It is about time some of the numerous dogs on Main street are taking to cover, or being hied away, as the assessor is about to make his annual demand for license fee.

The senior hockey final of the tournament is expected to be played in the arena on Thursday night this week. As we go to press the two teams in the final is not determined owing to a protest filed against Hind & Daush over playing an unqualified man on Monday evening in the semi-finals. The Danforth Radios will of course be in the finals having defeated Markham on Friday night in a most thrilling game. Depending on the outcome of the protest either Hind & Daush or the Shamrocks, of Toronto will meet the Radio group. Watch for bulletin announcement.

WANTED—to rent a small house in Stouffville with conveniences. Apply to H. Golden at Hugh Anderson's store.

Mr. Reg. Stouffer accompanied by his two sisters Misses Bertha and Luella motored to Kitchener where they spent the weekend with their brother there.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. L. Rowbotham were Mrs. Feren and daughter Marie from Goodwood, Miss Louie and Miss Clumbly of Whitby, and Mrs. Ken Reesor.

Mrs. Henry Smith, Mongolia, is recovering slowly from her recent illness, but takes this means to make known her appreciation for the kindnesses extended to her by the neighbors, friends and the Women's Association of the Stouffville United Church.

The regular meeting of the Sr. Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Grubin, on Wednesday, March 21st, at 2.30. Programme—Paper by Mrs. W. J. Tain; Demonstration on cooking eggs; Roll Call responded to by a verse of your favorite hymn; Music—Social half hour. Everybody welcome.

The death of Thos. McGrattan, a former resident of Uxbridge, occurred at Vancouver on March 7th. He was a prominent business man of Uxbridge 30 years ago, when he left to locate in Western Canada. Mr. E. D. McGrattan who conducted a tinship in Stouffville last year is a son, and there are two other sons and one daughter surviving.

George McFarlane, employee on the farm of Henry Miller at Peachs, was treated at Dr. Freely's office one day last week for an injured foot. A team of horses attached to a loaded sleigh, started up suddenly and dragged one runner over his instep, fracturing two small bones. He will be in good shape again before seeding time, at least.

Ye editor has been sampling grape fruit and oranges brought back from St. Petersburg by Dr. Ira Freely. While the doctor had the pleasure of picking this fruit with his own hand, we sure had a real thrill with it at the breakfast table, and now fully realize why those who are able, go South for the winter season only to live on fruit salads and sunshine.

Messrs. F. L. Button and Robt. Leslie motored to Barrie on Sunday to hear the new pipe organ just installed at the Allandale United Church following the recent fire there. The type of new instrument has been recommended for Stouffville church. Messrs. E. A. Button and Allan Goudie accompanied the two officials on the trip to Allandale.

Keep in mind the Irish Supper to be served on Saturday evening at the Blue Bird Inn, by the Women's Institute, who are anxious to replenish their funds so depleted by reason of aid given this past year. You've heard all about the menu and the admission is but 25c. It is hoped that townspeople will liberally patronize this affair. Supper from 5.30 until all are served.

Next Wednesday, March 21st is the official opening of spring.

Wall paper special at Shaw's for the odd room, and just when you need the paper. Drop in and see the designs, also the new spring stock.

After being confined to the house for six weeks with a fractured ankle received in a fall, Mrs. Darius Field is now able to have the use of her foot. Mrs. Field fell on a slippery walk on Church street the latter part of January.

We notice that the hockey team from Leaskdale in Scott Township, won the Bush League tournament in Uxbridge, and that their team included two former Stouffville lads in Russel and Murray Nendick, who are living on their grandfather's farm a mile west of Leaskdale. The prize was a fine sweater for every man on the team.

Don't forget the St. Patrick's supper to be served at the Blue Bird Inn, under the auspices of the Sr. Women's Institute, on Saturday March 17. Irish Stew, Pancakes and Maple Syrup and other good things will be served from 5.30. Adults 25c, children under twelve 15c. Later supper or lunch will be served to those attending the Arena or Picture Show.

The Young Men's Bible Class which meets each Sunday in the Oddfellow's Hall, and has a membership of over 100, with an average attendance of 70, will attend worship in the Baptist Church next Sunday evening in a body. The service starts at 7 p.m. and the pastor Rev. Charles S. McGrath will deliver a sermon befitting the occasion.

