relatives in Cobocook.

Miss Agnes Klinck spent a few days with friends in Silverdale this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Storey and Miss Jane Birkett, spent the weekend at Rice Lake, on a fishing trip.

Dr. Harry Wilson made a hurried trip to his mother's here last week from his home in Englehart, Northern Ontario.

Walter E. Lee, B.A., of the Lindsay High School Staff who last year in the holiday season wrote and passed the Commercial Science course, was this summer successful in obtaining his certificate in Physical Culture. Walter is a son of Rev. H. Lee of Stouffville.

The W. M. S. of the United Church held its monthly meeting in the basement of the church on Thursday afternoon, August 10th. Mrs. D. A. Scott, president, occupied the chair and the chief feature of the program was a very fine address given by Miss Darrach, a returned missionary, of Toronto, Miss Darroch was a member of the China Inland Mission for many years and it is only during the past year that she permanently gave up her work there.

During the course of her address she gave a vivid description of the daily life of a missionary in that part of China. The labors of her and her co-worker covered a radius of thirty miles and their only vehicle for transportation was a wheelbarrow. At one time they were captured by a bandit army and held for five weeks before the government succeeded in finding and releasing them. During this period they endured many hardships. Special musical numbers were a solo by Miss Isabel Gregg and a duet by Misses Enid Cook and Marion Kilpatrick. Mrs. D. A. Scott accompanied at the piano. Those present were given the opportunity of meeting the guest speaker at a social hour held at the close of the meeting. Tea was served by the group in charge of the program.
