

COUNTY REFORESTATION AGREEMENT

(Whitby Gazette)

Eight years ago when the County of Ontario embarked upon a reforestation enterprise in the Township of Uxbridge, there was an agreement with the Department of Lands and Forests that the government would plant the entire acreage. At first the county purchased only 900 acres, but at the suggestion of the department another hundred was added, bringing the total acreage for tree planting up to one thousand. At the council meeting on Friday in Whitby it was disclosed that there are still 125 acres on which no trees have yet been planted, while on the other 875 acres the trees planted eight years ago are doing well and will make nice timber at the end of thirty years when the division of profits is made between the County and the government.

ALL EYES AT OTTAWA FIXED ON ELECTION

Dates Vary From November 1934 to August 1935—North York Must Replace Lennox this Fall

Ottawa—Talk in private on legislation, which may yet arise out of the miss-buying probe, Dominion marketing bill and other phases of the dying days of the present session of the Dominion Parliament, always drifts inevitably to the major topic in the minds of all members, "When will the next Dominion election be?" Nobody can say exactly because Premier Bennett has not himself decided the point and even those officials who have watched the birth and death pangs of many Parliaments vary in their estimates from next autumn to August, 1935.

FORGOTTEN MONEY

Under the above heading McLeans Magazine publishes a list of money left on deposit in the Canadian Banks evidently forgotten, as the accounts have not been touched for years. On Dec. 31, 1930, the banks held nearly $3,000,000 of forgotten money, and this magazine published the list of the accounts, resulting in nearly a million of money being claimed.

We notice that many of the deposits left are in Toronto banks, but none are in Stouffville. Newmarket has a couple.

Wm. C. Widdifield of Newmarket, left $533 in the Bank of Toronto, Newmarket, marked for A.M. Scott, Jan. 17, 1924.

John Innis of Newmarket, left $576 in Bank of Toronto, Newmarket, on Jan. 22, 1923.

In the event of no Dominion contest this fall, there will be six bye-elections at least, one of which is North York. The seat must be filled by November 1934 at the latest. Col. W. P. Mulock is the Liberal Candidate now in the field, and it is rumored that Mr. Harold Bruels will be his Conservative opponent.

The departments, which are usually stirred into great activity for some time before an approaching general election is announced, do not show any signs of abnormal concentration on electoral problems as yet. As Premier Bennett has stated that he expects Parliament to prorogue before July it is generally conceded among insiders that there will be another session. Some expect a special session in the fall of 1934, followed by an election, while others think that new legislation of importance will await the session of 1935 and that this will precede an election.

There is a disposition to believe that legislation of far-reaching importance, growing out of recent Parliamentary enquiries, will be devised after the present session ends. The advocates of hasty legislation as a means of impressing the public are met with the argument that this would entail a hasty election as well before there could be a chance to try out the validity of the new legislation in the courts. But a special session devoted to constructive legislation of a kind likely to give the Government an advantage in appealing to the electorate has many advocates. Some cynics state that the more appealing laws are to the electorate as promising "to usher in a new day," the more likely they are to be found unconstitutional under the British North America Act. Therefore they urge that the election should follow enactment of such laws as soon as possible.

CHANGE VOTERS' LISTS

Any legislation directly affecting ballots is bound to be controversial, but the revised Dominion Election Act soon to be introduced in the House of Commons is particularly so. An important change in method of preparing voters' lists and of deciding delicate questions of franchise is contained in this bill. And it is equally important in that it promises to curtail the length of general election campaigns as well as to relieve parties of the necessity of raising huge campaign funds.

Under the old act voters' lists were compiled after the election was announced. The work was done under the supervision of the returning officers and the lists were duly revised by Courts of Revision. The operation required more than three weeks to complete. It is now proposed to appoint permanent registrars in each constituency whose job it will be to compile "final" lists each year. These final lists will be available without further modification in the event of an election. But more important, the new legislation will disfranchise Doukhobors in addition to Indians and Eskimos, and will vest in the registrars authority to pass upon the literacy of all doubtful applicants for the ballot. It is this latter feature, which is being represented as an attempt to deny the ballot to foreign born citizens, that will occasion bitter controversy.

The annual demonstration held at the Chas. Cooper Hardware drew a large crowd from the surrounding country. More than six hundred people visited the plant and saw the demonstrations of farm machinery, cars and numerous modern household devices. Special features of both the afternoon and evening programs were lectures and talking pictures put on by the McDeering, General Motors, International Harvester and Goodyear Tire Companies. The talks and lectures were given in the large garage connected with the hardware store. Seating accommodation was arranged in this for four hundred or more but in the evening over five hundred were present. The winners of the first three prizes are to be given a trip to Niagara Falls, all expenses paid. The trip will include the opportunity of going through many plants enroute. These were awarded to the three people who had purchased the largest quantity of goods during the day up until 9 p.m., and were won by Mr. Harper, Goodwood, first; Lyman Pitkey, Claremont, second, and a citizen of Stouffville, third. There were five prizes for lucky draw tickets. The first prize, a beautiful electric lamp, went to Mr. Carter, of Locust Hill, and the second prize, 5 gallons motor oil, to Ed. Derusha, of Claremont.

CONGREGATIONAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH CONFERENCE AT ALTONA

Delegates to the Ontario Congregational Christian Conference, held at Altona, on June 7, 8, 9 and 10 registered their disapproval of the way in which the temperance question is being used in politics to gain political power. Discussion arose when a report on Social and Moral Reform was presented by E. J. Sanderson, pastor of Victoria Park Church in Toronto. The group as a whole favoured the separating of this issue from political campaigns.

All Church reports showed an increase in a financial way, the Conference having turned over some $5,000.00 and the various churches, amounts ranging from $1000 to $4500. Eight ordained ministers, and 3 licentiates were reported in good standing while two ministers were newly inducted into the Conference; Rev. G. W. Hunter, who is in charge at Olivet Church, Toronto, and Rev. Dr. W. S. Alexander takes charge at Newmarket on August 1. The right hand of fellowship was given by Rev. E. Morton, Vice-Pres. and Rev. W. H. Rollins, D.D., Supt. of Congregational Christian Churches for New York State.
