East Markham Record

The farmers on the east side of Markham Township have established a record this year, which is said to be the first in the history of the municipality. They paid more taxes than did the farmers on the west side of the municipality. There was a charge made against the assessor last year of making wholesale reductions in assessments on the west, and the matter came up at the nomination meeting, but Reeve Padgett denied any interference with the work of the assessor.

Since that time the fact is revealed that the farmers on the east side have paid greater total tax bill than the farmers on the west side, but this paper is certainly not charging that it is due to the work of the assessor.

However, one thing that ought to be done in Markham is to divide the township north and south for assessment purposes and thus wipe out the suspicion that anything is wrong in this matter, a suspicion that many farmers tell us has good ground: if the territory for the two assessors were changed in the manner suggested, the present discontent would be wiped out.

Bible 350 Years Old

One of America's Oldest Bibles Owned by Cedar Grove Farmer

A German Bible dated 1579, probably one of the oldest editions of the Scriptures this side of the Atlantic is a cherished possession of Rev. T. Reesor, who lives at Cedar Grove on the farm which his father received as a grant from Sir Isaac Brock in 1812. The very old book has been handed down from generation to generation in the Reesor family, in an almost perfect state of preservation, and only yesterday Rev. Mr. Reesor had the old book returned from Kitchener, where it was rebound by skilled bookbinders.

The paper in the book is in good condition despite its age of 355 years—Beautiful hand-colored illustrations in red, yellow and green appear frequently in the large volume. Mr. Reesor has been told that the painting of the illustrations was done by Van Dyke, one of the old masters.

The old-book is eighteen inches long, twelve inches wide and five inches in thickness. The cover is made of polished oak with leather binding and brass corners. The corners are worn through from use. The old Bible was rebound 200 years ago, Mr. Reesor said.

According to the frontispiece the book was printed in Frankfurt-on-the-Main, near the Franco-German boundary. It is printed in long continuous paragraphs without the usual breaks for verses.

Mr. Reesor's great-grandfather, Christian Reesor, who settled in Cedar Grove in 1804, coming from Pennsylvania, recorded the births, deaths and marriages of his brothers and sisters and family in a portion of the old Bible. The descendants of the Resors recorded in the book are said to number more than three thousand. Christian Reesor was killed by a falling tree while clearing land to obtain grazing for his cattle.

Farmers' Information

Mulching Strawberries
 In many districts it is the practice to mulch strawberry plantations with rye straw which, as it is harvested early, is very free from weed seeds and this is a very important feature where it is the custom to take future crops from the plantation. If manure is used, care should be exercised in order that none will come in contact with the crown of the plant. Mulch as soon as the ground is frozen hard enough to carry a wagon, for much damage may be caused by alternate freezing and thawing.

Order Fertilizer Early
 Plants as much as animals require food. Winter is a good time to plan the summer diet for crops. Manure supplemented with superphosphate is a splendid ration for most crops. Twenty-two years of experimental work at Dominion Experimental Farms have shown that yields may be maintained by using commercial fertilizers alone. If manure is scarce, therefore, use commercial fertilizers. Decide on the kind and amount needed, then order early so as to have it on hand when growth starts in the Spring.

Winter Housing of Sheep
 Sheep do not require expensive and warm buildings. They do, however, appreciate a dry, roomy shed well protected against winds, well ventilated and free from draught. Do not crowd them in one pen. Twenty to twenty-five ewes do best together. Furthermore, a sheep requires from twelve to fifteen square feet of floor space and one foot of feeding space. Doors should be of good width to allow free access to and from the pens. Narrow doors are often the cause of abortion. Pregnant ewes need a yard for exercise in. Force them to walk by feeding hay outside in good weather.

Winter Hog Feeding
 Winter hog feeding requires different methods from those ordinarily found successful in summer. Stunting and crippling are common during the winter and result largely from an over-supply of heavy feeds as well as from a lack of some of the vital elements. Lack of sunshine and exercise may also be contributory causes. Control measures to forestall these winter feeding difficulties are as follows: Use a variety of feeds in the ration including milk or tankage; provide alfalfa or clover hay or roots in small quantities; do not feed too heavily; allow young animals to exercise outdoors in mild weather; all stock should have comfortable sleeping quarters which are dry and free from draughts.

Mangels for Poultry
 The chief value of roots as a poultry feed lies in the fact that they can be stored during the winter months and fed over the period during which fresh green feeds are not available. They should not be considered in any way as a complete substitute for fresh green feeds, chiefly because they are quite deficient in vitamin content. The anti-neuritic and anti-scorbutic vitamins are present in only the slightest traces, while the anti-rachitic vitamin is entirely lacking. In comparison, fresh clover, one of the most commonly used green feeds, contains all three in abundance. The chief function of mangels and roots in general is the supplying of succulence to the ration—It has been found that by using mangels and supplementing with a regular dose of Epsom salts, laying birds will come through the winter in fairly good shape.

