The Kitchener Camp

The camp meeting held by the Menonite Brethren in Christ, at Kitchener, held in a beautiful grove of second growth maples, was attended by a large number of people. This camp is gaining in interest with the public in general. The beautiful grove with a pavilion with seating capacity of two thousand people which did not hold all that were present. It was estimated that three thousand people were on the grounds on Sunday at one service. The day services during the camp were well attended mostly by the campers. The tents on the grounds numbered seventy.

The principal speaker was Rev. Bona Fleming of Ashland, Kentucky, U.S.A. His simple manner of dealing with the gospel truths was much appreciated and many responded to the call of seeking the Lord in the forgiveness of sins, and the baptism of the Holy Ghost, in cleansing power. At the old fashioned mourners' bench, many were made to rejoice in the consciousness of having their prayers answered. This camp was in charge of Rev. C. N. Good, P.E., assisted by his ministering brethren. In preaching, and conducting prayer groups daily a good sized tent was used for children's meetings.

The large platform in the pavilion was filled with children on Sunday morning, and in a short time answered questions, and sang some beautiful hymns, taught them by their instructors.

A boarding tent ministered to the physical wants at a reasonable rate. This was appreciated by many, while some families boarded themselves in their own tents.

The financial budget of $1000.00 was easily raised and also a liberal offering was taken on Foreign Missionary day, as well as offering for Home Mission Work.

It is to be hoped that such institutions will continue for time to come, the object of which is the salvation of souls, and better citizenship.

A tramp entering the gates of a suburban villa knelt down on the lawn and began to eat the grass. The old lady who lived in the villa, noticed the pathetic performance, came out on the doorstep and said: "My good man, are you so hungry that you are obliged to eat grass?"

"Yes ma'am," replied the tramp. "Oh, dear," said the lady. "Come around to the kitchen door; the grass is longer there."

Building Up Rations

Scientific investigations and practical tests have proven conclusively in recent years and months that a ration for any kind of livestock, first of all must be balanced, in order to be economical, and give to the stockman or poultry keeper the profit he must have in order to be successful.

Whether your requirements call for a concentrate, feed supplement, or a scientifically balanced complete feed, you will find in our various lines a commodity which will fill your requirements at the lowest possible cost.

We sell and recommend DIXIE, MASTER and CANADA PACKERS products. Always call us for prices before buying.
