

Sometimes the Early Bird catches the Eye

It is easy to enthuse over these immature layers that swing into egg production at an early age. But on the average they prove unprofitable. Quite often they are the source of small unprofitable eggs and early victims of "laying house mortality."

It is far better to select for your hatchery flocks the well developed pullets—birds with big, sound frames and bodies capable of standing up under continuous heavy production. This stabilizes production and makes a decided reduction in the mortality of mature hens.

Fed on Ful-O-Pep Egg Mash such pullets will produce big eggs with sound shells—hatchable eggs—the result of this ideal combination of a rugged constitution and an effective, profitable feeding plan.

Hatcherymen who want big rugged livable chicks should carefully consider the Ful-O-Pep feeding plan for their hatchery flocks. They determine the quality of your chicks and make or break your reputation. Be certain of your results. Write us for the Ful-O-Pep Feeding Plan.

Another Markham Sheep Raid

It is hoped that the climax has been reached in the sheep raids by dogs in Markham Township. Two police dogs belonging to farmers on the 6th concession were traced home on Tuesday from Thos. L. White's farm on the sixth concession, where eight sheep were badly damaged Saturday morning. It was suspected that the two police animals had returned for another slaughter, but they did not actually tackle the sheep, when they were detected on Tuesday, circling about the flock.

Farmers' Information

Care Means Cash on the Farm These Days

One of the very practical lines of instruction given to all regular students at the O.A.C. is in the adjustment, repair and care of farm machinery and other farm equipment such as tools, harness, ropes, belts, etc.

So great is the need for care and economy on the farms just now that it has been decided to offer a course in instruction and practice along these lines to any young men who attend the ten-day short course at the College, January 2 to 11, and who wish to spend their time on this kind of work.

These men will participate in the same evening program of games and entertainment as those taking other lines of work in the daylight hours.

Weekly Crop Report

Prevailing weather in most parts of Ontario until the first week in December was quite exceptional. Whereas last year cattle had been fed for five or six weeks prior to this time, the open fall this year permitted farmers to leave their cattle on pasture, thus shortening the winter feeding period materially. It was a fine autumn for plowing too. Grey county reports that never for the past few years has so much grain been marketed. This is largely due to the fact that prices of cattle were low, grain was comparatively high and there were exceptional grain crops this year. Several carlots of livestock have been shipped from Brant and Haldimand counties to the United States in the past few weeks. Copious rains relieved the water shortage in many districts so far as wells and cisterns were concerned. First-grade poultry is selling in Lincoln at 25c to 28c lb., with wholesale prices, 20c to 23c. Young turkeys are bringing 27 lb. in Wentworth. A strong demand for hay is noted in Hastings, with mixed hay selling at $14.00 a ton.

In Peterborough county, potatoes have been selling at 45c to 50c a bag, and McIntosh apples at $1.60 a bushel, and Northern Spies at $2.00 to $2.25 a bushel. Frontenac reports that these products produced this year have decreased 15 per cent, while butter production has increased equally. Butterfat prices range around 19c lb.

Markham Officers

W.W. Pope has notified Markham Township Council that hereafter farmers may obtain power from the Hydro Electric Power Commission on only a five year contract instead of the twenty year one formerly in force. There was little other than ordinary routine business before the council when they met at Unionville, and the session was mostly occupied in passing accounts. Sheep claims were passed in volume, and drew some long faces, and cloudy looks over the members of the Board, as they thought of what they would do to those dogs if they could only catch them raiding the sheep folds.

The damage to two flocks exceeded $200.

The banker reported that double the amount of taxes had been paid in to date this year, as compared with 1933. Some attributed the increase to fear of the new treasurer, but the banker viewed it as caused by improved conditions generally.

The usual by-law was passed for holding the annual municipal elections. Nominations will take place in the township hall on Monday, Dec. 31st, with the election, if necessary, on January 7th. The places of polling and D. R. Officers were appointed as follows:

- 1—Thornhill, Findlay's Hall
- 2—E. Frances; M-Z, M.J. Smellie