The remains of the late Miss Edna Little of Toronto were laid to rest in the Stouffville cemetery on Monday afternoon, following her very sudden death, in the prime of life. Miss Little had numerous intimate friends in town, and expressed the wish at one time that she would find a last resting place here. She had been employed by the T. Eaton Co. for 18 years, and possessed a very beautiful and loving character.

The local C.C.F. Club wishes to announce that, beginning with last Tuesday, a series of detailed studies of Social and Economic questions was started. All serious-minded citizens might avail themselves of this splendid opportunity to become conversant with the problems of our time. Regardless of age or sex you are invited to join in these studies and discussions. This week's meeting was held at the home of H. O. Klinck, on O'Brien Avenue. The club has purchased a series of books and pamphlets to assist them.

Some householders on the north side of Main street are still without water, which reminds us that practically all the freeze-ups this winter have been due to the cold getting down into the small pipes running from the main on the south side to the houses on the north side. When the job of laying a small main on the north side is undertaken practically all this kind of trouble will be eliminated. There is a rumor that something will be done towards getting part of this main down this summer, but so far the matter has not been before the municipal council.

Officers and former officials along with many other friends sprung a big surprise on Mr. John Hodgins the other evening when they assembled at his home to spend a social time in the name of the Horticultural Society. Mr. Hodgins, before his long illness, was an active and energetic member and leader of the organization, and the supporters of the Society haven't forgotten what he has done for the advancement of their work. This expression of good will shown him on his just being settled in his new home here, was undoubtedly appreciated by Mr. Hodgins and thoroughly enjoyed by all who participated. Games and luncheon filled in the evening.

There are three farm stock sales advertised to be held in this vicinity during the present week. Beginning today (Thursday) George Cober will dispose of his farm stock and implements at the Cober farm on the 5th of Markham, while on Friday the entire farm stock, etc., will be sold for the estate of the late Jos. Norton on the 4th concession of Uxbridge, while Saturday will see a sale just north of Stouffville belonging to Frank Baker and Harry Paisley who are giving up farming. The stage setting for these three sales will each see a different "star" in the ring to conduct affairs in the interest of the owners. A. S. Farmer will sell for Mr. Cober, Marquis of Uxbridge disposes of the Norton estate and Silversides has the Baker-Paisley ring to handle. With anything like fair weather these sales will be largely attended, and certainly folks who are looking for an auctioneer can draw close comparisons from the array of talent offered in the auction block this week.

There was only three days in February when the weather did not touch zero. If March does no better, then April May.

You are cordially invited to an open meeting followed by afternoon tea on Saturday, March 24th, at three p.m., in the United Church, under the auspices of the Mission Band. Easter thank-offering—Tea served at 4.30.

Jake Hoover, B.A. Oil distributor for the local district, is taking an enforced holiday, with his arm in a sling, as a result of an infection. The driver of the big truck injured his elbow in some manner away back last October, but carried on with his work until recently when the arm began to swell, and he rushed to the East General Hospital where an x-ray examination revealed that he had splintered the so-called funny bone, and the splinter or stray bone was causing the damage. Now the arm is in a case for an indefinite period, and a new driver has been imported to carry on his work during the interval.

Looking back to the spring of 46 years ago, our E. J. Davey recalls that from the Thursday to Sunday of the 15th to 18th of March, there was one of the biggest snow storms in years, and he doubts if anything like it has visited us since. The north-bound train from Toronto on Thursday night pulled into Stouffville on time, but never left here for Lindsay until Sunday night. It took all that time to remove the snow-banks from the tracks so high were they. We hope that Old Man Winter will have no such relapse this year at any rate.

The miniature pond which confronted every motorist entering the town or making their exit on Main street west, will not likely reappear when the next thaw comes. This water hole was accumulated because the drains leading to the sewer had become frozen. On Saturday a steam outfit was sent here by the county, and the ice thawed by means of steam being poured into the manhole. It took about 2 hours to thaw out, one drain, and several were attended to. The motorists and others will be glad to have this "main isle" put into passable condition, and not compel everyone entering, or leaving the place to plunge through the "deep waters" which was nothing short of tribulation for many folk.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bowdoy took their young son Allen, to Belleville, on Friday last, to attend the Ontario School for the Deaf and while they have nothing but praise to offer for what our two teachers, who have had him in their care here, were able to teach him, they felt his handicap was too great and that the opportunity that opened to make it possible for him to attend the Belleville school, was too good to be cast aside.

