for the members of the local School Board who have just emerged from a rather nasty situation with the energetic in their respective spheres Public School teachers, only to be the send-off they deserve. forced into a jam over the High staff. To one on the street with an ear to the ground, it could be readylly seen that there is Permanent Waving a growing discontent over the progress of the Continuation School. Parents claim that repeated .complaints to Board members fall on leaf ears. This came to a head on Saturday when a delegation of parents, hearing the Board was in special session, waited on them, and voiced their complaints as briefly reported on the front page. There is no doubt that teachers are blamed for a great deal of the failure of pupils which is not their fault, and may be fairly laid at the door of the pupils and parents themselves. Nevertheless when the unrest grows to proportions as we see it, the situation should be investigated by the Board. With more than 20 pupils dropping from the classes during the term, and parents declaring that if ed inefficiency of the staff, they will mark daughter send their children to some other school, we can truly say that the trustees have our sympathy. In fairness to the teachers, as well as the parents prompt action on the part of the Board is imperative.