Home Cleaning of Small Vegetables

Thresh out the seed by placing the plants in a strong, closely woven cotton sack. Light flailing with a stick will liberate the seed from pods or heads. Lettuce and carrot seeds should be rubbed out by hand, using a pair of strong leather mitts. A coarse sieve will remove the straw and chaff. Place the seed and chaff on a fine sieve, a quick, downward, side movement, repeated several times will remove the chaff and light seed. Only the large plump seed should be kept. Hand picking will improve the sample.

Home Grown Grains for the Laying Flock

The following ration for laying pullets, composed mostly of home grown grains, is recommended by the Poultry Division of the Dominion Experimental Farms: Mash—2 parts of ground wheat, 1 part of ground oats, 1 part ground barley or corn, 1/2 part of ground beet and fish scrap, 2 per cent bone meal, 2 per cent cod liver oil, and 1 per cent salt; scratch grain—2 parts of wheat, 1 part oats, 1 part corn or buckwheat, 1 part barley. This ration may be varied according to what grains the farmer has available.

The Principle of Grading

Grading is based on the principle that it is sound business to classify live stock products, and other Canadian commodities in such a way that the consumer will be able to recognize and purchase quality products and that the producer will be enabled to obtain a higher price. Experience has proved the value of this theory. The identification of top quality beef under red and blue ribbon bands, the grading of poultry to practically every Canadian consumer, and other grading activities have been a tremendous incentive to quality production with resultant benefit to producers. Grading has not only served to create better prices for quality products, but has also brought about a substantial increase in consumption. At the same time, through grading Canadian products maintain their high level of excellence in the markets of the world. In this way, the new regulations which are soon to be put in force with reference to the grading of bacon for export to the British market will solidify Canada's premier position as an Empire source of food products.

POPULAR CITY MINISTER LEAVING

Rev. Ernest Crossley Hunter, one of Toronto's most popular ministers, who has been in charge of Carlton Street United Church, for the past nine years, leaves at the end of conference year in July for First United Church, Hamilton. His departure will be a distinct loss to Toronto, and he will leave a vacancy that will be hard to fill.

Son of the famous evangelist, member of the "team" of Crossley and Hunter, this youthful and energetic minister received an invitation from the important Hamilton charge a month ago and tendered his resignation to the board of his present charge last week.
 During his career as a minister of the Gospel Mr. Hunter has had a varied and interesting experience. In 1930 he toured Europe as a leader of a group of about thirty-five young people, and as a high spot of a seven weeks tour abroad, attended the Passion Play at Oberammergau, B.

Relief Runs High In Markham Township

Defeated Candidate Threatens to Contest Election

Markham Township's newly elected council faced a charity bill of $1250 at their inaugural meeting held on Monday at Unionville. $500 of the total was for fuel, and the only cheering thing about the whole transaction of payment is that the Ontario Government will reimburse the ratepayers to the extent of two-thirds of the outlay. (When the government starts printing their own money this kind of a hand-out won't make any difference.)

Reeve Padgett presided over the meeting, and Deputy Reeve Clark and Councilors Rennie, Chas. Hoover and Chas. Hooper all subscribed to the declaration of office before Clark Davison.
 A letter was received from W. S. Clary, defeated candidate for the reeveship, stating that he intended to protest the election on January 1 on the ground of irregularities.

H. R. Forester was appointed assessor for the east side at a salary of $200, and T. Flett on the west side at $250.

The Board of Health was appointed, consisting of Dr. McKay, M.O.H. James Gibson, G.A.M. Davison and Reeve, Padgett. James Walker is sanitary inspector.

A bylaw was passed providing for the township to collect their own tax arrears in future instead of returning them to the county, same to be effective this year from May 1st, and 5c per mile for delivering ballot boxes to the clerk's office, poll clerks were rewarded at $2.50 each, while polling room booths were allowed $3 rental each, and the Returning Officers $10.
 The time for collecting taxes was extended to Feb. 6.
 Road accounts were paid totalling $270, and general accounts $262.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNUAL MEETING

The annual business meeting of the Stouffville Christian Church Sunday School was held January 3, in the church. There was a fair representation of the families of the church present. Interest in the work was intense and several improvements over last year were made. During the year seven of the people furthered their preparation for teaching (and for life in general) by taking a course at the Markham Township Teacher Training School, most of them receiving credits. It is hoped that the church will have a training course of its own during the coming year. Five of the members of one family in the school have the credit of not missing a Sunday in five years. The young people were given positions that will enable them to take their place more efficiently when vacancies are made through resignation, or the moving or passing away of any of our present staff. It was also generally agreed that the assistants be in charge of their superior's jobs once every month or two at least.

The following officers, teachers, etc. were elected:

- Officers
 Supt.—Mr. A. Lehman
 Assistant Supt.—Mr. A. B. Closson
 Clerk—Mr. Cecil Wagg
 Assistant—Mr. Stanley Clarkson