On arrival at Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Bowdoy were taken on an extensive tour of the school, which took place in the Academic, the vocational and dormitory. The progress that is being made in the way of imparting knowledge, to the child handicapped by deafness, is astounding. During the exercises in rhythm a class numbering 12 or 15 is grouped around a large grand piano and the pupils, with their hands on the piano top, name the piece being played and then sing it in chorus. They have a rhythm band and delighted the visitors with a selection. After this number a very dainty folk dance was done to the tune of "Jingle Bells".

Through the courtesy of the Supt., mother and dad had dinner with Allen in the large dining room and although there were some 350 students ranging from 5 years of age to 20 years everything was exceptionally orderly. The dormitory is neatness and cleanliness itself and everything arranged with an eye to the health and happiness of the children.

Mr. Bowdoy reports that they left Allen very contented and that he seemed to enter into the new phase of his life quite readily. Allen, we are sure will be glad to receive a post card from any of his friends in Stouffville any time.

The Markham Girls Hockey Team will play the local girls here on Monday night, March 19th, (weather permitting.) Game starts at 8 p.m. The girls would appreciate your attendance at this game.

The town reservoirs are again filled with water right to the top, hence the anxiety of two weeks ago about water shortage is now removed. At one time there was just a few inches of water in them, but in less than a week they filled up. The change of weather, coupled with the stoppage of several very bad leaks in the system, were no doubt responsible for the supply catching up as it did.

Those from a distance who attended the burial service here on Thursday of the late Rev. Dr. J. T. Daley, included Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Outram, of Marmora; Misses Nora and Kathleen Daley, Port Hope; Mr. N. K. Noble of Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. McKennie of Port Hope; Rev. Mr. McLavish, pastor of the United Church, Port Hope; and the following from Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Taylor and sons Will and Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Shulver, Herbert Arms, Mr. and Mrs. H.R. Reynolds; J.B. Unsworth.

The inter-school debate conducted in Stouffville Continuation School on Thursday evening between Stouffville and Claremont schools was won by the local debaters by a small margin. Mary Laidlaw and Mable Morton upheld the negative side of the question, resolved, "that post-war history shows that dictatorship is the best form of present-day government." Bill Tomlinson and Miss Gregg took the affirmative for Claremont. In the speaking Alan Baker defeated Miss Margaret Overland. Alan spoke on "Sir Wilfred Laurier" while Miss Overland spoke on "Her Grandfather's Days." Musical numbers were rendered by the "Harmony Boys", Joe Todd and Grant Baker. Bruce Stover played the guitar and Miss Alma Pugh and Miss Marjorie Ward gave a vocal duet. The chair was taken by Lambert Malloy, President of the Literary Society.

The Arena was attractively decorated for the carnival held last week by the Young Men's Sunday Class, and its appearance appealed to every eye present. The record number of 45 were in costume, and such regalia! The characters were handsome, others queer, and more of them were designed to draw a smile on the face of a wax doll, so comically gotten up were they. It was called a "Mae West" carnival and this character was taken by Miss Nelda Lehman, in a really handsome outfit. Our business men and councillors turned out to boost the night, hence we found Councillor Brillinger and Councillor Mervyn Watts impersonating women so well that envious eyes of the boys were on them. M. E. Storey made a hit as Aunt Jemima who preferred to be called Mae East. Pop Eye (Burr Hill) was a popular character also John Bull (Howard Malloy) Stan Hastings showed that he had something in common with Abraham Lincoln, with his apt uniform and "dauber" go-tee. We have one suggestion to offer and that is to require each character to sign a register with their "every day" name attached.

ed, so that the press could tell who they really are in the common walk of life. We saw a lot of good-looking and funny costumes but didn't recognize the personage. So many men were impersonating women, and visa versa in such perfect style that you simply had to be on your best behaviour every minute lest that good-looking "boy" you spoke to was in reality your best girl.
