October-Harvest Month

October, the month of falling leaves, golden pumpkins, Thanksgiving and Hallowe'en. A month calling forth wondrous dishes from the kitchen. Hal- three. lowe'en especially demands something unusual and attractive, and leading the field, candied apples the traditional sweet for children. Here is an easy recipe:

Sticks which are inserted in the apples and used as handles can be procured at any household supply store and the glaze which is used for the apples is so simple to make that a be nourishing and inviting. child can do it without assistance.

To three cups of sugar, either brown or white, add one-half teaspoon of ginger, one-half teaspoon of cinnamon and one cup of water. Heat over a low fire stirring until sugar is dissolved, then boil for about seven minutes or until the syrup will form a solid ball when dropped in cold water. Let the syrup cool slightly, then insert sticks in the blossom end of apples, submerge them in the syrup and set on buttered platter to harden.

After one layer of the syrup has hardened the apples can be dipped again if a thick coating is wanted. The srup should be cooked in a small, deep pan, such as the top of a double boiler, so the syrup will be dee enough to cover the apples.

The Lunch Box

School bells are ringing again and in many homes school lunch boxes must be packed five mornings of the week. If you want to avoid monotony and furnish wholesome lunches, you will soon discover that you must plan four meals a day in place of the usual

It's a good idea to plan the meal to be carried the day before, as soon after packing the lunch-box as possible. The busy time in the morning, when every minute must count, allows little time for "hunting up something" for the lunch-box. The school lunch must be a satisfactory supplement to the other two meals of the day. It must

Pack Dessert First

The packing of the food in the lunch napkins, tiny waxed cardboard containers and small paper baking cups and picnic spoons are available, the task is lightened and neatness is asfirst. Otherwise the box must be unpacked to reach the sandwiches and there is the possibilty that the dessert only will be eaten and the rest of the lunch overlooked.

Always consider the personal likes and dislikes of a child. Girls thrive on daintiness. Boys like regular man-size sandwiches and cookies. But neatness and order appeal to all children.

Sandwich is Mainstay

The sandwich is the mainstay of the lunch box and must be concocted to the infinite variety of breads as well as the many sandwich fillings in order to avoid monotony. Try to combine meat with grated and minced vegetables such as carrots; lettuce and celery in sandwich fillings. The combination gains both food value and piquancy.

Kitchen Kinks

Small scraps of toilet soap should not be left about in the bathroom, for they casily slip into the plug-hole, and tend to clog the waste pipe. It is advisable to have a small bag of strong net, about the size of the average soap tablet, and place the pieces in it, squeezing them well together. When the bag is nearly full it should be tied sail from Paphos." Scraps of scented Capes are a feature of many evening toilet soap should never be placed in

Giblet Soup

The giblets may be made into an excellent soup which is most nourishing. Simmer the giblets in good beef stock, adding salt, pepper, herbs, and one small onion. When the giblets are tender they should be removed and the soup strained. Thicken in the usual manner, adding a good lump of butter and a little mushroom or tomato flavoring. This is a good way in which to use up giblets which are not required for gravy.

Perga was in a low-lying, unhealthy region, plagued with malaria, and would seem that Paul fell a victim to this torturing disease. "And John de parted from them and returned to Jerusalem." Perhaps he also was s'ricken with malarial fever. Perhaps he disapproved of the extension most entirely by Gentiles.
