

HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.
TIME has proven our service of tribute—a record of honorable accomplishments. To acquit ourselves with honor is our creed.

Farmers' Information

Ontario Fruit Storage

The cold storage warehouse recently erected at Woodstock, Ontario, with its 90,000 barrel capacity is, another unit in a chain of cold storage warehouses that gives Ontario facilities for 200,000 barrels of apples. The warehouse has facilities to handle the storage of all kinds of fruits and vegetables.

Beauty Parlors for Dairy Cows

An important step in clean milk production is to clip the udders, hips, and flanks of the cows, thus making the daily brushing much easier and more effective. Clipping of the tail, head, neck and shoulders adds to the appearance of the cows, and aids in getting rid of lice, which will multiply quickly at this time if not promptly eradicated. A good wet or power shampoo repeated in ten days time will do the trick.

Taking More Prominent Part

In Export to Great Britain Since September, Canada has commenced to take a place among the more important suppliers of eggs to the British markets. Some 128,000 dozen of eggs were exported during that month. Prices to Canadian producers have recently improved steadily. Fresh receipts of eggs are somewhat scarce and continued firmness in price is probable. Those producers who wisely hatched or purchased early chicks, are in a position to at least, make some profit as a result of adopting firm business methods. Canadian eggs continue to be exported in fair volume. The Toronto and Montreal markets continue very firm.

The "Royal"

Teams representing Boys' Cattle, Swine, Grain and Potato Clubs in Ontario held their annual inter-club competitions at O.A.C. on Friday, October 27th. Teams were each composed of two club members between the ages of 16 and 26 years inclusive. In all 2,111 club members are enrolled in the 103 clubs organized in the four projects in Ontario, during the past year. Fifty-five of these clubs sent their representatives to the College to compete in one of the four inter-club competitions, conducted under the direction of R. S. Duncan, director of the Agricultural Representatives for Ontario.

In the cattle Club Competition, 21 teams competed. The Woodbridge Dairy Club of York County composed of Norman Baggs and Wilbert Jennings, were winners for the one prize coming to this county.

"Royal" Prospects Good

Advance information from the management of the Royal Winter Fair is to the effect that prospects are brighter for the coming fair than any in its 12-year history. It is expected that there will be a particularly heavy entry of all classes of live stock and farm products. For eight days, November 22 to 30, there will be on display some of the best products of the land. The small breeder or small landowner will be found in competition with the products from large holdings. The boys will have an opportunity to show their beef calves in a wide open competition. Formerly it was necessary to be a member of a calf club in order to show, but this year any body between 14 and 20 years of age who has a calf sired by a purebred bull born on or after September 1, 1932, which he has fed, cared for and fitted two months prior to fair dates, may enter in competition.

Takes Optimistic Attitude Towards Ontario Fall Fairs

"For very definite reasons," stated J. A. Carroll, superintendent of Horticultural Societies, "I am convinced that the near future will, once again, see the Fall Fair as an institution of real importance in the farming life of Ontario."

Mr. Carroll, in his official capacity, has visited some 28 fairs commencing with the Canadian National Exhibition. He points out that gate receipts are increasing generally and, in some cases, this increase is as much as thirty or forty per cent. over last year.

"Crops in general being earlier this year," he said, "has resulted in giving more farmers time to attend the fairs. Then again, economic conditions have had much to do with increased attendance. Where in the past farmers would turn to the city for relaxation, a less expensive entertainment is now the order of the day. Fall fairs answer this need."

More attractive prizes and the program of Junior Work were named as two additional reasons for the increased interest in the fall fair. Mr. Work has been carried on for over twenty years now, and this program is beginning to bear fruit inasmuch as an entirely new generation is added to the attendance at these annual functions.

"For these reasons," he concluded, "I cannot take anything but an optimistic attitude towards the future of the fall fair in Ontario."

Mr. Robert Miller of Stouffville is authority for the statement that the railroad worm can be handled if the orchardist would pick up the little apples that fall to the ground right after the blossom leaves the trees and the small apple forms. Mr. Miller has followed this plan in his orchards and while the pest is so prevalent everywhere he has yet to have it affect his crop says Mr. Miller.

Winter Fair at Guelph

The Ontario Provincial Winter Fair, to be held December 5 to 7 inclusive, will undoubtedly draw a particularly strong entry. At no show is there a more attractive display of draft horses than is seen in the single and teams at Guelph. The classes for market cattle are always strong and there is usually a good showing in the three beef breeds. The sheep show is outstanding. In the seed department there are good prizes and keen competition. The evening horse show is an attraction that always pleases. Write to R. W. Wade, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, for premium list, and remember that entries close on November 20. This is the fiftieth annual Ontario Provincial Winter Fair to be held at Guelph.

Mice Injure Orchards

One of the greatest hazards in the growing of an apple orchard is the danger of girdling by mice. This is especially true in orchards under sod culture, although even orchards under clean cultivation are frequently subject to considerable damage from this cause. The amount of damage caused by these animals varies greatly from year to year, depending largely upon their available supply of food.

Galvanized wire screen makes the most effective protection. The initial cost is high, but as it only has to be placed once and will last for a large number of years, it will be found cheaper in the long run. This wire should be cut into pieces large enough to encircle the trunk and leave room for expansion of the trunk, as the tree grows. The lower end should be buried about one inch in the soil, in order to prevent mice from working underneath.

Honey Exports Increasing

Domestic Price is Rising
Indications are for a shortage of honey in Ontario next spring, reported the Ontario Marketing Board recently. Total white honey exports of all grades from the Province are now in excess of 300 tons, which taken together with the crop variously reported from 40 to 50% less than last year, and with the substantial exports from the Province of Quebec, leaves the entire domestic market cleaned up of all surplus supplies. Prices are rising to producers and few beekeepers are selling bulk lots for less than 8 cents per pound f.o.b. shipping point for top grades. This is an increase of approximately 2 to 3 cents per pound as compared with 1931.

The British market is reporting a lively interest in Canadian honey this year due, somewhat, to the fact that a world shortage of this crop is reported, except for domestic production in England. In addition, the benefit of the Imperial Preference Agreements, which give Empire honey a protection of seven shillings per long cwt., are being realized to the maximum for the first time this year since their adoption.
